PHILADELPHIA, April 10 (UP) — William Russel, 29, one of 12 long term convicts who escaped from the eastern penitentiary one week ago, was wounded critically last night in a short range gun duel with city detectives.

The shooting took place at the home of a city policeman who identified the convict when he stepped into the house where a trap had been laid for him.

firing. I told my men to cover me and I would try and locate the position of the nest. I was crawling close to a high brick wall and all of a sudden a shell hit the wall and before I knew what had happened, which was several hours later, I was covered by a half ton of bricks. After they dug me out I was informed that the shell was from an eight inch enemy rail road gun 20 miles away. Guess I was pretty lucky because no bones were broken. However, I was partially paralyzed for a while and received contusion of of head."

Senate Will Probe Grain Car Shortage

WASHINGTON, April 10 (UP) —The senate will look into the freight car shortage following charges by Sen. Clyde M. Reed, R., Kans., that lack of cars to ship grain in the midwest was causing serious spoilage.

He introduced a resolution calling for an inquiry. Chairman Burton K. Wheeler, D., Mont., of the senate interstate commerce committee to which the resolution was referred said he will name a special sub-committee to look into the matter.

PRINEVILLE, Ore., April 10 (UP)—Appointment of C. C. McGlenn, old time railroad engineer and executive, as manager of the city of Prineville railway was announced today.

PATTON—MAN WITH A PURPOSE—Typical photos of Lt.-Gen. George S. Patton, taken at different times, in different circumstances and under varying fortunes of war have one common characteristic. They show him as a man of grim purpose, determined, tight-lipped, pugnacious—personal qualities with which he seems to have imbued his slashing armored divisions in their great drive across Germany.

German Defenses Crumble As Allies Race For Berlin

the streets of Hannover after a sudden breakthrough from the north.

Simultaneously, the ninth army's fifth armored division stabbed 23 miles northeastward to cut the superhighway at a point mid-way between Hannover and Brunswick.

British Besiege Bremen

British armored forces to the north laid siege to Bremen and wheeled northeastward within 60 miles or less of Hamburg, German's second city and greatest port. A third British column cut the Hamburg-Hannover Autobahn and raced eastward for Brunswick and Berlin on the ninth army's northern flank.

The strike across northern Germany shot the ninth army out in front of the race for Berlin, only a few hours after Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' American first army had taken the lead with a new advance into the fringe of the Harz mountains in central Germany.

Hodges' men broke loose on an 18-mile sweep beyond their Weser river bridgeheads yesterday and followed through early today with an armored and infantry drive on Nordhausen, 115 miles southwest of Berlin.

The Americans knocked a 30-mile-wide hole in the German defenses and late field dispatches said they were closing fast on Nordhausen against weak opposition.

Mystery Surrounds Meat From Ocean

SEASIDE, Ore., April 10 (UP) —The appearance of several cartons of fresh beef — which floated ashore on the Oregon beaches near here over the weekend and on Monday—gave rise to speculation today that the meat was from an unreported ship sinking off the coast.

One of the 85-pound cartons contained tenderloin steaks, cut for serving, and still in good condition.

Residents of the coastal communities who found the meat when it first came ashore placed it in cold storage. However, meat which came ashore later was found to be spoiled.

No vessel has been reported lost or in trouble along the Oregon coast during the past week, officials said.
