

SOCIETY

Mrs. Joseph I. Zimmerman Is Honoree At Post-Nuptial Party Given Last Evening At The McBride Home

A score of friends of Mrs. Joseph I. Zimmerman were guests at a post-nuptial party and miscellaneous shower given last evening at the home of Mrs. H. L. McBride on First street, with Mrs. McBride and Dr. Lewa Wilkes Ager as hostesses.

Miss Mabel Morton Society Editor Phone: Main 600 Until Noon

Mrs. H. E. Inlow Entertains For Dean Helen S. Moor

Miss Helen Sterling Moor, dean of women at the Eastern Oregon Normal school since the school was opened, and who leaves Sept. 1 on a sabbatical leave granted for the purpose of further study, was complimented yesterday when Mrs. H. E. Inlow entertained at a luncheon at the Seawaves Inn.

Friends Invited To Open House For Miss McMillan

Mrs. J. K. Wright is holding open house this evening at her home, 1202 Penn. avenue, for Miss Grace McMillan, of St. Louis, Mo., for several years La Grande high teacher. Miss McMillan is spending a few days in La Grande and the invitation is extended to all friends to the informal evening at the Wright home.

Wedding Holds Local Interest

One of the loveliest of late-summer weddings was that of Miss Marjorie Jean Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Johnson of Walla Walla, and Kenard Bradford Sexton, son of F. M. Sexton of The Dalles, Ore., Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock in Pioneer Methodist Episcopal church at Walla Walla.

The bride, in her wedding gown of white French mousseline, fashioned in princess style, made a charming picture. Gardenias at the neckline of her gown enhanced its beauty and she wore a white picture hat of fluted net.

The groom wore a tuxedo of black and white. The bride's bouquet was composed of white and pink flowers. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. A. Wolfe, pastor, read the impressive service.

The bride and groom were accompanied by the bride's father, Mr. T. S. Johnson, and the groom's father, Mr. F. M. Sexton. The wedding party included several bridesmaids and flower girls.

The reception was held at the home of Mrs. Johnson. There were many guests and the evening was a most enjoyable one. The bride and groom were very happy and the celebration was a success.

The bride and groom are now residing in Walla Walla. They are both employed and are looking forward to a bright future together. The wedding was a most beautiful one and all guests enjoyed it very much.

The bride and groom are both very popular and their wedding was a most interesting one. The ceremony was performed with much dignity and the reception was a most enjoyable one. The bride and groom are both very happy and the celebration was a success.

The bride and groom are both very popular and their wedding was a most interesting one. The ceremony was performed with much dignity and the reception was a most enjoyable one. The bride and groom are both very happy and the celebration was a success.

The bride and groom are both very popular and their wedding was a most interesting one. The ceremony was performed with much dignity and the reception was a most enjoyable one. The bride and groom are both very happy and the celebration was a success.

The bride and groom are both very popular and their wedding was a most interesting one. The ceremony was performed with much dignity and the reception was a most enjoyable one. The bride and groom are both very happy and the celebration was a success.

The bride and groom are both very popular and their wedding was a most interesting one. The ceremony was performed with much dignity and the reception was a most enjoyable one. The bride and groom are both very happy and the celebration was a success.

The bride and groom are both very popular and their wedding was a most interesting one. The ceremony was performed with much dignity and the reception was a most enjoyable one. The bride and groom are both very happy and the celebration was a success.

The bride and groom are both very popular and their wedding was a most interesting one. The ceremony was performed with much dignity and the reception was a most enjoyable one. The bride and groom are both very happy and the celebration was a success.

The bride and groom are both very popular and their wedding was a most interesting one. The ceremony was performed with much dignity and the reception was a most enjoyable one. The bride and groom are both very happy and the celebration was a success.

The bride and groom are both very popular and their wedding was a most interesting one. The ceremony was performed with much dignity and the reception was a most enjoyable one. The bride and groom are both very happy and the celebration was a success.

The bride and groom are both very popular and their wedding was a most interesting one. The ceremony was performed with much dignity and the reception was a most enjoyable one. The bride and groom are both very happy and the celebration was a success.

The bride and groom are both very popular and their wedding was a most interesting one. The ceremony was performed with much dignity and the reception was a most enjoyable one. The bride and groom are both very happy and the celebration was a success.

ing the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Cochran returned to La Grande where they are to make their home. Mr. and Mrs. Cochran are very well known locally, both are graduates of the La Grande high school where Mr. Cochran made quite an enviable athletic record.

Special Meet Called For Friday

There will be a special meeting of the officers and drill team of the Eagles auxiliary Friday evening, August 24 at the hall.

State Organizer To Work Here

There was an excellent attendance at the meeting of the Neighbors of Woodland Tuesday evening at the Odd Fellows hall. In addition to the customary ritualistic work, the state organizer, Mrs. Shadoin, and her daughter, Ted, of Corvallis, were introduced. Mrs. Shadoin has taken apartment No. 103 at the Grande Ronde apartments and will be here for some time working in and with the local organization. Plans were completed for the cooked food sale on Sept. 1.

The next regular meeting was announced for Tuesday evening, Oct. 4 at the Odd Fellows hall.

JOSEPH PERSONALS

E. L. Edwards, of Baker, came Tuesday to take over the management of the Safeway store. Gordon Reynaud, of La Grande, has accepted a position in the store.

Mrs. Aubrey Estes and Kermit Estes left Wednesday on a two week trip. Mrs. Estes will visit her parents at Salem, and Mr. Estes will visit in Tigard and Portland.

Rev. and Mrs. G. R. Archer and son left Monday for Portland to visit other members of their family who live there. They will be away for a week.

Ted Hayes has resigned as manager of the Safeway store and has moved to Enterprise.

Mrs. Chas. Turner, of Sequim, Wash., and Mrs. Elmer Hayden, of Bremerton, are guests of Mrs. Maida Stevenson. They are both former residents of Joseph.

Mrs. Helen Knappier has not been well the past week. Mr. and Mrs. Colton R. Eberhard, of La Grande, are here visiting her.

Elmer Morgan shipped a car of stock to Portland Saturday. He and his son, Frank, and Scott and Thelma Stiekney drove down and will visit with Mrs. Morgan.

Mrs. C. A. Collinsworth is visiting her son, Chester, and wife for a few days at their farm home east of town.

Mrs. Daisy Rumble and in a few friends Thursday afternoon. These present were Mrs. Johnathon Haas, Mrs. Frank Moody, of Enterprise, Mrs. Mollie Mays, Mrs. Ellen Knappier, Mrs. Alvira Roup and Mrs. Art Wilson, Mrs. Rumble served.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Daggett and two children left Saturday for Seaside to spend a month. Mr. Daggett has not been well and is taking a much needed rest.

Lots Childers, of Lostine, has been a guest at the home of Mrs. Doug Towers the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Eben went as far as Portland with Mrs. Russell Vaughan and Miss Mildred Marshall, who have been here the last two months visiting Mrs. Vaughan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. McKinley. Those invited were Miss Norma Hope, Miss Winnifred Beth, Miss Marjorie Beth, Mrs. Milo Fairchild, Mrs. Thad Mead, Mrs. Paul Pulman, Mrs. Win. Cameron, Miss Anna Mary McKinley and the hostess. Dainty refreshments were served.

Miss Winnifred Beth returned Friday from a six weeks' visit in Los Angeles with an uncle, Chas. White, and family.

Mrs. Rosalie Walker, who has spent the past year away from Joseph in

MRS. SUSIE DAVIS DIES AT ILWACO

WALLOWA (Special) — Word has reached here of the death on August 16 of Mrs. Susie Davis well-known and beloved pioneer woman, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. K. W. Inman of Ilwaco, Wash. Mrs. Davis was 75 years of age. She was born in Ilwaco last January on account of ill health but gradually grew worse until death ended her suffering. Her funeral was held in Wallowa Sunday afternoon at the Presbyterian church where she had been a devoted member and an ardent worker for many years. Rev. L. B. Williams had charge of the services. Mr. and Mrs. K. W. Inman and daughters, Maxine and Gaynell, of Ilwaco and Mr. and Mrs. H. B. McLean and children, Corwin and Janet, of Corvallis were in Wallowa for the funeral.

Susie Miller Davis was born in Miami Co., Kansas, March 20th, 1859 and died Aug. 16th, 1934, at Ilwaco, Wash., age 75 years, 5 months. She was left an orphan at the age of three years her father being killed during the Civil war. She was next to the youngest in a family of six children, all having preceded her in death. On her 20th birthday she was united in marriage to Marshall Corwin Davis, and one month afterwards they, in company with other relatives and friends started by wagon train for Oregon. Reaching Wallowa county three months later, they settled on the Clearing near Prairie creek. After a few years they moved to Joseph where Mr. Davis operated the first planing mill in Wallowa county. Mrs. Davis helped make the first flag ever to be flown in Wallowa county, at a Fourth of July celebration.

A true pioneer she was, always ready to do her part in everything. After six years in Joseph the family moved to Wallowa where they have lived continuously. Mr. Davis died Oct. 10th, 1918.

Three children were born to this union. Claud Ellsworth, who died Oct. 12th, 1901; Maud May Inman, of Ilwaco, Wash., and Nell Ethyl McLean, of Corvallis, Oregon. There are four grandchildren.

The Willamette valley, is now back living in her home which has been rented. Her son, Leo, who has been in Imnaha, is with her.

Larry Allen, editor of the Joseph Herald, returned Monday from Woodburn, where he spent the weekend with his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Crawford and children, of Walla Walla, are here visiting at the home of Mrs. Crawford's mother, Mrs. Edwin Roup.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Collinsworth spent Sunday on South Fork picnic-ground.

The Ladies Guild had a no hostess luncheon in the Ascension Grove Thursday afternoon. The lunch was served out in the grove, and those present report a delightful time.

CRICKET FLAT PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. James Halgarth and daughter, Helen, were Friday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Brugger, Billy Rex Boulet spent Friday visiting Frederick Roubel.

Mrs. Beulah Mickleboet and daughters, Velma and Thelma, returned to their home in Pasco Saturday. Thelma and Velma have spent a month with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Cameron. Mrs. Mickleboet spent the past week with them.

Miss Lois Witherspoon spent Sunday with Miss Frances Oates.

Mrs. Lola Ravencroft spent the past week visiting relatives and transacting business in Stanfield.

Mrs. Edward Brugger spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Cameron.

La Verne Brugger and Myron Halgarth went over on the Minam Sunday and spent a couple of days fishing.

Miss Lola Marten returned Monday from a two months trip to Southern California. She was accompanied by Mrs. Ruth Brown of La Grande. They spent a part of the time in the Mojave desert where Miss Marten has an uncle.

Mrs. Minnie McDannel and Lou Bloom left Wednesday for an extended visit in Wallowa to visit a sister and other relatives.

Miss Eileen Gorham is visiting her cousins here. Mrs. Charles De Haas and Mrs. Nola Brothers and family. Mrs. Atrile Bollins and her infant daughter Lois Jane returned from the Grande Ronde hospital Monday. Dell Puckett is home after an appendix operation at the Grande Ronde hospital two weeks ago.

H. W. Green who had a mastoid operation at Hot Lake two weeks ago left the hospital Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Cullum Davis and four children Ethel, Clara, Albert and Billy of Jerome, Ida, came Thursday to visit Mrs. Davis' mother Mrs. Allie McClain and her brothers, Lee and

A RAINPROOF STATE FAIR

A "rainproof" state fair is made possible by the new 1,000 foot long "Indoor Trail" connecting all principal exhibit buildings. "Come to the state fair if it rains" is the resplendent slogan. Assurance of viewing the state fair without need of going out into the weather during spells of rain is expected to bring the usual crowds even if they only come out of curiosity to see how the new rainproof set-up works.

Theodore Clain, and Mr. Davis' sister, Mrs. George Goley and family. They will be here about a week.

The marriage of Dale Hagey of Cove and Mrs. Fay Hoachum of La Grande, was solemnized in Walla Walla Saturday. The bridal couple is spending a time with his parents here.

Mrs. Theodore McClain gave a family dinner Thursday to celebrate the sixth birthday anniversary of her son Jimmy.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Forman and their family, of Halfway, spent the weekend with their sister, Mrs. B. W. Peterson and family. The Formans were former residents of Cove and this is their first visit in several years.

Rev. and Mrs. Kopp, Miss Sophia Robertson and Bobby Kopp went to Wallowa Lake Sunday to take John Kopp over for the Boy Scout camp.

Mrs. Thos. Hefty and sons, Charles and Donald have returned from Grand Valley, Colorado, where they spent two weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Underwood.

Mrs. Bertha Proctor has received word of the birth of a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wittenmeyer of Mapleton, Iowa.

The moving season seems to be about to start and several families here are moving. Mr. B. W. Peterson is moving from the Royal Allen ranch where they have lived for several years and will take their own home, that is now occupied by the Alvin Lloyds. The Vivian Richards are moving to another Richards house and the one they now occupy will be taken by Mr. and Mrs. Fewerheim, who now live in the Reynolds house.

The Ladies Guild had a no hostess luncheon in the Ascension Grove Thursday afternoon. The lunch was served out in the grove, and those present report a delightful time.

Place your order now for furnace cleaning by the Holland Powered Suction Cleaner. Machine will be here for a short time only. Phone 494 J. 8-20-3 f.

9x12 USED Oiled rug pad, $5.00; metal beds, unfinished, $3.00; birds eye maple chest with glass, $12.50; enamel bed room suite, 4 pc., $16.95. Exchange Dept., Bohnenkamp's. 8-22-2 f.

You can buy a guaranteed watch or alarm clock for 98c at Moon Drug Co. 8-15-t f.

Nyal Anacid Powder quickly relieves stomach troubles, 50c, Moon Drug Co. 8-15-t f.

PICTURE FRAMING If you have a picture which you wish correctly framed at most reasonable price, take it to Richardson's Art and Gift Shop. They specialize in all kinds of picture work, developing, printing, copying, enlarging, tinting and framing. 8-14-t f.

Guaranteed Radio Service. Tubes tested free. Radio & Music Supply. Phone M. 805. 7-26-1 m.

Moon's Pure Vanilla Extract is better—3 oz. 33c, 6 oz. 52c, 1 pt. $1.39. 8-15-t f.

NEW! NEW! NEW! New things for the kitchen, both useful and decorative. Cookie Jars, Celery Sets, Mixing Bowls, Range Sets, Baking Dishes and Bannetons, and many other things in new clever decorated ware, just arrived at Richardson's Art and Gift Shop. 8-14-t f.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the undersigned has been appointed by the County Court of the State of Oregon for Union County, as the Executor of the Estate of Dan R. Tanner, deceased. All persons having claims against the said estate are hereby directed to present them at the office of Carl G. Helm, New Foley Building, La Grande, Oregon, as attorney for administratrix, within six months after the date of this Notice. FRANCES MILLERING, Administratrix of the Estate of Dan R. Tanner, deceased. July 25, Aug. 1, 8, 15, 22.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the undersigned has been appointed Administratrix of the estate of Jay M. Millering, deceased by the County Court of the State of Oregon, for Union County. All persons having claims against the said estate are hereby required to present them at the office of Carl G. Helm, New Foley Building, La Grande, Oregon, as attorney for administratrix, within six months after the date of this Notice. FRANCES MILLERING, Administratrix of the Estate of Jay M. Millering, deceased. July 25, Aug. 1, 8, 15, 22.

ing claims against the said estate are hereby directed to present them at the undersigned with proper vouchers therefor to the undersigned, at the office of H. E. Dixon, Foley Bldg. La Grande, Oregon, within six months from the date of this Notice. Dated July 25th, 1934. ELLA TANNER, Executrix of the Estate of Dan R. Tanner, deceased. H. E. DIXON, Attorney for Executrix, La Grande, Oregon. July 25, Aug. 1, 8, 15, 22.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the undersigned has been appointed Administratrix of the estate of Jay M. Millering, deceased by the County Court of the State of Oregon, for Union County. All persons having claims against the said estate are hereby required to present them at the office of Carl G. Helm, New Foley Building, La Grande, Oregon, as attorney for administratrix, within six months after the date of this Notice. FRANCES MILLERING, Administratrix of the Estate of Jay M. Millering, deceased. July 25, Aug. 1, 8, 15, 22.

Heating Our Specialty Furnace Cleaning and Repairing Ask us about your heating problems. Holland Furnace Co. Phone 434-J

Electric Rug Washing Service Washed in your home. Original beauty restored. For prompt, pleasing service, call 131-W. W. H. Parkinson 1208 First St.

Wallhide Interior Wallpaint 15 Beautiful Colors PITTSBURGH PAINT STORE Phone 152-J 111 Elm St.

MURDER AT MOCKING HOUSE BY WALTER C. BROWN

SYNOPSIS: Reduced almost to desperation by his inability to solve the mystery of the murderer who shot a policeman and a stranger in Pierre Dufresne's house, Sergeant Harper suddenly finds the trail of Ellen Becker, the maid who left the house about the time the series of mysterious events began which preceded the tragedy. Harper and his assistant, Lafferty, are talking to Ellen's aunt.

"I saw a bit of paper sticking up and when I picked at it I saw that it was part of a cigarette stub. I pushed the sand around and found a lot of them buried there. I thought that was strange, because we'd only opened the house a few days before and hadn't used the breakfast-room at all.

"I poked a little deeper in the sand and found a slip of paper, buried down one side. I read it. "Was the writing that of a man or a woman?" Lafferty asked.

"I couldn't tell. All the words were printed and there was no date and no signature. It said: 'Will expect you at the usual time.' That was all. I took it upstairs and showed it to Mrs. Dufresne. She turned white when she read it. She kept me there nearly an hour, while she walked up and down the room. Finally she suggested that if my aunt was in need of nursing I could go home for a while and she would continue to send me my wages. I did, and she has" was Ellen Becker's terse conclusion.

"Do you realize that was practically blackmail?" Ellen shook her head. "It was Mrs. Dufresne's idea. I didn't ask her for anything. Why shouldn't I accept it? It was the first time I ever got something for nothing. Nobody's going to die and leave me a million," she said bitterly.

Harper nodded. A lighter step was coming down the staircase. Then the curtains rustled and Miss Ellen Becker faced them.

"Miss Becker?" "Yes, What do you want, please?" "We are from Police Headquarters. I am Sergeant Harper of the Homicide Bureau. I am in charge of the murder case at Mr. Pierre Dufresne's house. You've heard about that?"

"Yes," echoed Miss Becker. "I read about it in the papers today." "We came to ask you some questions about your period of service there. Why did you leave Mr. Dufresne's employment last November?"

"My aunt was very sick and needed constant looking after, so I gave notice and came home. I haven't been near Mr. Dufresne's house since."

Harper looked at her. "Still taking care of your aunt?" Ellen's face darkened. "She's well now, but jobs are hard to get."

"If you left Mr. Dufresne's of your own accord, why don't you apply for your old job? They haven't hired any one in your place."

"I'd rather get a job where I can live at home."

"Miss Becker," Harper continued, "you deny, then, that you have been advised to go into hiding for a while?"

The detective's chance shot, based on Harris' report of the telephone messages, certainly struck home. "Why, er—of course," she stammered, with apparent effort.

"You were not, by any chance, packing to go away when we arrived?" "No! Where would I be going? I live here." But her voice was still unsteady.

"In that case, you won't mind if we just take a quick look at your room, Jack, see to it!"

Lafferty whispered, "Did you notice her face when she found out who we were?"

"There's something in it," Lafferty whispered. "Did you notice her face when she found out who we were?"

Harper nodded. A lighter step was coming down the staircase. Then the curtains rustled and Miss Ellen Becker faced them.

"Miss Becker?" "Yes, What do you want, please?" "We are from Police Headquarters. I am Sergeant Harper of the Homicide Bureau. I am in charge of the murder case at Mr. Pierre Dufresne's house. You've heard about that?"

"Yes," echoed Miss Becker. "I read about it in the papers today." "We came to ask you some questions about your period of service there. Why did you leave Mr. Dufresne's employment last November?"

"My aunt was very sick and needed constant looking after, so I gave notice and came home. I haven't been near Mr. Dufresne's house since."

Harper looked at her. "Still taking care of your aunt?" Ellen's face darkened. "She's well now, but jobs are hard to get."

"If you left Mr. Dufresne's of your own accord, why don't you apply for your old job? They haven't hired any one in your place."

"I'd rather get a job where I can live at home."

"Miss Becker," Harper continued, "you deny, then, that you have been advised to go into hiding for a while?"

The detective's chance shot, based on Harris' report of the telephone messages, certainly struck home. "Why, er—of course," she stammered, with apparent effort.

"You were not, by any chance, packing to go away when we arrived?" "No! Where would I be going? I live here." But her voice was still unsteady.

"In that case, you won't mind if we just take a quick look at your room, Jack, see to it!"

Lafferty was off like a shot. In a moment there issued loud voices from upstairs and Lafferty came hurrying down again.

"She was packed to go, all right," he accused. "When I rushed up the old lady was stuffing things back in the bureau and closets as fast as she could."

"Ha!" exclaimed Harper, "now the cat's out of the bag. I give you your choice of two things. You can talk to us, or you can come along to Headquarters. There's a car waiting on the corner."

Ellen broke down, quick, frightened sobs shaking her body. "I didn't do anything wrong," she wailed.

Harper answered stonily, "but you are holding back information. Why did you leave the Dufresnes? Because some one found it worth while to get you out of the house?"

Ellen Becker resigned herself to the inevitable and nodded.

Harper leaned forward, tense and eager. "Who has been paying you the hush-money?"

"Mrs. Dufresne!" Harper leaned back. "Tell us exactly what happened."

Ellen Becker clenched her fingers. "It was right after the house was opened last autumn, as she began. 'The family were at the apartment while we got things ready while I was cleaning the hearth in the breakfast-room. There was a brass urn standing by the fireplace, filled with white sand.

"I told him I was leaving to take care of my aunt. Then he calmed down all at once, but he made me swear to say nothing about the note to any one. He promised that I wouldn't lose by it."

Harper leaped up. "Well, I'll be damned," he cried, "you've got the nerve to sit there and calmly admit you've been taking money from both of them?"

Ellen turned sullen before his anger. "But what could I do? Hand back his money and tell him I was already being paid to keep quiet? What good would that have done? Besides, I was afraid of him. I was afraid to tell him anything."

"Can't you see that you were spreading dynamite around in that house?" Harper burst out. "For a few paltry dollars you were willing to see a whole household broken up. No wonder you're afraid to go back there and repeat your story. Who warned you to run away—Mr. Dufresne or Mrs. Dufresne?"

"I won't tell, I'm not going to say another word," Ellen's voice grew shrill. "I want to see a lawyer."

"Come on," said Lafferty, "let's trot her down to Headquarters. She'll talk there, whether she wants to or not. By that time she'll need a lawyer!"

The slinister tone pried the girl loose from the last hold on her reticence. "Neither one," she admitted sullenly. "It was Joe Donaghy who called me."

Harper's eyes glittered with renewed interest. "So Joe was in on this? He knows all about these deals?"

"Only about Mrs. Dufresne," Ellen confessed.

"I guess you call yourselves sweethearts," Lafferty sneered. "A fine pair of lovers you are."

"Never mind that now, Jack," Harper interrupted, then, turning to the girl, "What did he tell you over the phone?"

"He said it looked like things might break wide open up there at the house, and that if they did, it would be a good idea for me to be missing."

"You're holding out on us again. You two have been working this game together. We know Donaghy's been bleeding these people, too, because he's sporting a big roll of bills."

But where, asks Harper tomorrow, does Ellen's evidence lead.

At the reception later at the Johnston home, 826 Whitman street, Miss Laura Woodward greeted the guests at the door. The serving table, presided over by Mrs. Frank Averill and Mrs. R. Raymond Dorrick, was lovely with its centerpiece of pink and orchid asters flanked by pink tapers. Miss Dorothy Mills, of Cove, was in charge of the dining room and assisting in the serving were the Misses Miriam Burk, Genevieve Bridges, Cueter and Roberta Van Vranken.

Mr. and Mrs. Sexton are both former Whitman students. Mr. Sexton having graduated from the college; and conservatory where he was prominent in musical circles. Mrs. Sexton also attended the University of Washington. She is a member of Alpha Chi Omega sorority. Mr. Sexton belongs to Phi Delta Theta fraternity and is now supervisor of music in The Dalles city schools. They will make their home in the Oregon city.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were F. M. Sexton, Mrs. Judd Fish and Dallas Norton, of The Dalles, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Sexton and daughter, Ernestine, of Goldendale, Walter Shields, of Yakima, Miss Bernice Yantis and Miss Margaret Ingles, of Milton, and Miss Mildred Eppel and Miss Della Erwin, of Bendleton.

Mrs. Sexton, popular member of the younger set, has been extensively feted at pre-nuptial affairs since announcement of her engagement—Walla Walla Bulletin.

The Diversity club started its regular meetings for the year when they were entertained by Mrs. Philip Lockwood at her home on Washington avenue. The afternoon was devoted to auction bridge where Mrs. Lucile Price assumed the largest score and received first prize. Mrs. Doris Speth, fourth and Mrs. Alvah Crowley, a guest during the afternoon, received a guest prize. Mrs. Lockwood served a delicious lunch at the conclusion of the games.

The next meeting of the Diversity will be at the home of Mrs. John Price, Sept. 6.

The announcement today of the marriage of Miss Helen Conkey and Clifford Cochran which took place Saturday at Walla Walla comes as a complete surprise to the friends of the young people here although it was at the same time not unexpected as the event was the culmination of a romance which had its inception in high school days. Immediately following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Cochran returned to La Grande where they are to make their home. Mr. and Mrs. Cochran are very well known locally, both are graduates of the La Grande high school where Mr. Cochran made quite an enviable athletic record.

Special Meet Called For Friday There will be a special meeting of the officers and drill team of the Eagles auxiliary Friday evening, August 24 at the hall.