Invasion of Jap Homeland by Big Armada Looms

never confirmed repeated Japanese reports of U. S. landings on Tokoshika and Aka in the small Kerama chain.

"Enemy naval forces and transports," said Tokyo, "continue to increase in numbers in the Okinawa waters. They are coming in from all directions."

Tokyo said the American assault units in the Keramas "are stranded, with the American invasion fleet cut to pieces by the Japanese air arm."

(Chinese central news agency reported from the Fukien province coast that "chaos" prevailed in Formosa where Japanese authorities reportedly were expecting an allied offensive. Civilians were reported evacuated from all seacoast areas.)

Earlier today, Tokyo reported that "several" American carrier-borne planes had attacked the Kure naval base area on the southeast coast of Honshu and southern Kyushu.

A Singapore broadcast, beamed in English to Australia, said that 20 Superfortresses attacked Singapore today for two and one-half hours but claimed that "no damage was inflicted." Single B-29s were reported in reconnaissance flights over the coastal regions of southern Korea and key cities in northern Kyushu, as well as Tokyo.

Cove, Enterprise Boys Win Honors For Farm Projects

The highest award presented by the Future Farmers of America today went to members from La Grande and Enterprise at the 17th annual convention of the organization in Portland.

Homer Love of Cove and Gerald Sandlin of Enterprise were among 32 boys from all parts of the state to receive the degree of farmer, a distinction accorded only for outstanding success in individual agricultural activity. Love is a member of the La Grande chapter and specializes in beef and dairy cattle.

Sixteen of the state's 41 Future farmer chapters also were given "keystone" awards, among them the Enterprise, Wallowa and Baker chapters.

The awards were to be presented tonight when a service flag will be dedicated honoring 4,262 members in service and 86 who have been reported dead or missing in action.

Allies Threaten To Split Ruhr From Central Reich

dawn this morning. By mid-afternoon they had progressed about 40 miles to reach Hallenburg, 21 miles northwest of Marburg.

Hallenburg is about 45 miles east of the southern borders of the Ruhr. If the first army continues north to a juncture with the racing 9th and 2nd British armies the Ruhr will be sealed off from contact with the central reich.

This armored first army force is closing the back door on the Ruhr and at the same time is driving for the broad German plain which leads direct to Berlin. At Hallenburg one branch of the force was only slightly more than 200 miles southwest of Berlin.

Hitler Reported Planning to Make 'Important Speech'

"If we are unable to stem the allied storms from the east and the west in the next few weeks, then even the individual heroism of the home battlefront will be in vain."

People Refuse to Fight

A German radio commentator at the same time complained that iron army discipline and even court martials were not sufficient to induce the people to continue fighting in the face of mounting odds.

"Faith and conviction are necessary," he said. "A lost peace would be worse than a lost war."

In London, the Daily Herald said authoritative opinion in London was that organized German resistance would collapse "probably very soon" after the next fortnight.

From Stockholm came word of the expected arrival in the Swedish capital of three members of German Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop's "brain trust" on unexplained missions. They were Karl Schnurre, number one German economic rector of the reichsbank, and Dr. Rudolf Fischer, expert on eastern Europe.

Markets

Specialties Move Up in Wall Street

NEW YORK, March 29 (UP)—The stock market developed a firm undertone today with a few specialties up sharply. Trading was extremely light, restricted by pre-holiday considerations.

Tomorrow leading security markets will be closed in observance of Good Friday.

Airline shares as a group provided a feature to an otherwise dull session. The group, apart from a decline in Eastern, strengthened on good earnings reports by American and Braniff. Eastern, up 4½ points Wednesday dropped more than 2 points in the face of overnight action by directors in placing the common stock on a $1 annual dividend basis. No previous dividend had ever been paid.

Approval by the interstate commerce commission of the merger of Morris & Essex into the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western road brought a rise of nearly 3 points in Morris & Essex. Nickel Plate preferred rose nearly 2 points but other rails did little.

In the steels the leaders—Bethlehem and U. S. Steel held narrowly around their previous levels while Bath Iron Works and Midland Steel products rose a point or more. Grumman shot forward 2 points to a new high in the aircrafts where Douglas was up more than a point.

Loew's scored a fractional gain on action of stockholders in approving a proposed 3-for-1 stock splitup. A. O. Smith and Franklin Simon preferred rose 2 points each. Coca-Cola lost a point and American Sugar preferred was down 3.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, March 29 (UP) — Grain futures held steady to strong in quiet trading on the board of trade today.

Wheat closed up ½ to 1 cent a bushel, corn and oats up ⅛ to ¼, rye unchanged to up ⅜ and barley off ¼ to 2½. The drop in barley was in the September delivery, traded for the first time today.

There was a general lack of interest, particularly late in the session, because of the holiday tomorrow and the uncertainty of the war situation in Europe.

Rye traders all but ignored news confirming that 4,000,000 bushels of rye were bought recently for export.

Little was done in the corn pit and activity also was limited in the oats pit.
