THEIR HOPES RISE—Japan's offer of surrender brought a surge of joy to families all over the country whose relatives have been held prisoner by the enemy. Chart above shows U. S. civilian and military personnel held by Japs and the number of United Kingdom and British colonial internees.

JAP OFFICER LEADS MARINE AIR ATTACK TO COMRADES' HIDEOUT — Now you've seen everything. Second Lt. Minoru Wada, Japanese army transport officer captured after leading an animal-like hideout in the Philippines, volunteered to guide marine planes to the long-sought hideout of headquarters of the 100th Jap army division still fighting there. Seated in a Billy Mitchell bomber, he watches stick of fragmentation bombs pour on headquarters to which he had guided marine planes. Throughout the attack he made no display of emotion.
