

London Predicts Big Three Parley Before July 4

LONDON, June 8 (UP)—Diplomatic observers speculated today that the Big Three will meet somewhere in Europe or the Middle East between June 18 and July 4.

Some believe President Truman will meet Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin for the first time in Berlin.

Mr. Truman said yesterday the meeting will come during the next 40 days. Diplomats in London suggested it most likely will occur between the end of the San Francisco conference—about June 18—and the British general election July 5.

British politicians contend that Churchill's attendance at a Big Three parley during the election campaign would win votes to the conservative party which he heads. The party would savor the trip as proof of his indispensable role.

WASHINGTON, June 8 (UP)—Presidential envoy Harry L. Hopkins was hurrying home today from what is reported to be a successful mission to Moscow.

In his pocket are believed to be Russian Premier Joseph Stalin's plans for his part in the coming Big Three meeting, and also possibly the outline of methods for settlement of such questions as the Polish dispute and the control of Germany and Austria.

The former "mission to Moscow" man, former ambassador to Russia, Joseph E. Davies, is already back from his latest journey to London. He has presumably already given President Truman Prime Minister Winston Churchill's ideas on outstanding Big Three issues and his approval of parley plans.

Great Rail Fleet Ordered to Move Troops Westward

WASHINGTON, June 8 (UP)—Faced with the greatest transportation crisis in the country's history, the government today put in a rush order for construction of more than 400 troop-carrying railroads and told civilians without important business to stay off trains in the next 10 months.

Preparations were made to take over in the next 30 days about 2,000 Pullman sleepers—half the total—and an undisclosed number of coaches for the mass movement of troops from the east coast to Pacific ports.

This was revealed to the United Press today after President Truman at his press conference yesterday expressed concern over the cross-country transportation job for the Japanese war.

Mr. Truman said the facilities for civilian passengers will be greatly reduced in order to accomplish the tremendous new task.

Increase in "B" Card Gas Rations To Be Restricted

WASHINGTON, June 8 (UP)—Only 3,000,000 out of 8,553,200 B-card holders will be eligible for more gasoline Monday when ceilings rise to 650 miles monthly. A ration goes up a gallon a week for everybody June 22.

The office of price administration said today that only B holders whose essential occupational driving needs exceed current B ceilings for their regions would be granted increases.

"Other, B holders, such as home-to-work drivers," OPA said, "should not apply for any increase."

OPA added that B-6 and C-6 gasoline coupons, which the boards stopped issuing in March, will not be good after June 30. It also said gasoline ration stickers would no longer be required on windshields.

Easy Does It, Is Best Sun Tan Rule

Protect eyes from glare while sun-bathing

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Give yourself two weeks in which to build a tan by brief daily exposure, and the rewards for your patience will be a lovelier skin—sun-drenched color and a skin tolerance that will protect you later on during your unlooked sessions out-of-doors.

For the first two weeks of wooing the sun, no person can call every daily cues on timing, since every skin reacts differently. A safe general rule to follow, however, is to begin with an eight minutes' all-over exposure. Two minutes per side, if you're fair and sensitive; twice that amount if you take more of a tan than a burn. Then gradually step up your exposure to a maximum five minutes per side, per day; 10 minutes, if you're the type who can take it.

Choose Your Spot

Best way to do it up brown is to use a protective sun lotion, cream of oil which—by filtering out harmful rays that burn, and admitting friendlier rays that tan—act as a chemical parasol spread over your skin. A tannic type lotion, said by its makers to be the most popular choice of PX customers in southern theaters of war, is liked by the boys because it is non-greasy on the skin, does a virile job of tanning and minimizes the effects of burning rays.

Put your protective preparation on every inch of exposed skin. Then be choosy about picking your spot in the sun. Experts say you tan quicker near the water or if you settle on any white area—painted porch, sheet stretch of sand—where reflected glare is intensified.

But glare that can hasten a tan can also wreak havoc with your eyes and cause trouble all down the line. So don't go into the sun without the protective shield of dark glasses or pads of cotton made into opaque folds, which block any penetration of light.

Suntime to avoid, if your skin is sensitive all you can hope to acquire is a rosy flush, is that two-hour interval between noon and 2 p.m., when rays are direct overhead and most intense. Best time for you would be during the forenoon when the sun is climbing, or after 3 p.m., when its strength begins to wane.

JOKE BACKFIRES—The prank backfired when Marine Pvt. Anselmo Como, donned a pair of spectacles taken from a dead Jap and grinned a toothy smile on Peleliu island. The marines were taking no chances, so they made him a prisoner, hustled him off to a stockade and kept him caged with real Jap prisoners despite his protests. He got out only when his own captain identified him.

Rails Spark Sharp Wall Street Gains

NEW YORK, June 8 (UP)—Approval by the interstate commerce commission of Allegheny corporation's railroad empire touched off a buying movement in rail shares today that sent the group to a new high for more than eight years. The main list was irregular with a few strong spots.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS . . .

TOM: "It's mighty nice to receive a compliment like you've just given us, Judge. We do take our responsibilities very seriously and try to do the right thing with everybody. In spite of it, we get criticized now and then."

OLD JUDGE: "I know . . . you've got to take the bitter with the sweet in times like these. Speaking of criticism, and I mean really unfair criticism, reminds me of the spirit beverage business."

FRANK: "How is that, Judge?"

OLD JUDGE: "Simply this . . . can you think of any other business in which the seller is responsible for what the buyer does with his merchandise? If a person eats too much cake and gets indigestion, the baker isn't blamed. Nor is the coffee merchant criticized if someone drinks too much coffee and can't sleep. But the seller of spirit beverages gets blamed plenty if one of his customers overindulges. Doesn't seem quite fair, does it, Tom?"

TOM: "Frankly, it doesn't, Judge. We've never looked at it that way before."
