

Cove Library to Be Repaired With Donated Funds

COVE, March 29—Repairs to the public library will be started as soon as the weather permits, funds for the work having been provided by the city council and various clubs and lodges.

Work will be done on the roof and foundation.

Friends have been advised that Lt. Roy Comstock, the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Comstock, and his brother-in-law, Pvt. Lester Peterson, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Peterson, formerly of Cove, are now serving in the Philippines. Comstock is in the army air force and Peterson in the air force ground force.

Mr. and Mrs. Eldred Hallmark and their two children, who have been visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Hallmark and Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Koger, have gone to Portland.

Lt. Robert K. Lantz, grandson of Mrs. Lydia Lantz of Cove, who has been serving in the Pacific area, is home on a furlough. He entered the service in November, 1942.

Home from college to spend the spring vacation with their parents are Inez Towle, Shirley Brazile and Wanda Elmer, all from Oregon State college, and Edu Mae Childers, from Whitworth college, Spokane.

Labor-Industry Program Wins President's Praise

WASHINGTON, Mar. 29 (UP)—President Roosevelt today praised the proposed labor-management charter for a postwar partnership. He viewed it as a means of making possible "the full employment of labor and capital under our system of free competitive enterprise when hostilities cease."

He voiced his pleasure over the proposal in a letter to AFL President William Green, CIO President Philip Murray, and U. S. chamber of commerce President Eric A. Johnston, who proposed the plan.

The president said he was "very pleased" to learn of their decision "to effectuate the dual objective of cooperation in industry and national prosperity" in the postwar period.

NEW YORK, March 29 (UP)—President Roosevelt today considered the proposed labor-management charter "preliminary" and he could not commit the NAM to its principles as yet.

Mosher said that such a charter should be the "result of deliberations by a larger and more representative group" which could implement the statement and add to its strength.

"Otherwise," he said, "instead of promoting unity between labor and management, a statement couched in such general terms could easily breed further misunderstanding between them and really not materially assist in formulating sound public policies."

During World War I, the annual cost of the British Ministry of Information was $200,000.

Marshall Says Army Use of Boys Of 18 Shortens War

WASHINGTON, Mar. 29 (UP)—The army must use 18-year-olds as combat replacements or run the risk of prolonging the war in both Europe and the Pacific, according to Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff.

In a letter to Rep. Clifford R. Hope, R., Kan., published in today's Congressional Record, Marshall said American soldiers are receiving better combat training than ever before.

Hope had asked Marshall to explain why young soldiers are being sent into battle with only 12 to 17 weeks' basic training. When the draft age was lowered to 18, Hope said, parents had the impression that their young sons would be given a full year's training before facing the enemy.

Marshall told Hope that soldiers sent overseas are usually given additional training after they reach the theater of operations. In some cases, however, he said, this is not possible.

He pointed out that while it required a year or more to train a full division, an individual soldier placed in a veteran unit may be adequately prepared for battle in much less time.

"It should be kept in mind," he said, "that all of these men are assigned to units with long combat experience where the leadership from non-commissioned grades upward is in the hands of veterans."

Americans Honored By French Surgeons
PARIS (UP)—Brig. Gen. Malcolm C. Grow of Annapolis, Md., and Col. Herbert B. Wright of Cleveland, O., have been elected to membership in the Academy of Surgery of France, which is comparable to the Royal College of Surgeons in England.

Gen. Grow, surgeon for the U. S. strategic air forces in Europe, is a pioneer in prevention of air casualties and development of the "flak suit."

Germany Claims "Underground" Is Already in Action

LONDON, March 29 (UP)—Radio Berlin made its first claim today that the Nazi underground operations have begun in Germany when it said that "freedom fighters" had condemned and killed the mayor of Aachen.

The incident was considered so important that the big Berlin station Deutschlandsender broke into a musical program to announce it.

Allied front dispatches two days ago said the mayor of Aachen, Frank Oppenhoff, 41, who was considered an anti-Nazi, was slain by three uniformed German soldiers on the back porch of his home. The assassins escaped.

The Nazi transocean agency said a "traitor" German, Mayor Velten of the village of Meutznich, near Munchau, was killed by an explosion caused by "unknown perpetrators" in his home last night.

A Mannheim Nazi newspaper, the Hakenkreuzbanner, quoted by Transocean, said Velten had been a schoolteacher who had "put himself at the disposal of the Americans."

Corvallis, Redmond To Get New Homes

WASHINGTON, Mar. 29 (UP)—Approval was given for construction of 125 dwelling units in Redmond and Corvallis, Ore., by the NHA under the H-2 program for privately-financed housing.

In Corvallis, 100 family units were approved, 50 to be sold at no more than $7,000 and 50 to rent at no more than $55 per month. Of 25 units to be built in Redmond, 15 are to be sold at $7,000 or less and 10 will rent for not more than $60, the NHA announced.

La Grande Man Gets Honor as Contributor To Blood Bank

Earl H. Lanman, formerly of La Grande, returned to Portland last night, where he is employed as a joiner in the Buckler-Chapman shipyard. He visited several days with relatives and friends in the valley.

Lanman, a veteran of World War I, is 11 times a blood donor, and a member of the Galloners club in Portland. To belong to the club, members must have contributed a gallon of blood to the Red Cross for plasma.

An article about Lanman in the shipyard paper, said he was a consistent bond buyer, having purchased over $600 in bonds during the Sixth war loan drive.

EXTERMINATOR—Called "Exterminator" for his exploits of planning and organizing offensives against the Nazis, Marshal Alexander M. Vasilevsky, above, former Red army chief of staff, replaces the late Gen. Ivan D. Chernyakhovsky as head of the Third White Russian army, now in East Prussia.

DON'T LET YOUR HOME SUFFER FROM DIMLIGHTOMANIA!

HERE ARE SIX EASY WAYS TO CURE IT

Glaring, unshaded bulbs waste light, cause eye-strain. Shade bulbs to channel and direct light for greater efficiency.

50% more light in one 100-watt bulb than in four 25-watt bulbs, using the same amount of current. Install larger bulbs wherever possible.

Dust-coated lamp shades, reflectors and bulbs can waste up to 50% of your light. Clean them frequently and thoroughly.

Narrow shades limit the lighting range of a lamp. Use wide, flaring shades to diffuse light generously, avoid harsh shadows.

Dark colors absorb light. Paint lamp shades white inside. Use only white bulbs. Light-colored walls reflect more light.

Low lamp standards give minimum amount of light. Tall bases permit light to reach wider area, spread light without glare.

Japs Make Quick Advance in Drive On U. S. Air Base

CHUNGKING, March 28 (UP)—A fast-moving Japanese column has advanced to within five miles of Laohokow, site of an American air base in northern Hupeh province, a 14th air force communique disclosed today. The 14th completed 60 missions yesterday.

Maj. Gen. Claire Chennault's American and Chinese pilots yesterday bombed Japanese concentrations at a town five miles northeast of Laohokow. The enemy had last been reported officially 25 miles distant from Laohokow, indicating rapid progress during the past two days.

Gen. Chennault's fighters and bombers attacked strategic targets from the Yellow river to French Indo-China yesterday in an intensified offensive. Nine Japanese aircraft were destroyed and 21 damaged in surprise attacks on air fields at Hankow, Paolochi, Tsinan, Canton and Hongkong.

(Tokyo radio recorded by United Press, San Francisco, said an American airfield was under construction at Changping, Fukien province. Changping is only 75 miles inland from Amoy, a major Chinese coastal port and 200 miles from Japanese-held Formosa.)
