

Kiss and Tell

by F. HUGH MERRITT
An Actual Movie Shooting Script

THE STORY: After the Archer family goes to the movies, Raymond and Mildred come around. Mildred says she has to see Cor- has even if her mother did forbid it. While Raymond is talking to Louise the door bell rings. It is Lenny, Louise's brother, home unexpectedly on leave. He and Mildred are evidently in love and do their best to get rid of Raymond.

ARCHER PORCH CLOSE SHOT—LENNY AND MILDRED

They wait a second cautiously and then, satisfied that they are alone, they finally run into each other's arms.

MILDRED: (rapturously) Lenny! Oh, Lenny! How marvelous!

LENNY: (his arms still around her) Hello, sweet. Miss me?

MILDRED: (babbling excitedly) Darling, I didn't think you'd be home for days!

They kiss again. They're obviously very much in love.

MILDRED: Look at me—in this old rag. Why didn't Raymond say you were here? Where's Louise?

LENNY: They all went to a show. Missed 'em by a couple of minutes.

He starts to kiss her again.

MILDRED: (cautiously) Let's go into the garden, huh?

LENNY: Good idea.

Hand in hand, they hurry through the screen door into the garden.

INT. KITCHEN
Louise is bustling around fixing a snack for Lenny. Raymond is at the keyhole of the door leading to the porch. He turns away, bored.

RAYMOND: They've gone out into the garden. Probably to neck. I think necking's dumb.

LOUISE: (amused) You'll think differently when you're a little older.

Raymond blandly helps himself to some of the cookies being prepared by Louise.

He'll be in presently.

EXT. GARDEN CLOSE SHOT—LENNY AND MILDRED
Again they are just coming out of a clinch.

LENNY: (urgently) Will you, Mildred? Oh, Lenny darling, I'd love to more than anything, but—

LENNY: Stop worrying. If you like, we'll keep it a secret from both our parents until the whole silly row's forgotten. (imploringly) Will you, Mildred?

MILDRED: But, Lenny darling—this awful row—

LENNY: (brushing it off—indulgently) Okay—so you both sold kisses! That isn't so awful. (puzzled smile) You know—I simply can't get over the fact that men would actually pay good money to kiss my kid sister. Did she really sell more than you did—at a dollar?

MILDRED: Yes, but she was letting them have the second one for 50 cents.

As they both laugh, he kisses her again.

EXT. PORCH SHOOTING INTO GARDEN
Raymond is in the foreground, his back to the camera, peering out into the garden. In the background we can just discern Lenny and Mildred. Raymond shakes his head slowly and then turns his head around into the camera.

RAYMOND: (wonderingly) Maybe it's because I'm her brother, Louise, but I don't know what he sees in that girl.

EXT. GARDEN CLOSE SHOT MILDRED AND LENNY
She has evidently agreed to marry him, and they are both ecstatically happy.

LENNY: (confidential whisper) I'll pick you up at the crack of dawn—and we'll be across the state line and married before breakfast (brief pause) Okay?

MILDRED: (happily) Sold.

They go into a final clinch.

Crochet Apron

5014

By MRS. ANNE CABOT

They're the newest of the new—and as pretty hostess aprons as you'll be able to find. The one illustrated is a beauty! The border of the bib and the hem are handsomely done in big light roses and leaves. The rest of the apron, including strap and ties is crocheted in plain flat mesh. Make it in white cotton for the prettiest effect.

To obtain complete crocheting instructions for the rose flat apron (pattern No. 5014) send 15 cents in coin, plus 1 cent postage, your name, address and the pattern number to Anne Cabot, 709 Mission St., San Francisco, Calif.
