TEACHING NEED FOR COOPERATION

The thought is widely expressed that the most encouraging factor in the agricultural situation is the steady, sustained growth of the great farm cooperative organizations. As they enlist more members, and make their influence more widely felt, their battle for stable markets and better prics automatically approaches closer to victory.

It might also be said that a lesser-known phase of cooperative activity is almost as important as this kind of work, and gives equal cause for encouragement. That is the work the co-ops do in educating their members and the general public as well. They seek to be agencies of economic information, as well as buyers and sellers of commodities — and their influence in this direction, as in the other, is always widening.

Cooperative leaders have demonstrated to the thinking public that fair and profitable prices for agricultural products are an essential of recovery generally—that bringing back the farm income to a normal level would be a major step in bringing back the urban income. The American farmer constitutes the greatest single market for our factory products, and no one can profit if his buying power is dormant.

The cooperatives, in brief, are showing the nation that all our citizens — rural and urban dwellers — have the same interests and the same problems, and that better times for one means better times for all.

ON THE CONTRARY

A recent article in the Wall Street Journal reveals that prices of seats in the New York Stock Exchange are going up again. The last recorded sale was made on May 23, at a price of $96,000; since then, the Journal says, "asking prices are 'way up in the air'," and the range of seat prices this year has gone as high as $190,000.

Now all this, to an outside observer, would seem to be a pretty good answer to Wall Street's complaint that the new stock exchange legislation and the truth-in-securities bill are going to ruin everything. People don't buy seats on the Stock Exchange unless they figure that they are going to get their money back through profits made in trading. If the new legislation were going to cripple the security markets half as much as some of Wall Street's anguished cries would make one believe, these seats would be selling today at a dime a dozen.

TODAY IN BRIEF, IN AND AROUND OREGON

AS CHRONICLED BY THE DAILY LEASED WIRE OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

GAS OFFICERS RETREAT

PORTLAND, Aug. 17 (AP)—Two Portland policemen, schooled in dispersing mobs with riot gas, retreated unashamed before an equally demoralizing attack.

Patrolmen Shoemaker and Oates responded when a woman complained that a deer was calmly eating roses in her front yard. Just as the patrolmen were about to try their luck with a lasso a skunk trotted between the officers and their quarry, which had escaped from the park zoo.

HUGE ELEVATOR OPENED

VANCOUVER, Wash., Aug. 17 (AP)—Another link in the commercial development of the Columbia river and the ports it serves was forged here today in the formal opening of the million-dollar grain elevator of the Pacific Continental Grain corporation.

SOCIALISTS HAVE CANDIDATE

SALEM, Aug. 17 (AP) — Certificate of nomination for W. S. Richards of Albany, as the Socialist candidate for congress from the first district, was filed with the secretary of state here today.

GUIDE IS KILLED

GOLD BEACH, Ore., Aug. 17 (AP) — The Rogue river wilds today had claimed another victim in Carl Miller, 38, well-known guide and woodsman whose broken body was found at the base of a 200-foot cliff.

PLAN FINANCIAL INQUIRY

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 17 (AP)—City Commissioner Riley is making a survey to determine why Portland pays more interest on its borrowings and bonds than required of many eastern cities.

P. V. Barstow, Boston bond attorney, told Riley that 1½ per cent on borrowings is considered high in many eastern cities and some get the money for around one per cent. Portland pays five per cent for its money to keep going between tax payments.

PLUNGES TO DEATH

SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 17 (AP) — Robert Lunde, 14, plunged 150 feet to his death late yesterday from a railroad trestle west of the city while he was searching for pigeons.

"COLD FEET" HELD CAUSE OF RELEASE

Labatt rested in London today at the home of his brother, Hugh, exhausted and nervous but unharmed after his 65 hours in the hands of the gang. Labatt was released, an authority here believes, because the kidnapers suffered a case of "cold feet."

A relative of the family discounted rumors that Hugh Labatt could have paid the ransom. Hugh was reported to have obtained the money from a branch of the bank of Nova Scotia.

"As a matter of fact," said the relative, "the bank was closed when he was supposed to have got the money."

Attorney-General Roebuck made the following statement concerning Labatt's kidnaping:

"He was blindfolded and had been continuously blindfolded since the time he was taken. He was left in the vicinity of Forest Hill village, from where he took a taxi to the Royal York hotel (where Hugh awaited him.) He was immediately carried from there, by his own friends, in a car to London.

"As the time of his capture, he drove around for a time which he estimates at 12 hours. He was in Ontario all the time. He has no knowledge of having passed over any water."

"There is no hot trail of the abductors. It is most unfortunate that the police forces of both the province and the city have been very seriously handicapped in their work by their inability to secure complete control of the situation."

SARNIA, Ont., Aug. 17 (AP) — Willard Anderson, a farmer, told police today he had seen a man believed to have been John S. Labatt being transferred from one automobile to another near here. Police immediately started a search for a sedan with red wire wheels.

Textile Workers Strike Threatening

strike of the cotton workers on or before September 1.

It would be the greatest walkout since passage of the national industrial recovery act.

Francis J. Gorman, of Providence, R. I., first vice president, said the convention would vote today or tomorrow on whether to extend the walkout to the silk, rayon and woolen-worsted fields.

Half a million persons work in the cotton mills and a quarter million in other textile plants. The union claims a membership of 300,000. Most of the mills involved are in New England and the south.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17 (AP) — The threat of a nation-wide strike in cotton textiles found officials watching the trend of the cost of living with some concern today. Some foresee a possibility that if living expenses continue to mount, a wave of strikes for higher pay might conceivably result.

GIRL CONFESSES KILLING FATHER

SAN JOSE, Cal., Aug. 17 (AP)—Accused of the slaying of her rancher father, which she suddenly admitted from the witness stand at a coroner's inquest, Mrs. Bernice Beauchamp Pickrell was held in jail here today under a murder charge.

"I shot him because I was afraid of him," the 19-year-old daughter declared as she brought the inquest to a dramatic climax yesterday.

The father, Robert Beauchamp, 65, was found shot to death at his Gilroy ranch Tuesday and, until the daughter's surprise declaration, officers had expressed belief he committed suicide.

Mrs. Pickrell, who is separated from her husband, Vern Pickrell, of Healdsburg, declared in her inquest statement that she and her father and a guest, Fred Wagner, and an 80-year-old woodchopper, Joe Roberts, were at the ranch house. "We had plenty to drink," she said.

She testified that Wagner "passed out" and was put to bed. Then, the aged woodchopper left, she added, "and father came at me. I told him to keep off. He said 'honey, I got to have some affection. Come sit on my knee!"

Mrs. Pickrell declared that when Beauchamp "kept coming" at her, she shot out the lamp. "I got another lamp and he started for me again," she added. "That time I shot him through the heart and he fell back in his chair. 'My God, Billy, I only meant right by you' were his last words." She explained her father had always called her "Billy."
