Wounded 85 Times—Capt. Dixie Keifer, USN, Kansas City, (since elevated to commodore) is raised through torpedo hatch on stretcher from Ticonderoga, Essex-class carrier, now back in service after surviving blistering kamikaze attack off Formosa Jan. 21. Captain Keifer, wounded 85 times in the attack, then walked to sick bay until transfer.

They had previously planned a mill of 100,000-foot daily cut, but being advised a smaller mill of 25,000-foot capacity to harvest the timber of that area of the Grande Ronde valley on the basis of a tree farm sustained cut. When road conditions are improved some of the lumber will be hauled to Lewiston mills. Troy is in the northeastern corner of Wallowa county.

Dealers Return From Meetings

The new Dodge cars, which are being engineered for production later this year, will have many important improvements and new features to give them new beauty and distinction along with their traditional economy and historic dependability. However, Dodge is ever mindful that its main job still is war production.

Every new model season for 30 years the auto industry has asked significantly, "What's Dodge going to do?" These are some of the answers brought home from the recent Dodge-Plymouth dealer meeting by La Grande dealers.

"Dodge is also busy on limited production of Dodge job-rated trucks for civilians," Ed Quinn assistant sales manager, said. "And to the extent that we can do so without letting down on full support of the war program, this division will get into production of new passenger cars as early as possible."
