

OUR MEN IN SERVICE

Of interest to friends in La Grande is news of Cmdr. Forrest Ivanhoe, supply officer in the U. S. navy stationed at U. S. naval air station, Lakehurst, N. J.

Commander Ivanhoe entered the navy about 1908 or 1910, and prior to that time was a resident of La Grande where he was deputy county clerk and county clerk and known to his many associates as "Bones" Ivanhoe.

Commander Ivanhoe is now senior supply officer. Not only does the NASC issue airship parts and equipment and special LTA material to air ship stations everywhere, but the supply and accounting offices must see to the purchase, accounting, receiving and shipping of such materials, valued in the millions.

More than 25,000 separate items are carried in stock at Lakehurst, and their in and out tonnage into the thousands, lighter-than-air helium included.

Commander Ivanhoe's son, Richard, is now a junior at Granby high school in Norfolk, Va. Sixteen-year-old Ivanhoe played end on the school's unbeaten team last year, and was selected on all-Foreman Field, all-Tide-water and all-Virginia high school teams. He is six feet two and weighs 175, and had the distinction of playing on the team that broke the national high school record last year, scoring 384 points in 11 games.

S/Sgt. Robert McClay son of Mrs. Harry McClay, and the late Harry McClay, will leave tonight for Fort Lewis from where he will go to Sioux Falls, S. D., for reassignment after a 30-day leave here. He completed 20 months over seas duty with

Portland Holds Three Game Lead Over Rainiers

By United Press
Portland brought out its siege batterers in San Diego Tuesday night and when the blasting was over the Beavers had scored a 13-1 victory over the Padres and protected their three-game lead over Seattle in the Pacific Coast baseball league standings.

The Rainiers encountered a stubborn Sacramento team, but a walk to shortstop Bill Lyman in the sixth with the bases loaded paved the way for a 5-1 triumph over the Solons. Oakland ran roughshod over Hollywood, 8-2, San Francisco and Los Angeles did not play.

Jake Mooty hurled for the Beavers and he held San Diego to five scattered blows. In handling Bob Ferguson, starting Padre hurler, his 18th setback of the season, Portland collected seven runs, including Ted Gullie's home run with one aboard in the fifth. Their remaining runs were scored against rookie Bill Morales.

The Rainier-Solon game was a pitchers battle between farmer Hal Turpin and Joe Wood, Jr., for eight innings even though Seattle broke a 1-1 tie in the sixth. The Suds raked Wood for three runs in the ninth to insure Turpin of his 20th victory of the season.

Oregon Boy Star In East-West Baseball Game

By JOE CUSTER
NEW YORK, Aug. 29 (UP)—Eastern kids kept their baseball record clean in the all-America boys game today mainly because Pitcher Curtis Simmons delivered with the bat after failing on the mound.

The east beat the west, 5 to 4, with a three run last ditch rally in the ninth inning sparked by Simmons' triple, the longest hit of the night before 15,000 fans at the polo grounds.

George Fisher of Syracuse, Utah, who took over the west pitching chores in the seventh was the loser. The winning pitcher was Bill Glane of Detroit, who pitched the last two innings.

Hitting star was Harold McKee, from Woodburn, Ore., who played the whole game in left field, got two singles, drove in the first run for the west, and nabbed a stolen base as well.

Don Hutson Will Play Last Game Against All-Stars

CHICAGO, Aug. 29 (UP)—Don Hutson, the spindle-legged Arkansas farm boy who became football's greatest end, bids farewell to the game that made him famous tomorrow night when the Green Bay Packers meet the college all-stars in the 12th annual all-star grid game.

Some 90,000 fans are expected to jam soldier field to view the colorful spectacle and to watch Hutson, still fleet and elusive at 32, play his final game.

The skinny speedster with the over-sized hands and breakaway stride has announced his retirement annually since 1942, but this time he means it. After 10 pro football campaigns with the Packers, he knows that his slender legs can't stand many more knocks and he wants to quit before it is too late.

He has served as an assistant to head coach Curly Lambeau for the past two seasons and he plans to continue in that capacity during the grid season and operate his Green Bay, Wis., bowling emporium the rest of the year.

Tigers Beat Browns; Cubs Hold to Lead

By CARL LUNDQUIST
NEW YORK, Aug. 29 (UP)—In 1944 the Browns won the American league pennant because they could whip the Tigers; in 1945 the banner may go to the Tigers because they can beat the Browns.

Maybe it is revenge that motivates the Tigers, but so far this season they have done better against the Browns than any other club in the league. They won their 13th game in 17 starts with the Browns last night and they did it easily, Hal Newhouser pitching his 21st triumph at St. Louis. Last year St. Louis won 13 of 22 games with Detroit.

It was an important game for Detroit to win, coming after three straight losses to the nondescript Indians. Moreover, it cooled off the Browns who had swept back into the pennant picture with 19 victories in 24 games.

Newhouser got off to a 3 to 0 lead in the first inning on Roy Cullenbine's three run homer. In the third inning Hank Greenberg and Bob Maier made it 7 to 0 with a pair of two-run round trip wallops.

The victory kept Detroit a game and a half ahead of Washington which put on a late drive to top the last place Athletics at Philadelphia, 6 to 5. Rick Ferrell won the game in the ninth with his first homer of the year.

The rapidly rejuvenating Yankees won their fifth straight game to stay in contention, beating Boston at New York, 8 to 7. Johnny Lazor, Eddie Lake and Lamar Newsome hit round trippers for the Red Sox to account for five runs.

Bobby Feller won his second straight game since leaving the Tigers, coasting to an 8 to 2 vic-

By JACK CUDDY

BERLIN, Aug. 29 (UP)—The Red army of Russia, which has concentrated on mass athletic spectacles plus soccer, now is preparing to take up track and field sports and may compete in the next Olympics, according to Col. Alexei Elizarov, chief of the soviet "politbureau" here.

His job is comparable to that of chief of public relations. Elizarov is an important and respected official in the allied districts of Berlin as well as in the Russian, where this reporter had to obtain two passes in order to meet him on the third floor of the large, gray Russian "kommandatura" building in the devastated downtown area. Entering a big room, simply but impressively furnished and with dark-blue curtains over the French windows, there could immediately be seen at the far end a large picture of Josef Stalin. Elizarov sat underneath it at a large table covered with blue cloth.

This man, nearly six feet tall and well-built, rose wooden-faced as this reporter entered, accompanied by an interpreter, Sgt. Israel Idelsohn of Detroit. Elizarov wore a khaki uniform with red and gold epaulets and three stars. The interpreter explained the nature of the visit and Elizarov suddenly smiled and said "sports." Whereupon he motioned us to seats and began a genial conversation through the interpreter.

I explained that the people of the United States knew little about Russian sports and consequently wondered whether the Russians would compete, for the first time, in the Olympics.

"I have not been home for so long that I have an indefinite knowledge regarding the Olympics," Elizarov said. "However, I do know that the army is preparing to take up track and field in which it is arranging to compete with the Americans, British and French in the Olympic stadium here next September.

"It is my purely personal opinion that Russia will compete in the next Olympics if meanwhile our athletes demonstrate ability to make fair showings, overcoming our lack of previous experience."

Snead, Nelson Even With Par Over Oakmont

OAKMONT, Pa., Aug. 29 (UP)—Byron Nelson and Sammy Snead were out to break par today over the super-tough 7,100-yard Oakmont golf course—a feat that no golfer has been able to accomplish in 72-hole tournament play in the club's 42-year history.

Both were at even par of 144 at the half-way mark of the two-day $10,000 war bond "blue ribbon" tournament. The other two entrants, Harold McSpaden and Gene Sarazen fell by the wayside.

Nelson and Snead put on a brilliant duel yesterday, playing the second 18 holes in sub-par after finishing the morning round above regulation figures.

Nelson put on the pressure in the last nine holes to pull up even with Snead, erasing a four stroke lead. Nelson's last nine shooting gave him a two-under par 70 to add to his morning round of 74.

Snead took a 73 in the morning and a 71 in the afternoon. McSpaden had a 36-hole total of 155 and Sarzen's was 158.

What Every Woman Ought to Know...

about her Family's Winter Food Supply!
(And how to make sure of plenty... of the best!) Here are a few questions and answers that will be of interest to every homemaker in Oregon and Washington.

- QUESTION: First of all, will there be more—or less—commercially canned food available for civilians this winter?
ANSWER: Less. In fact, it has been estimated by the War Food Administration that there will be less than last year.
- QUESTION: Did the ending of the war, in Europe ease the food situation?
ANSWER: No. The armed forces still need more than ever before. Remember, they must have food that can be shipped and won't spoil.
- QUESTION: What happens to us civilians? Where will we get all the canned vegetables and fruits we need this winter?
ANSWER: Home canning will have to supply most of them.
- QUESTION: Isn't it being optimistic to expect home canners to supply so much food?
ANSWER: Not if you know American women! Last year half the canned vegetables and two-thirds of the canned fruits that civilians ate were home canned.
- QUESTION: It's all very well to want to can—but isn't it a rather tough proposition for the average woman to undertake?
ANSWER: It's actually easier than you think! And this year, canning equipment will be more plentiful.
- QUESTION: Will there be enough pressure canners?
ANSWER: There have been more pressure canners manufactured this year, and they aren't rationed.
- QUESTION: Suppose I can't buy a pressure canner—or even borrow one?
ANSWER: Your local newspaper may be able to direct you to a community canning center.
- QUESTION: The $64 question: Sugar?
ANSWER: Your local War Price and Rationing board will allow extra sugar needed for canning up to 10 pounds per person. And remember, home economics experts from the staffs of national women's magazines and city newspapers stand ready to help with special sugar-saving canning recipes. Consult them for this extra wartime help!
- QUESTION: Say, it does look as if home canning might be more important this year. But what do I can?
ANSWER: The excess from your Victory Garden. Or fresh vegetables and fruits in season. Northwest crops—with a few minor exceptions—are bountiful this year! (Can all you can—nutrition standards call for at least four and, if possible, six to seven servings of fruits and vegetables every day.)
- QUESTION: All right, you've definitely interested me in home canning. But... I'm not quite up on my canning technique. What do I do?
ANSWER: Easy! City, state and federal agencies are standing by to help you. Women's pages of your local newspapers will prove a tremendous help throughout the canning season. The Home Economics department of your state agricultural college will dispense the latest tested procedures. And the U. S. Department of Agriculture will be glad to send you numerous helpful bulletins! Your bookstores can supply you easy-to-read volumes of canning... or you can read the same information at the nearest public library.

It's Smart to Can All You Can!
