'House Cleaning' At Salem Is Near Conclusion

By ERIC W. ALLEN, Jr.

SALEM, Ore., May 18 (UP) — The official "cleaning up" after the 1945 Oregon legislature is virtually completed, officials of the state department reported today.

After the members and the staff of the legislature go home, the state department staff still has a job to do. Principal chores are completing the official version of the house and senate journals and the session laws.

Journal Covers Activity

The house and senate journal will run to about 350 pages this years. It contains the day-by-day happenings during the session, a complete calendar of the bills and other measures passed, defeated and postponew, and an exhaustive cross-index of all the extensive material concerning the session.

This publication will be ready the latter part of June, it was believed. Two clerks have been working full time on the job, and it is completed except for printing, proofreading and binding.

The session laws, which are the official results of the work of the legislature, are a compendium of the new laws passed by the legislative assembly. They are the new laws of the state, and are added to the large body of existing law, and the constitution.

The preparation of this book is virtually complete, Secretary of State Robert S. Farrell, Jr., said. Ordinarily the new laws are ready for distribution on the date on which most of them become effective, this year June 16.

Suit Delays Printing

However, the issuing of the new law probably will be delayed for about two weeks or more, Farrell said, because of a suit challenging the validity of one of the laws passed and included in the volume.

It is the "local budget law" amendments (HB403) which is in question, and the Oregon Business and Tax Research Inc., of Portland, is bringing the suit to enjoin the inclusion of the bill in the book of laws, claiming it is invalid as it was signed by the governor. The group says a conference committee report was left out of the bill, and it is thus invalidated.

Until the outcome of the suit is made known, Farrell says he will hold up the publication of the book, until about July 1, if all goes well.

Meanwhile debate on the controversial veto power of the big five started in committee with Great Britain holding out hope to the little countries at this conference that the veto power may gradually be abandoned as the world organization grows.

Neither Britain nor any other big five nation has any intention of yielding now to modification of the voting formula for the security council. It was adopted by the big three at Yalta and grants each of the big five nations a veto over virtually nay decision by the security council.

But the little nations have served notice that their acceptance of the voting formula—if necessary—will be only acquiescence.

The long awaited debate on this controversial issue began in the conference committee on security council procedure late yesterday. New Zealand, Australia and The Netherlands led the attack, and British permanent undersecretary of state for foreign affairs, Sir Alexander Cadogan, did the defending.

Munitions Plant Cutbacks Ordered

CHICAGO, May 18 (UP)—War plants making medium and heavy artillery ammunition face new cutbacks, schedule changes and contract terminations, the army has announced.

As a step to concentrate production for a one-front war, most of the firms received immediate cuts of from 33 to 60 per cent of current production and 24 companies received complete cancellations.

The cancellations were at the companies' own requests to speed reconversion, army spokesmen said.

Wife Goes to Jail to Escape Convict

LANSING, Kan., May 18 (UP) —While Kansas and Missouri officers kept a sharp lookout along the flats of the muddy Missouri river today for old Bill Latrasse, murderer and train robber, his divorced wife locked herself in the city jail in Kansas City, Kan., to escape his wrath.

Mrs. Hazel May Latrasse, about 45, who obtained a divorce from Latrasse last winter despite his threat to kill her should he ever escape, went to headquarters and asked to be locked up for safekeeping until he once more was behind the bars at the state prison from which he escaped yesterday.

Truman Welcomes French Aid in Nazi Occupation

WASHINGTON, May 18 (UP) —President Truman today reaffirmed to French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault this country's "complete willingness" to relinquish to France a part of the American zone of occupation in Germany."

At the same time, in a White House conference with Bidault, the president expressed the desire to meet Gen. Charles De Gaulle for a personal discussion of the role France can play in the settlement not only of European but world problems.

The president emphasized to Bidault that this country still faces "a still strong and deadly enemy" in the Far East. He added "that such assistance as France and our other allies may bring to that struggle and which may be synchronized with operations already planned or under way, will be welcomed."

It was announced following the Yalta conference that France would be invited to join in the occupation of Germany by taking over a share of the United States' occupation zone.

Chicago Truckers Continue on Strike

CHICAGO, May 18 (UP)—The executive board of the Chicago truck drivers union told the regional war labor board today that its 6,500 members would continue their strike, which has tied up deliveries of war materiel and food.

Members of the independent union quit work after taking a strike vote when notified of the WLB's refusal to grant a $5 a week increase for a 48-hour week. The board's order provided for an increase of $4.08 for a 51-hour week.

La Grande Soldier Is Given Discharge

Bernard H. Gruis, technician fourth grade, 24, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Gruis, 2713 Alder street, La Grande, was among a group of overseas veterans from Oregon discharged under the war department's demobilization program.

Gruis, who was discharged at Fort Lewis, entered the army January 17, 1942, and served in Africa and Italy.

Artillery Duel Rages on Okinawa

American guns crashed ceaselessly into the lines of struggling infantrymen strung out along the five-mile coast - to - coast battlefront.

Japs Mass Artillery

Japanese artillery was massed on high ground in the rear of Naha, Shuri and Yonabaru. It was powerful enough to return the fire of one of the greatest American land, naval and aerial bombardments in history.

East of Naha, the first marines and two army divisions — the 77th and 96th — attempted to swing the American flank southward. The long-term objective of this drive was occupation of the southern tip of the island.

The 77th, commanded by Maj. Gen. Andrew Bruce, was attacking Shuri while the 96th stormed Yonabaru.

A Tokyo broadcast, referring to the purported U. S. fleet movement out of the Marianas, said "although it is not definitely known whether it is directed toward the Okinawas or not, its activities require a rigid watch."

Additional small American auiliary carriers have arrived off Okinawa, Tokyo said. At least 11 were said to have been spotted around the island yesterday. The number of American land-based aircraft on Okinawa also has been increased, Tokyo said.

Deportation of Bundist Ordered

WASHINGTON, May 18 (UP) — Fritz Kuhn, former leader of the German-American bund, has been ordered deported to Germany as an undesirable alien, the justice department announced today.

Time of Kuhn's departure will depend on arrangements with U. S. military authorities in Germany, it was said. He will be sent to the region under American occupation.

The justice department said Kuhn probably will leave with a shipload of repatriates, including prisoners of war. U. S. army authorities in Germany may take such action as they see fit when Kuhn arrives, the department said.

Immigration authorities based the deportation order on Kuhn's conviction as an alien of a crime involving moral turpitude with five years of his entry into this country.

Hard Coal Strike Is Compromised

WASHINGTON, May 18 (UP) —The hard coal crisis apparently had blown over today as swiftly as it came the night of April 30.

Seventy-two thousand Pennsylvania anthracite miners, on strike since midnight of the day before May day, were expected to be back digging coal on Monday.

Late yesterday, Fuel Administrator Harold Ickes called both parties into his office and repeated his warning that anthracite coal must continue to be mined.

Both miners and operators agreed to Ickes' proposal, which would give the miners $1.37½ a day more than they're getting now. The producers had offered $1.03 and the miners asked $1.79.

The UMW and hard coal producers are meeting again today in Ickes' conference room to agree on final details of the new contract.

Markets

Auto Shares Lead Stock Price Gains

NEW YORK, May 15 (UP)— Automobile shares led a moderately active rise on the stock market today on indications of early return to high production schedules for civilian use in the industry.

Chrysler ran up more than two points and General Motors gained more than a point. Hudson was active but it sagged after an early rise and other low-priced shares moved narrowly.

Common stocks of the utility group were active and steady to firm. The utility average made a new high since April 16, 1937.

Airline issues rose to new highs on gains amounting to two points in American. Rails were steady to firm, steels strong on gains running to a point, and numerous special issues made wide gains.

PORTLAND DAIRY

PORTLAND, May 18 (UP) — Butter stocks were still accumulating on dealers' shelves today owing to low consumer demand, its prices remained unchanged.

Quality eggs were in demand, with less call being given storage rejects and hot-weather eggs. Prices were unchanged.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, May 18 (UP)— Strong cash grain markets and prospects of a cut in the next official crop estimate prompted firmness in grain futures on the board of trade today.

Wheat finished the day unchanged to up ½ cents a bushel; corn unchanged to up ¼; oats up ⅝ to ⅞; rye up ¾ to 1⅛, and barley up 1¼ to 2⅞.

Wheat traders appeared to take a sidelines position awaiting the expiration of May contracts and for weather developments.

Trading in rye was light after the initial spurt forward. May corn prices held to the ceiling most of the session. Barley trade appeared brisker with commission houses again active.

CEILINGS RELAXED

WASHINGTON, May 18 (UP) —Ceiling prices now in effect for the 1944 pack of processed fruits, berries and vegetables will remain in effect until new ceilings are established for the 1945 pack, office of price administration counselled processors today.
