High School Spring Show Brings Fine Entertainment to Audience

The annual spring show of the La Grande high school today is but a memory, but a memory that will linger long with many of those who were present for its presentation last night in the school auditorium.

Mitchell's River Program Favored

OLYMPIA, Wash., April 28 (UP)—The Columbia basin commission today appeared ready to swing its support to the Mitchell bill creating a Columbia valley authority.

Members of the commission admitted privately that the measure introduced by Sen. Hugh B. Mitchell, D. Wash., is not perfect. However, they pointed out that it lends itself to amendment more easily than does the bill submitted by Rep. Walt Horan, R. Wash.

President Harry S. Truman's approval of the Mitchell bill, which came while the commission was meeting in Wenatchee, appeared to be a deciding factor. Members said that administration backing would clear legislative obstacles and make possible early enactment of the measure.

HOME EXTENSION NEWS

By JULIANNE WISE, Home Demonstration Agent

Have you ever wondered how to put life into a languid rug? There is a way that one can re-size a rug at home.

The resizing should be done in a room where you can leave the rug to dry thoroughly—at least 24 hours. Lay the clean rug nap side down on the smooth floor. Tack it at intervals so it will stay straight. For the resizing mixture, use one-quarter pound of flake glue and two quarts of boiling water. Dissolve the flake glue in the boiling water. To apply the glue, a brush is the best tool—a white wash brush, a whisk broom, or a large paint brush. Then brush the glue mixture on the back of the rug but be sure to use it sparingly. If the glue penetrates through the back of the rug to the nap, it will stiffen the nap so that the rug will not be attractive. In resizing a rug, a small amount of glue will go a long way.

Ready well in advance of the food preservation season are two of the best bulletins available on conserving foods by dehydration, canning, salting, and by freezing. Extension bulletin 642, "Home Food Preservation for Canning and Salting," has been completely revised by Miss Lucy A. Case, extension specialist in foods and nutrition, and Thomas Onsdorf, associate professor of food industries in Oregon State college.

A new feature added in the bulletin is a complete set of illustrations showing the different types of jars with explanations of the use of each and special directions for handling war time materials and containers. The bulletin gives detailed directions for the use of pressure cookers and three time tables for canning fruits and vegetables by the hot water bath method. Also added to this bulletin is an expanded section on canning in tin.

Bulletin No. 423 on fruit and vegetable dehydration has been revised and compiled for use in home dehydration with information on dehydration methods. In addition to these revised bulletins, "Preservation by Freezing," extension bulletin 623, is available. Bulletins may be obtained by request through the office of the home demonstration agent in La Grande.

Everyone is using plenty of eggs with meat points up. With eggs abundant on the market and hens doing a generous job of laying, now is a good time to try new and interesting egg dishes. Have you used a vegetable soufflé in place of the traditional fish soufflé?

It might be made with minced green onion, with finely chopped green pepper, with chopped celery, and diced cooked vegetables such as asparagus or with corn or peas folded into the fluffy egg and white sauce mixture.

Custard may be used as a main dish, too, if you leave out the sugar, vanilla and nutmeg and

Greenwood P-TA Has Pre-School Party

Thirty-four children and 26 mothers were entertained at the Greenwood pre-school party held yesterday afternoon at Greenwood by the parent-teacher association.

The two first grade classes, under the direction of Miss June Coolidge and Mrs. Nell Thacker, entertained the children. Mrs. Erma Juve, from the county health unit, spoke to the mothers on the immunization clinic to be held May 15 at 1:30 p. m. at the county health unit.

Immunization will be given, free of charge for both smallpox and diphtheria, to children having slips signed by their parents. The follow-up clinic for the diphtheria shots will be held June 12. Parents were asked to take their children to their family physicians for a physical check-up before they start to school in the fall.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the afternoon. Mrs. Howard Ball, health chairman of Greenwood P-TA, was in charge of arrangements for the meeting.

Salem Teacher Pay Increase Approved

SALEM, Ore., April 28 (UP)—Voters of the Salem school district yesterday voted nearly 406 to 124 in favor of an increase in teacher's salaries here.

The temporary raise amounts to $300 yearly for teachers and administrators and $120 for other school employees.

Draft Evader Will Enter Armed Forces

SEATTLE, April 28 (UP)—Elbert Wightman, 22-year-old ranch worker from Williston, N. C., prepared today to enter army service, ending a 30-month search for him by the federal bureau of investigation.

Charged with failure to report for induction at Bremerton in December, 1942, Wightman said he was "afraid" after he heard that his older brother had been "shot up."

Federal Judge John C. Bowen placed Wightman on probation for a year on condition it comply with draft orders.
