Age of Man Against Letting Couple Adopt Foundling

SEATTLE, Sept. 21 (UP)—Fred Kuhn's age of 55 years appeared today to be a possible bar to the formal adoption of a two-week-old foundling left in the wood-box of the Kuhn home Wednesday night after his 30-year-old wife of nine months appealed publicly for a child.

Superior Judge John A. Frater said informally social and adoption agencies "generally feel a man as old as Mr. Kuhn—old enough to be a grandfather—is too elderly to adopt a child." He said it might be doubtful a man of that age could provide sufficient security and pointed out Kuhn will be 70 when the child is 15. The Kuhns nevertheless were determined to keep the child, temporarily named Anne Lorraine, and said they would press for legal adoption.

Oregon Hatchery Output Set High

PORTLAND, Sept. 21 (UP)—Oregon's August hatchery production totaling 320,000 chicks was the second highest recorded for the month, the Portland office of the bureau of agricultural economics reported today. The 1945 mark, 280,000 above the 1944 record, indicates a trend toward increased production of broilers and fryers, according to the report.

THE STORY OF THE ATOM

(1) A few nearby newspapers carried the story of the strange flash of light in New Mexico; no radio station carried it, so the thing must have been just somebody's imagination after all. Then on August 6, the whole secret was let out when President Truman released report of the atomic bombing of Hiroshima. This was the first practical test ever made of the enormous power stored in the atom.

(2) The atomic bomb had been placed on top of a 100-foot steel tower in a desert area near the Alamogordo Army Air base, 120 miles southeast of Albuquerque, New Mexico. Scientists, engineers, servicemen and other workers had brought equipment to the tower in the dead of night, about four nights previous.

(3) Wires were strung to control points located 10,000 to 17,000 yards from the tower. It was after midnight

July 16, and on hand were scientists and army men who had participated in the project—Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer, in charge of the test; Maj. Gen. Leslie R. Groves, director of the project; Dr. Vannevar Bush, head of the Office of Research and Development, and others.

(4) The setting was suited to the drama. The sky was overcast. There was occasional lightning, thunder and rainfall. The unsettled weather had delayed the experiment to 5:30 a.m. As the appointed hour approached, the radio loudspeakers started broadcasting the time signals, "minus 15 minutes, minus 10 minutes, minus . . ." came the loudspeaker's voice. The robot mechanism to set off the bomb was turned on. The whole experiment was out of human power to stop.

By HUGH BAILLIE
(World Copyright, 1945
By United Press)

TOKYO, Sept. 21 (UP)—Japan will never again become a world power, Gen. Douglas MacArthur said today.

"Japan industrially, commercially, militarily and every other way is in a state of complete collapse," MacArthur declared. "Her food supplies are scarce and she faces conditions in this emergency that may well become catastrophic. Her punishment for her sins, which is just beginning, will be long and bitter."

The supreme commander told me war criminal trials will commence shortly. Japan's army will be absolutely abolished by Oct. 15. The remnants of Japan's navy are doomed to destruction except "minor specimens which may be retainable for scientific or museum purposes."

All Japanese munitions and all munitions plants which survived the war will be destroyed, Mac-
