Stocks Slump on War News Flurry

NEW YORK, May 1 (UP) — Stocks resumed their decline late in the session today after an abortive rally had raised the main list for a time to new highs for more than eight years. Toward the close losses ranged to more than a point in the leaders.

Starvation Stalks Europe Without U.S. Food Supplies

This year and supplies lower and that the problem will extend into 1946.

Many Face Starvation
Sen. Burton K. Wheeler, D., Mont., a member of the senate committee investigating this country's food situation, said he had been told matters in Europe are so desperate that 1,500,000 persons may starve to death this year. He said the food situation here will grow worse before it gets better.

Chairman Leo T. Crowley of the U. S. committee on foreign shipments reported that American civilians will get less food this year than they did last, but promised a "decent American diet" will be maintained. He said military requirements would go up from 13 to 16 per cent of total supplies, and U. S. food production would be 5 to 10 per cent less than last year.

Sugar Allotment Cut
Three government agencies announced a one-third cut in U. S. civilian sugar allotments.

In addition to food Rosenman also stressed fuel and transportation shortages. He said it would be impossible to meet "even minimum" coal needs for a year or more after V-E day. The U. S. should figure out how much it can supply to Europe, Rosenman declared, "for the lack of coal is of gravest political and economic concern."

phy, a banner, right side up, until the next Court of Honor.

Much interest centered in the award of the Talney cup to Troop 112 of La Grande. This is the last time it will be awarded for awhile as the new council trophy will be used in its stead to stimulate interest in advancement.

The court was presided over by Reynolds Baxter, Troop 128, as chairman. Members of the court and the awards they presented were: Wayne Ferguson, second class; Carl Posey, first class; Frank Fought, assistant scoutmaster, Troop 84, Merit badges; Arlyn Beck, Star Scout and Raymond Baum, Life Scout. Claire Cahill, field scout executive, was clerk of the court.

Guidance Is Held Paramount Need Of War Veterans

a changed outlook when they return, and will not be satisfied in their former jobs — expecting something better.

They will expect security and a good life and the chance to make a living, he said.

GI Bill Curbs Cited

He said when he returned and was asked what he would like to do he mentioned that he might want to go into business for himself by obtaining a loan through the provisions of the so-called GI Bill of Rights, and was told not to expect too much from that source, and hazarded the opinion that the provisions of this law must be changed if it is to have any worthwhile value to the returning servicemen.

Lt. Keith Patten, also a south Pacific veteran, said community organizations and committee must assist veterans in becoming adjusted to civil life, as they are going to depend to a large extent on such assistance in the transition from military service.

Rev. Stanley Hunt said the returned veteran problem must be treated much the same way as that of handling migrant population, as employers will have to be more considerate and much guidance must be provided by the government and other agencies, due in a large part to the large number of handicapped men who must be given the opportunity to become self-reliant and independent and to find their proper niche in civilian affairs.

State Aid Promising

W. E. Wilkins said he expects the bill passed by the recent legislature to be of great assistance to the veterans in purchases of farms and homes. He said he feels the GI Bill must be changed before it can be of any great help to the veterans.

George Tiss said the average veteran has no chance of benefiting from the bill. Similar sentiment was expressed by County Agent R. W. Schaad.

The committee instructed its legislative group to prepare a resolution recommending changes in the bill to make it more beneficial.

H. G. Voruz, new chairman of the committee presided and announced the appointment of the following committee: Executive, Vorus, Otis Palmer, Fletcher Milton, Ray Snider, Raymond Gray, Hermann and Merton Davis.

Publicity and program — Eugene Miller, Hermann, Clarence Carter, Judge R. J. Green, and Mrs. Carrie Trullinger.

Finance — Lester Kingsley, L. D. Noah and L. H. Notton.

Industrial survey — T. S. Sterling Hightower, Mrs. Ray Williams, S. B. Morgan, W. E. McClure, and Albert Hutchison.

"Caesar" rested on sawdust, loosely thrown in the bottom of the coffin. He was nude and his blood-soaked uniform was tossed on top of him.

With the bodies of Mussolini and his mistress out of reach of their fury, the Milan mob stormed Vittore prison, howling for the life of Marshal Rudolfo Graziani, fascist minister of war and commander of the Italian fascist army still resisting in north Italy.

However, partisans turned Graziani over to Col. Norman Fiske of Portland, Ore., of the allied commission. The marshal was taken to Fourth corps headquarters outside Milan to be held as a war criminal.
