

Pendleton Girl Is Chosen Queen Of Annual Round-Up

PENDLETON, June 19—Skillful horsewoman, and a descendant of Eastern Oregon pioneers, Donna Boylen, 19, has been chosen as queen of the thirty-fourth Pendleton Round-Up Sept. 12, 13, 14, and 15.

Queen Donna was a Round-Up princess last year. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Boylen of Pendleton, her father, a prominent rancher, being arena director of the Round-Up, in which he has been active since boyhood days. He is also vice-president of the Rodeo association of America. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Thomas Boylen, sr. of Pendleton, and the late Mr. Boylen, for many years timer at the show, and of the late Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Morrison.

The queen, native of Pendleton, has completed her first year at the University of Oregon where she is a member of Gamma Phi Beta. She is a real "ranch girl"; last year she acted as roustabout on the ranch of her uncle, Lester King, who is also a Round-Up director. The previous year, she and Mrs. King did all the cooking for a crew of 15 men.

Queen Donna will head all Round-Up parades and also appear in the arena at the Round-Up, and with her will be a court of four princesses.

Traffic Officer Gives Aid to Stork In Baby Delivery

PORTLAND, Ore., June 19 (UP)—Traffic patrolmen come in handy for more things than just delivering tickets to unsuspecting motorists.

Traffic Patrolman Frank Pratt, for instance, claimed the unique distinction today, of helping deliver a boy born yesterday to Mrs. Alice Steele, of Portland.

Perplexed at just what to do, the birth well under way, Pratt placed a hurried call to his wife for advice before proceeding through the ordeal without further trouble. An ambulance took the baby and mother to a local sanitarium.

Pratt rode home on his motorcycle—unassisted.

Marion Elizabeth Nelson to Become Bride of Robert Emmett Jordan Today

The wedding service of Miss Marion Elizabeth Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August P. Nelson, 508 N. avenue, to Robert Emmett Jordan, son of Mrs. Marjorie V. Jordan of Seattle, will be read at 8 o'clock this afternoon in Our Lady of the Valley Catholic church.

The double ring ceremony will be performed by Father John Baumgartner before the altar decorated with pink and white gladioli and carnations.

The bride will be given in marriage by her father. She chose for her wedding costume a floor length ensemble of white chiffon velvet, with which she will wear a full length veil, which was worn by her oldest sister, Mrs. Arthur V. Murray. It will be clasped with a tiara of orange blossoms. She will carry a white prayer book with stephanotis in the ribbon streamers. She plans to wear a pearl necklace which was presented to her mother on her 36th wedding anniversary, and will carry a white hand woven lace handkerchief sent to her grandmother from the Philippines in 1898.

The bride and her father will approach the altar to the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin, played on the organ by Mrs. E. P. Schrock, who will also play Mendelssohn's wedding march as the recessional. Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Schrock, accompanied by Mrs. Atha Taylor, will present a vocal solo, "Ave Maria."

Miss Nelson will be attended by Mrs. Mae Alrick, matron of honor, who will be formally attired in pink taffeta, and Kathleen Rose Murray, a niece, who will be the junior bridesmaid. Her costume will be a smoke blue chiffon formal. Both will wear white halo bonnets and carry muffs of gardenias and rosebuds.

The groomsmen will be Donald Phillips, and William Page and S. S. Dalby will be ushers.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson will entertain at a reception at 7 o'clock this evening in their home. Mrs. Ray Prescott, sister of the bride-to-be, baked the wedding cake which is surmounted by two doves with wedding rings in their beaks. This decoration adorned Mrs. Nelson's 25th wedding anniversary cake and the wedding cake and groom cut the first piece of the cake, Mrs. Murray will preside.

Mrs. Prescott and Mrs. E. W. Keeler will officiate at the urns, and Miss Annetta Johnson will cut the ices. Miss Helen Smith, Miss Ava Harper and Mrs. Dora Morton will assist. Miss Marguerite Zweifel will be in charge of the guest book. Mrs. Frank Winburn will be in charge of the gifts which will be displayed on a lace spread table in the alcove of the living room.

Music will be provided by Paul Knautz, whose vocal solos will be accompanied by Mrs. Knautz, and by Mrs. Schrock, accompanied by Mrs. Taylor.

Baskets of gladioli, roses and honeysuckle, decorate the Nelson home for tonight's event. The bride has selected for her going away costume a brown and gold redingote ensemble with matching accessories. The couple will take a wedding trip to Seattle and other coast points, returning to La Grande in 10 days. After July 1 they will be at home at 1809 Fourth street.

Out of town guests include Mrs. Mary Horstman, Portland, Mrs.

Murray and her children, Kathleen Rose and James August Murray of Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Burnett of Portland and their two sons, Golden and Martin.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Prescott were host and hostess at their home at a breakfast this morning for the family and their friends from Portland.

The Twelve Ace pinochle club met last evening in the home of Mrs. J. A. Fehr, with Mrs. Irvin Hungerford as co-hostess. At the close of the games refreshments were served.

High score prize was won by Mrs. E. E. Swiger, who also had 1000 aces. Low score went to Mrs. C. L. Roe, and the floating prize to Mrs. H. A. Dotson.

The next party will be at the home of Mrs. C. E. Hammond, with Mrs. Roe as the assisting hostess.

A new Girl Scout troop has been organized by the women of Our Lady of the Valley Catholic church. Miss Velma Athanas is the troop leader.

On the troop committee are Mrs. John Hart, chairman, Mrs. Charles Reynolds, Mrs. O. P. Weigel, Mrs. Joseph Grant and Mrs. Arnold Gerber.

Give Yourself This Easy Pedicure And Put Toes in Pink for Summer

Use protective coat to keep sand from marring polish.

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Togged out in shining red coats, less-than-pretty toes can masquerade as beauties this summer, but before camouflage, some ground work needs to be done. Using scissors or clippers on toes is ill-advised because cut or nicked skin provides easy entry for germs and cause serious infection.

Straight Across

So, for toe-tailoring, whisk your file straight across nails, preserving enough length to protect flesh—the idea being that corners which stock out can't turn in to cause trouble. If nail surfaces are rough or ridged, use the face of your file on these and bevel smooth.

Tough cuticle? As hard as it is for the home pedicurist to cope with, it can be pushed back and dead tissue can be shredded off if you'll first soap, soak and scrub with a brush. Then sop with a cuticle remover, preferably of the oily type, before you gently probe with the flat end of your cotton-hooded orange stick.

When this groundwork is all finished, you're ready to polish. In choosing your shade, remember that a bright young red makes one of the best decoys to flag attention away from foot faults that you want to pass unnoticed.

Protective Coat

Before applying polish, lodge cotton rolls between toes of foot that you're going to tackle to keep them spread fan-wise until polish dries. While nail coat is wet is the time to clean up any color that strays onto flesh. If feet are going to scuffle around in sand or salt water, you'll find that a colorless overcoat of protective polish will help to safeguard the luster of the red jackets underneath.

Henry Bennetts Are Parents of Girl

The great grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Arch Conley of Cove avenue and A. C. Glen of Summerville.

Henry Bennett is a chief signalman in the navy and has had active submarine duty in the Pacific area. He is now an instructor at the submarine base at Pearl Harbor.
