Britain, U. S. to Reappraise Food Supply Situation

WASHINGTON, Mar. 28 (UP) —The United States and Great Britain announced jointly today that they were reappraising the entire food supply and requirements problem in the light of an "increasingly critical" situation.

The announcement by the state department and the British embassy was made in connection with the visit here of Oliver Lyttelton, British minister of production, and J. J. Llewellin, minister of food. It revealed that the two Britishers were sent here by Prime Minister Winston Churchill at the invitation of President Roosevelt to work out the difficult food problem with high American officials.

The British-American statement said that all relevant factors will be discussed, including the levels of consumption and the reserves necessary to support the war effort in the countries concerned.

The announcement came as the food supply problem held the full attention of congress, with separate house and senate investigations already projected.

A spokesman for the "big four" meat packing concerns predicted that the government will have to "take over" the meat industry if the war should last three or four more years and OPA regulations are not changed.

Thomas E. Wilson, Chicago, chairman of the board of Wilson & company, told the senate food investigating committee the meat industry cannot "continue to borrow money and assume the losses that will continue unless this program is changed."

Merchants Get Pointers on New OPA Price Rules

Apparel and home furnishings dealers of Union county, numbering approximately 60, were present last night at a meeting in the city hall at which representatives of the office of price administration explained regulations governing pricing of merchandise under new federal regulations.

R. A. Westerling and James Sigler, pricing representatives of the state office of the OPA in Portland, were here to instruct the merchants in procedure for pricing merchandise on schedules they must file with the district office by April 20.

It is expected that the new pricing regulations will make more medium and lower priced merchandise available to consumers. The individual merchant's price mark-ups are frozen as of March 19, base date for each class of goods sold. The OPA order also requires manufacturers to restore the average level of their price lines to the averages of 1942-43 as a step to prevent price increases.

Officials of the OPA said the new regulations will simplify the merchants' task of figuring ceiling prices.

Westerling and Sigler left today for Enterprise where they will hold a similar meeting tonight for Wallowa county merchants.

Prisoners Saved From Air Attack By Own Bravery

name I cannot reveal now, were wounded.

The ordeal by fire took place last Sunday afternoon, but the story of the prisoners' grim struggle for survival begins much earlier. The men were aboard a prisoner of war train which the Germans were trying to move closer to Berlin in the face of the 1st army's lightning advance across Germany.

The lieutenant said the men were jammed into freight cars and were left there for 36 hours without food. There was no marking on the train to indicate to American pilots that the freight cars were filled with friends.

When the American flyers attacked the German guards ran for hiding and the prisoners began forcing open the doors of the freight cars. Bullets were popping all around, but the allied officers assembled the men in a field and ordered them to strip to the waist. Then the officers instructed the men to bend over unil their backs formed the letters POW.

When the dive bombing pilots saw the expanse of naked backs, they came out of their dives without firing and then circled slowly as if trying to figure out whether this was a German trick. The officers kept yelling at the men to hold the formation.

"Two flights of P-47s came down on us later," the lieutenant said. "Their guns blazed away, but out of those thousand men only one ran for cover. The others held."

Finaly all the pilots seemed to get the idea. The lieutenant said they dipped their wings in salute and flew away.

German Leaders Flee Southward To Escape Allies

dispatch, this one from Zurich, said at least four panzer divisions and German elite SS troops were stationed at Arlberg, high in the Alps of western Austria less than 20 miles from the Swiss border, possibly for a nazi last stand.

The London News-Chronicle said the British cabinet members henceforth will remain within easy travelling distance of London as result of Prime Minister Churchill's report that the "end is in sight," following his trip across the Rhine.

Civilians Evacuated

The nazis decided to evacuate women and children from the "air terror" of Berlin after the capital was blasted for an hour in mid-morning following the 36th consecutive night air attack.

Stockholm reported that Heinrich Himmler had ordered Nuernberg evacuated and nazi party archives taken to Berchesgaden.

American soldiers liberated aged and ailing civilians from an abandoned coal mine where they were driven back by German machine gunners who sprayed the entrance when they sought to surrender.

Invaders Sweep Through Japanese Defense on Cebu

row strait from historic Mactan island, where Magellan died in the 16th century from a poisonous arrow. It is only 75 miles from Ormoc on American-held Leyte and approximately 350 miles southeast of Manila.

Admiral Russell Barkey commanded the task force which supported the landing and Capt. William Sprague commanded the amphibious attack force.

On Luzon, the First cavalry division and the 11th airborne division were nearing a junction as they edged the Japanese into the southwestern tail of the island. The cavalrymen, pushing south of Laguna bay seized Malvar airfield, seven miles north of the road hub of Lipa, under attack by the airborne forces.

17 DIE IN WRECK

MEXICO CITY, March 28 (UP) —Seventeen persons were killed and 18 injured last night when a railroad locomotive rammed a passenger bus in the outskirts of Mexico City.

Farm Machinery Sale Prices Curbed

SALEM, Ore., March 28 (UP)— Attorney General George Neuner ruled today that farm machinery may not be sold at an execution sale by a sheriff at a price in excess of OPA ceilings.

The sheriff is constrained by state law to accept the highest bid for items up for auction, he said, but if this provision conflicts with federal law it is the local law which must yield.

Tokyo Reports Say Jap Home Islands Are Under Attack

great defeat in the Philippines battle of Oct. 23-24, 1944.

The U. S. navy had announced bluntly that the purpose of its carrier strikes against Japan's inland sea a week ago was to seek out and destroy sequestered units of the Enemy's navy in home waters.

The navy's top admirals all have said they would welcome a final decisive engagement with whatever remains of the Japanese fleet.

Tokyo said American carrier planes raided southern Japan yesterday in support of the Kerama land operations. Of the unconfirmed Kerama fighting Tokyo said:

"Grim fighting is on the islands of Kerama is developing to a fever with our forces entrenched in counter-offensive positions.

New Landings Made

"While on Tokoshika Jima the enemy was beaten off in a determined counter-attack on Aka Jima the enemy seems to have brought ashore further reinforcements on Monday."

(Originally, Tokyo said 2,000 American troops went ashore.)

A broadcast Domei news agency dispatch said that approximately 90 carrier planes raided Kyushu, southernmost of the Japanese home islands, this afternoon (Japanese time). The raid was centered on the Miyazaki and Kagoshima prefectures in the southern part of the island, Domei said.

Allied Armies Race Through Weak Defense in West

driven almost 100 miles east of the Rhine and had swung north in the region of Graefendorf, a scant 210 miles from Berlin.

But the blitz was not confined to the First and Third American armies.

Both the British Second and the American Ninth armies had shaken loose from the bitter resistance the nazis were putting up in defense of their Ruhr cities of Duisburg and Essen.

Ruhr Lines Cut

In parallel columns of heavy armor the British Second and American Ninth severed the northern communications of the Ruhr and headed east.

They crossed the Dortmund-Ems canal and slashed the Duisburg-Hamm military highway, shifting the main bulk of their weight east toward Berlin less than 245 miles away.

A dispatch from United Press War Correspondent C. R. Cunningham with the Ninth army said it appeared "the Ninth army is on the verge of breaking into a wide open race to join the First and Third armies."

The Ninth army kickoff was aided by the British Sixth Guards armored brigade which crashed along the northern bank of the Lippe canal and river and entered Dorsten to relieve pressure on the Ninth from the crack 116th German panzer division.

Resistance Wanes

Except for a few stubborn pockets of resistance in the by-passed Ruhr valley, German opposition was melting everywhere from the Karlsruhe corner to the Dutch border.

Berlin said British tanks had advanced 33 miles beyond the Rhine crossing at Wesel to the Dortmund-Ems canal, almost 20 miles past their kick-off point this morning. There the Tommies were past the main arsenal centers of the Ruhr and only 245 miles due west of Berlin.

Returning pilots said the battle lines were moving ahead so rapidly that new bombing zones had to be established every 20 minutes.

At some points the pursuing British were completely out of contact with the fleeing enemy.

Movie Prop Men Refuse Other Work In Strike Row

HOLLYWOOD, March 28 (UP) —Rank and file members of local 44 of the international alliance of theatrical and stage employes today rebelled openly against union leaders and refused to work outside their craft.

The 300 AFL prop men voted down a plea by International Vice Presidents Bill Barrett, Roy Brewer and Carl Cooper to "keep production moving" in the three-week old movie studio strike and voted unanimously to refuse any studio employment outside their jurisdiction.

Irwin P. Hentschel, one of the leaders of the rebellion, termed the vote a "direct slap" at International President Richard Walsh and said it was a "protest of the rank and file members against the dictatorial methods of the union officers."

Hentschel said the vote was not a move in support of the conference of studio unions, also AFL, out on strike to force recognition of its member painters union over the IATSE as bargaining agent for 78 set designers.

Walsh was to confer today in New York with President William Hutcheson of the carpenters union in an effort to have Hollywood carpenters quit their sympathy strike.

Newberg Youth Is Oratory Champion

PORTLAND, Ore., March 28 (UP)—The seventh annual Oregon speech contest of the Future Farmers of America was won by Don Tykeson, 17, of Newberg, who managed to nose out Robert Taylor, Grants Pass, second; and Richard Kingsbury, Milwaukie, third place winner.

Tykeson had failed in two previous attempts to win the title, one in 1943 and the other last year, when he placed second. Eliminated in the 1945 preliminaries were James Carter, Salem, and Lewis Wirth, Baker.

Stock Prices Rise As Market Steadies

NEW YORK, March 28 (UP)— Peace rumors evaporated in the financial district today and the stock market extended yesterday's gains by fractions to more than a point.

As the street lost interest in the premature peace reports which circulated freely yesterday trading volume fell off substantially.

Hudson Motor led in turnover and made a new high on a gain of more than a point in response to a favorable earnings report. International Telephone resumed its activity and rose a point. Graham-Paige and Packard were active and firm.

Leading motors rose major fractions. Steels at their highs showed gains ranging to a point in Bethlehem, but later lost part of the rise. Rails held fractions to a point higher. Some higher priced issues, including Nickel Plate preferred and Pere Marquette preferred, were up 2 or 3 points.

Airlines were prominent on the upside under leadership of Eastern which at its high of 55½ was up 4 points. American rose more than 2 and the others a point or better.

Gains of 1 to more than 2 points were noted in Cerro de Pasco, A. O. Smith, Westinghouse electric, Clark equipment, American distilling, American Car & Foundry, Pullman, Lima locomotive, Allied chemical, Reis preferred, Safeway stores and Cudahy packing. Wide gains were noted in several utility preferred issues. Oils had small gains.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, March 28 (UP) — Grain futures held steady to strong in trading which became very quiet toward the close on the board of trade today.

Wheat closed up ⅛ to ⅝ cent a bushel, corn unchanged to up ⅜, oats off ⅛ to up ¼, rye off ⅛ to up ½ and barley off ⅛.

News that the house had approved legislation prolonging the life of the commodity credit corporation two more years and expanding its borrowing powers imparted a firm tone to the market.

Wheat was bolstered by approval of the CCC bill and by provision for subsidy payments on flour after the present schedule expires.

Wheat trading became very limited late in the session.

The rye market also became very quiet.
