THE LA GRANDE EVENING OBSERVER
WILL NEED CARRIERS AVAILABLE SEPT. FIRST

For Autumn and Winter carrying we require boys and girls of seventh and eighth grade ages and older.

We then require carriers capable of scheduling and maintaining required school work. We will need boy and girls whose homes co-operate in the supervision and direction of their time.

This requires above-average boys and girls preparing themselves for a post-war world in which they recognize there may only be opportunity for the ablest in private industry. It requires boys and girls of the sort who may earn much of their own way through college. We prefer boys and girls who, in addition to performing their school and home duties and administering an evening newspaper route successfully, recognize the advantages of the Sunday school and of scouting or other character-building organizations or programs.

We believe the finest generation of youth ever reared in America are growing into manhood today and we seek those who aspire to be leaders of that group when they reach maturity.

Evolution -- Not Revolution, Is Attlee's Goal as Premier

The following article was written by Milton Bronner, veteran foreign correspondent and former European manager of NEA Service, who watched Prime Minister Clement Attlee's slow but sure rise from his early Limehouse years to the political heights.

By MILTON BRONNER (Written for NEA Service).
Clement Attlee might be called the Truman of the British political upheaval. Just as Truman got the Democratic nomination for vice-president as the result of bitter rivalry between Byrnes and Wallace adherents, so Attlee became the titular leader of the labor party because of the bitter rivalry between Ernest Bevin and Herbert Morrison.

Just as Truman has Wallace and Byrnes in his cabinet, so Attlee has Bevin and Morrison in his administration.

While the bulk of the labor party organization and much of its voting strength comes from the actual laboring class in recent years, there has always been a considerable high brow element which genuinely believes in socialist doctrines. Attlee is one of that category, being one of the few leaders who has enjoyed a university education.

He was graduated from Oxford university, taking class honors in modern history. Afterwards he was called to the bar in the famous Inner Temple. Soon he became a lecturer on social science in the London School of Economics. Entering politics, he chose to run in the Limehouse district of London's crowded East End, a typical working class area, many of whose residents are dock workers. Chosen in 1922 a member of the house of commons, he has been so popular with critical constituents that he has been re-elected ever since. In addition he was elected to two terms as Mayor of Stepney, a typical working class borough of greater London.

As speaker in the house of commons, Attlee had none of the pugnacity of Bevin nor the fire of Morrison. Both men are great stump speakers, as are so many parliamentary labor leaders, having fought their way up in labor union politics.

Attlee is rather on the dry side, but with the gift of solid exposition of labor's viewpoint. He has none of the romantic glamor that was attached to Ramsay MacDonald, first labor premier, with his tall figure, handsome gray thatched head and delightful Scotch burr. Attlee is of medium height, balding, with a dark mustache touched with early gray.

As premier he will have in his cabinet many labor leaders, all of whom are prima donnas. They will now have to change, put into effect their oft proclaimed policy of gradual evolution rather than revolution.

They may have a harder time with Stalin than did Churchill. The labor party has consistently refused all efforts of the small British communist party to form a so-called popular front such as was at one time effected in other European countries. At each labor party convention the communists were always rejected by an enormous vote.

Attlee will have vividly in mind what happened in one of MacDonald's terms in office. Just before the parliamentary election the opposition sprung a letter said to have been written by Zinovieff, Bolshevik leader. The labor opposition charged this letter compromised the laborites, resulting in their defeat.

If Attlee has a clear majority in commons and seeks to put into law some of the party's declarations on national ownership of various properties, it will result in one of the bitterest fights of modern times. The house of lords will only be able to delay it for some time, or until new parliamentary elections are held. There will be no trouble from King George who, as constitutional monarch, makes no attempt at veto.

NEW ZEALAND HOUSE Approves Charter
WELLINGTON, N. Z., Aug. 7 (UP)—The New Zealand house of representatives unanimously approved ratification of the united nations charter tonight after full debate. Premier Peter Fraser emphasized parliament will be consulted before the government enters into any military commitments.

Some Shot
The 105-mm. howitzer of the United States army can hurl a 35-pound projectile about seven miles. The howitzer weighs it slightly more than two tons.

NEW GERMAN BORDERS—Redivision of Germany: Poland is given "temporarily" all territory west of her pre-war borders, up to Oder and Weisse rivers; important port of Swinemunde, also Danzig and slice of East Prussia; northern part of East Prussia, including Konigsberg, will go to Russia, until peace conference. Lithuania is also claimed by Soviets.

San Francisco youngsters who sought Clement R. Attlee's autograph during the recent conference never realized he would soon be prime minister of Great Britain.

Atom Bomb Cuts War Stock Prices

NEW YORK, Aug. 7 (UP)—The stock market was unsettled today by a new "short war" scare touched off by reports Japan had been given 48 hours in which to surrender or be annihilated.

The list lost one to more than two points in accelerated trading, with the widest losses noted in such "war baby" groups as the rails, motors and steel shares.

Japanese propagandist said that the use of the new weapon was "sufficient to brand the enemy for ages to come as the destroyer of... mankind" and "public enemy number one of social justice."

An investigation was under way into the extent of the destruction in the world's first atomic bombing, Tokyo said. First reports showed that a "considerable number" of houses had been demolished and fires broke out at several places, the broadcast added.

Pittsburgh Fears New Steel Centers

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 7 (UP)—This city, long the kingpin of American steel production, may lose its top position to war-born western steel mills, Ernest T. Weir, chairman of National Steel corporation, warned today.

Former president of the American Iron and Steel Institute protested "favoritism" shown western industry by government and freight rates.

Weir said steel plants east as well as west of Pittsburgh have a freight rate advantage. Eastern plants spend less to ship their products into the Baltimore, Philadelphia, and New York markets, he alleged.

Cascara Bark Hits New Record Price

PORTLAND, Aug. 7 (UP)—Chittim or cascara bark reached an all-time high here today when the price went up to 30 cents a pound.

The bark, in record demand for medical purposes, is not being supplied in adequate quantities, according to Harold G. Russell of Pacific Coast Cascara Bark company.

Normal peel of cascara bark is around 4,000,000 pounds. The 1944 peel for the Pacific northwest, only place in the world where it is produced, was around 2,000,000 pounds and the current crop is expected to be a third less than in 1944.

IMPORTED INDUSTRY
Sweden built up its great safety match industry on imported products. The wood for the match body and the potassium chlorate for the tip were brought in from other countries.

A shoe shine parlor of fashionable Park avenue, New York City, featured bootblacks in formal evening attire.

Control of Atom Energy May Be 'Sufficient'

intends for the government to maintain control over it.

"I shall recommend the congress consider promptly the establishment of an appropriate commission to control the production and use of atomic power within the United States," he said.

All patents bearing on the processes are held by the government. Continued research probably will be financed by the government—which has put $2,000,000,000 into development of the atomic bomb.

CROSBY FOUNDATION HELPED START WORK
HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 7 (UP)—A pea-size amount of atomic energy, detonated in desert country near here, blasted a hole in which a large size house could be dropped, according to an official of Crosby's research foundation, which did early research on the atomic bomb.

"An inventor who was working on the atomic problem came to us for help about three years ago," Larry Crosby, general manager of the Bing Crosby enterprises, which includes the research foundation, revealed today.

The foundation worked for six months on the project before the government took it over about two and a half years ago, Crosby said. The foundation worked with the California institute of technology, which has an atom smasher.
