Markets

Steel, Rails Take Market Beating

NEW YORK, Aug. 13 (UP)—Stocks dropped fractions more than 2 points today with steel and railroad shares under heaviest pressure.

Selling was interpreted in Wall street as the reaction of disappointed bulls, who had acquired large holdings last week on the sudden rush of dramatic Pacific war developments and then held onto them in the face of Friday's sharp reaction.

Wheat Recovers But Not Enough

CHICAGO, Aug. 13 (UP)—While grain circles awaited Japan's reply futures declined in nervous dealings on the board of trade today. Trading was active but confined mostly to commercial interests.

Wheat recovered about one cent from the day's lows but failed to reach the previous level. The commodity credit corp., buying of cash wheat at Kansas City followed heavy business last week and contributed to better sentiment in this pit.

Dairies Take More Milk, Less Cream

PORTLAND, Aug. 13 (UP)—Oregon plants licensed for manufacture of dairy products received more butterfat and whole milk but less cream in 1944 than in 1943, the department of agricultural economics said today.

A decrease in cream offset the whole milk increase but reflected the trend of recent years toward sale of whole milk, the department report said. Butter production decreased 9 percent and American cheese increased 11 percent. A production of evaporated milk went up 25 percent.

Uranium Deposits Located in Oregon

PORTLAND, Aug. 13 (UP)—Deposits of uranium, the basis of the atomic bomb, have been found in Oregon, according to Archie H. Smith, manager of the fluorescent department of Smith's agate shop. Smith said the deposits exist along the Deschutes river and in the Mutton mountain range in the Warm springs Indian reservation.

Silver Used to Replace Copper

OAK RIDGE, Tenn., Aug. 13 (UP)—Another secret was permitted to seep out of the super-secret atomic bomb plant here today. The war department revealed 1,000,000 pounds of silver was borrowed from the U. S. treasury for use in thousands of electro-magnets. The silver, used as a substitute for scrape copper, may still find itself in some future issue of new dimes.

Full Employment 'First Business'

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13 (UP)—Alben W. Barkley said today the "human element" of reconversion will be the first order of business when congress reconvenes.

He said full employment legislation and adequate benefits for the temporary jobless will top the five-point program for which congress is being called back Sept. 5. "Those are the two most urgent matters awaiting our attention," Barkley said in an interview. "The others—government reorganization, surplus property disposal and continuing the war agencies—are important but less urgent to the human elements of reconversion."

Barkley said there is bound to be some unemployment as industry shifts from war to peace production. He said congress couldn't cure that by any legislation.

'OH GIVE ME A HORSE'—A saddle fit for an admiral who intends to ride down Tokyo's main street on Shirayuki, the Mikado's famous white horse, has been prepared in Reno, Nev., for Admiral William F. Halsey. Decorated with 110 pieces of Nevada silver, and intricately tooled by saddle-makers, the outfit, pictured above, is valued at $2000. It will be flown to the Pacific by naval air transport. Inset shows Shirayuki, with Hirohito up.

Police Will Probe Death of Soldier, 3 Children in Fire

PORTLAND, Aug. 13 (UP)—Police detectives today were awaiting action of army officials in the deaths of Pvt. Carl J. Graham, 35-year-old soldier home on leave, and his three children.

It was expected an inquest into the father's death would determine further action. The four bodies were found Saturday morning in the charred ruins of their home. Police discovered two notes indicating the possibility of suicide and one note which appeared to be, in rough form, a will.

When questioned by detectives Mrs. Graham said she and her husband had visited a Portland night club Friday night, and had quarreled. She spent the remainder of the night at a friend's home.

Police also questioned an acquaintance, Sol Sigman Shapiro, after they found a man's clothing containing letters and papers addressed to Shapiro in the Graham home.

Every time your heart beats

- 1 Every time your heart beats America uses 837 gallons of gasoline. That's 62,785 gallons per minute, 33 billion gallons per year. Gasoline in that quantity—enough to make a small river—can't be stored to any extent. It has to flow.
2 That means the stream must be kept moving constantly—from oil wells to refinery to substation to service station to you. This takes tank ships, tank cars and trucks. But most important of all, it takes pipe lines—thousands of miles of them.
3 Now these pipe lines cost money. At Union Oil, for example, we have 1100 miles of line through which we pump more than 7 million gallons of gasoline and oil every day. These lines with their 35 pumping stations and dozens of storage tanks cost $20,800,000 to install.
4 If Union Oil had been owned by, say, two men, this system would have cost them $10,400,000 apiece. But since the company is owned by 32,227 people the cost averaged just $645 per stockholder-owner. In this principle of multiple ownership you have one secret of America's industrial might.
5 If our heavy industries had to be financed by the few people who could put up $10,000,000, progress would be pretty slow. But by pooling the money and the talents of a lot of people we've been able to accomplish tasks collectively that we could never have handled alone.
6 Of course, these big jobs could have been financed by assessing all the people through government ownership. But we Americans do it under voluntary legal agreements known as corporations. For in that way we can preserve the efficiency of a free economy, freedom of the individual and that all-important human incentive—competition.
