

Tigers Even Series at Two All, 4-1; Steady Pitching by Trout

CHICAGO, Oct. 6 (UP)—The Detroit Tigers evened the world series at two games each today, when they defeated the Chicago Cubs 4 to 1 behind the five-hit pitching of Paul (Dizzy) Trout.

The bespectacled right hander was robbed of a shutout by a fielding error, as his mates bunched four of their seven hits in a big fourth inning.

Ray Prim, 38, left hander, was the victim; after he had retired the first 10 batters.

Got Runs
Trout was almost matching Prim's hurling when his mates went out and got him the runs he needed to win. He had yielded only a harmless single to Mickey Livingston in the third.

The big guns in the Detroit batting order—Hank Greenberg and Roy Cullenbine—got the key hits as Prim was chased.

Stan Hack threw Webb out at first. Eddie Mayo then worked Prim for a walk and the Tiger scoring parade was started. Doc Cramer drove a single to right. Mayo stopping at second. Greenberg stepped to the plate and rifled a single to left which scored Mayo, Cramer stopping at second. Cullenbine, a series burst up to now, doubled down the left field foul line, scoring Cramer and sending Greenberg to third.

No More
That was enough for Prim, and the veteran Paul Derringer went in to pitch for Chicago and purposely passed Rudy York to fill the bases. That strategy boomeranged when Greenberg scored as Jimmy Outlaw hit into a force play. Paul Richards singled to center to score Cullenbine with the final Tiger run. After that, Derringer, Hy Vandenberg and Paul Erickson combined to keep the Tigers away from the plate.

In the sixth, Don Johnson, who got two of the hits Trout yielded, tripped to open the inning. Peanuts Lowrey hit a grounder to Outlaw and although Johnson was trapped between third and home, Outlaw threw to get Lowrey at first. York then tried to get Johnson going back into third and the throw was wild, enabling the Cub second baseman to score an unearned run.

The smallest crowd of the series was in Wrigley field—42,923.

Manager Steve O'Neil announced Hal Newhouser, who lost the opener in Detroit, will go for the Tigers tomorrow and Gimm nominated Hank Borowy for Chicago hurling chores.

Cuts Gas Rates

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4 (UP)—The federal power commission today directed the Colorado Interstate Gas company to reduce its wholesale gas rates by $2,793,000 a year.

In connection with the announcement, he said Lehman Springs would remain open during the winter. Roads to the resort are said to be in good condition. Features of the resort include a lodge and Lehman mineral springs and swimming pool. The springs are located east of Ukiah and may be reached from La Grande via Five Points or Kamela.

Japanese 'Not Resentful' of Occupying Force, Says General

YOKAHAMA, Oct. 6 (UP)—Lt. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger said today field commanders throughout the eighth army's occupation area in northern Honshu reported cooperation from Japanese, who "hold no resentment against the Americans."

Eichelberger returned from an inspection tour, said his subordinate officers unanimously told

'Employ Physically Handicapped' Week To Begin Monday

Officials of the U. S. employment service headquarters in Oregon field offices are taking advantage of the "employ the physically handicapped week," proclaimed by President Harry S. Truman and Gov. Earl Snell for Oct. 7 to 14, to publicize the work they are doing in counseling and placing physically handicapped persons throughout the state.

"Nearly 3,000 physically handicapped workers—more than two-thirds of whom were veterans—have been placed on permanent jobs in Oregon by the local USES offices since the first of this year," says Lee C. Stoll, state director.

Stoll also pointed out that the USES has a written agreement with the state vocational rehabilitation service to provide any service necessary to help disabled individuals to become capable of engaging in a paying job.

Where necessary, the USES offices refer such persons to the vocational rehabilitation service. While training and medical examinations are free to physically handicapped persons, eligibility for special services of physical restoration, hospitalization, prostheses, transportation, and maintenance is conditioned upon a showing of financial need.

Truman Leaves to Attend Wedding, County Fair

By MERRIMAN SMITH
WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (UP)—President Truman left his capital today for a wedding in Virginia, a county fair in Missouri, a fishing retreat in Tennessee and a speech in Kentucky that promises to be a big one.

Leaving an accumulation of pressing official problems behind, he departed at 9:03 a. m. in a drizzling rain from the White House. He doesn't plan to come back until late next Wednesday.

During the President's absence he will be in constant touch with the White House via short wave radio, teletype, telephone and air borne couriers.

Year 'Round Dude Ranch Planned for Lehman Springs

Charles Weirick, Pendleton, has joined interests with Fancher Shubblefield at Lehman Springs in connection with operations of an all-year-around dude ranch.

Weirick plans to have about 25 horses at the springs, and will provide horses for hunting parties, and will give free riding lessons.

him Japanese civilians had apparently lost their early fears.

"From the standpoint of military safety the situation is well in hand," Eichelberger said.

Everywhere the Japanese displayed a timid curiosity toward the Americans but many seemed to go out of their way to be helpful.

Practically all GIs have been goodwill ambassadors, because of their kindness and excellent discipline. Huge crowds of Japanese gathered to hear the 11th airborne division's crack military band.

The occupation has been spreading out from the larger cities to the smaller towns in line with the military policy of letting as many Japanese as possible see American troops.

The Japanese also are impressed with the GIs general snappiness and drills and parades.

They are much more friendly and helpful, too, in the smaller towns or northwest Honshu, which were virtually untouched by the war, than in the bomb-ravaged metropolitan cities.

But the friendliness of some strikes a false note in the ears of military men. That was obvious at Nikko, where a Japanese merchant, obviously pleased with his booming American trade, gave an oration on the "blessings" brought to Japan by the B-29. The merchant said he was "grateful" to the Superforts because they had shortened the war.

800 Bond Drive Leaders Meet to Discuss Eighth

PORTLAND, Oct. 6 (UP)—Eight hundred war bond leaders from nine western states concluded a two-day conference today on plans for the forthcoming $11,000,000,000 victory loan campaign by attending the public launching of the U.S.S. Victory Loan at Swan Island shipyard by Mrs. Fred S. Vinson, wife of the secretary of treasury.

Ted R. Gamble, national war finance program director, opened the conference by expressing the importance of the coming war bond drive. Tossing out billion dollar figures in an almost casual manner, Gamble pointed out that war expenses—providing for occupation forces, the return and mustering out of troops, rehabilitation and hospitalization of wounded veterans and termination of war contracts—would continue high for many months.

British Troops Try To Stop Smuggling

JERUSALEM, Oct. 6 (UP)—British troops were reported to have gone into action on the northern frontier of Palestine today when fighting broke out between border police and Jewish "immigrant smugglers."

First reports from the scene said the disorders began when frontier police arrested a large group of illegal Jewish immigrants trying to enter the Holy land.

Local Jews came to the rescue of the immigrants. They attacked the police station and seized from 50 to 70 of the prisoners. British troops were rushed to the scene, but there was no immediate indication whether fighting was continuing.

Clues Unavailing in Shooting of Mrs. Lovely

A week ago the community was shocked by the death of Mrs. Frank Lovely, 38, young matron who had been wounded the night before when she and her husband and two other couples were in camp on Mt. Emily, to take advantage of the hunting season opening the next morning.

Since that time, though the state police and the sheriff's office have traced down dozens of leads, there have been no announcements of any success in finding the identity of the person who fled the shot which caused her death.

DANCER BORROWS NEIGHBORS CHILD—Mrs. Virginia Flores, 18, San Diego night club dancer, and 5-year-old Florence Garcia, Los Angeles, whom Mrs. Flores kidnapped because "she had been sterilized in an Oklahoma reform school and couldn't have children of her own." Daily presents, ice cream, induced Florence to go to San Diego with Mrs. Flores.

Laval Howls 'Liar' at Judge, Is Again Thrown Out of Court

PARIS, Oct. 6 (UP)—Pierre Laval was banished temporarily from his treason trial today when he screamed "liar" at Judge Pierre Mongibeaux and pandemonium broke out.

The trial broke up for an hour when Mongibeaux ended a turbulent courtroom fracas by ordering guards to take Laval away. Exactly an hour after the interruption, the trial was resumed, and Laval was permitted to re-enter the courtroom.

Laval refused to take any part in the proceedings after he was re-admitted to the courtroom. The trial was recessed a second time to permit a search for witnesses to take the place of the hitherto volatile Laval.

When the trial was resumed, Mongibeaux began questioning Laval. He asked why Laval stayed in the Vichy government if he did not get along with Marshal Henri Petain, as he had testified yesterday.

Laval hedged. Prosecutor Andre Mornet broke in with a protest.

U. S., Reds Blame Each Other For Failure of Peace Meeting

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (UP)—United States and Soviet Russia today engaged in a bitter long-distance debate over which nation is responsible for the failure of the London foreign ministers conference.

Secretary of State James F. Byrnes blames Russia.

Soviet Foreign Commissar V. M. Molotov blames all the other big powers.

Byrnes gave his side of the story last night in a radio (CBS) review of the ill-fated 22-day conference. He implied Russia wants "a few presently powerful states" to make the peace.

To Yield
The only way the conference could have continued, Byrnes said, would have been for Britain and the United States to "yield their views and convictions" to the Russians. Neither was willing to do so.

The reason, he explained, was "the United States is willing to dictate terms of peace to an enemy but is not willing to dictate terms of peace to its allies."

"We are willing to make any concessions," he declared, "but the United States does not believe in agreement at any price."

Hopeful
Byrnes tried in his address to appear hopeful and not too pessimistic. He outlined the achievements toward an Italian peace treaty and toward treaties with Bulgaria, Rumania and Hungary. But he did not mention the fact that he called "agreements" were not signed.

Byrnes held out hope the Russians will accept his compromise proposal on procedure and a second try at peacemaking will be made soon.

Chinese Reds Say Chiang's troops Attacking Shansi

CHUNGKING, Oct. 6 (UP)—Chinese communists reported today without confirmation Generalissimo Chiang Kai Shek's troops supported by Japanese had launched full dress attacks against communist forces between Chungking and Shanghai and a major Kuomintang force was sweeping into areas under control of the crack Yan-an-controlled eighth route army.

Three armies of the central government, the communists charged, were "plundering villages" in southern Shansi province.

The communists said in central China other Chinese forces supported by puppet and Japanese troops attacked "liberated areas" in Anhwei and Kiangsi provinces and were "mopping up" communist troops in "liberated" areas claimed by the red "new fourth" army.

The reports coincided with a dispatch from Yenan in the newspaper New China Daily News asserting Chiang's commander-in-chief had ordered Japanese troops to "recover" territories occupied by communists.

The communists said Kuomintang forces in central China supported by puppet and Japanese troops were attacking "liberated areas" held by the red new fourth army in Anhwei and Kiangsi.

Revealed Soviet disappointment with the failure of Britain and America to recognize governments of Bulgaria and Rumania. The Anglo-American view is, they are not representative. Byrnes said the Soviets apparently think objection to those governments is because of their friendliness to Russia.

'Color in Home' Demonstrated at Meeting at Cove

Miss Lois Lutz, home management specialist at Oregon State college, demonstrated "color in the home" yesterday at a meeting of the Cove home extension unit. Members of the unit met at the home of Mrs. Grant Conley, chairman.

Year books, an innovation this year, were handed out to the women.

After the meeting was adjourned, buffet refreshments were served.

Present were: Miss Lutz, Miss Doris McWhorter, home demonstration agent; Mrs. Conley, Mrs. Lester Robinson, Mrs. Gilbert Millet, Mrs. Tom Hefty, Mrs. Lydia Lantz, Mrs. A. V. Fisher, vice chairman; Mrs. Mack Rees, Mrs. Harlan Kiger, Mrs. Tom Towle, Mrs. G. C. Sands, Mrs. Royal Allen, Mrs. Alvin Orton, Mrs. Roy Baker, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. J. B. ## Dr. Kovac Named Veterinarian for Cattle Testing

Appointment of Dr. S. M. Kovac as Union county veterinarian was approved Thursday at the closing day of the county court.

Dr. Kovac, graduate of Washington State college, has been testing cattle for the federal government for the past few years. He will take up his new duties the last of the month.

Testing of all cattle in Union county is now required, due to a law passed by the 1945 legislature making necessary tests for tuberculosis and Bangs disease. The testing will be done according to the beef census—if there are more beef cattle than dairy cattle in a county, only the dairy cattle have to be tested, but if there are more dairy cattle than beef cattle, all must be tested. Since Union county dairy cattle are more numerous than beef cattle, all cattle in the county must be tested.

All Jap Political Prisoners Freed; Premier Liberal

TOKYO, Oct. 6 (UP)—Japanese ministry of justice tonight ordered immediate release of all political prisoners shortly after Emperor Hirohito called Baron Kijuro Shidehara, 73-year-old liberal, to become premier.

Shidehara, a ambassador to Washington who resigned from the Japanese foreign ministry in 1931 as a protest against Japanese aggression, was named to succeed Prince Naruhiko Higashikuni, resigned premier.

The home office's directive releasing some 3,000 political prisoners throughout Japan came as allied authorities announced they concurred in the order temporarily retaining some police chiefs after Oct. 10 Gen. Douglas MacArthur had set that date for compliance with his directive abolishing restrictions on Japanese freedom.

Million Tons Daily Lost in Mass Walkout

By United Press
Comparative calm returned to the nation's labor front today. Oil workers took up their jobs under the navy's watchful eye as efforts to halt spreading soft coal strikes continued and the country emerged from a four-hour telephone cutoff.

Striking oil workers in 52 plants and refineries began a back-to-work movement at the request of international union officials. President O. A. Knight instructed members to return to work immediately "for the United States government."

492,000 Idle
John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, and bituminous operators met with Secretary of Labor Lewis B. Schwellenbach in Washington today to study procedures for ending a coal strike, which has spread to Tennessee and Indiana. Solid fuels administration officials estimated production losses at 1,000,000 tons a day.

Other developments:
1. The number of workers idle in strikes and shutdowns totaled approximately 492,000.
2. Telephone operators returned to their switchboards after a brief "work stoppage," a New York waterfront strike appeared at an end, and production of 1946 model Fords was resumed.

President Truman acted to avert for at least 30 days a threatened strike which would have paralyzed railway express shipments.

Buses Resume
Bus service to eastern Oregon and Idaho points resumed today pending negotiations between union and Pacific Trailways officials, but 2,700 other bus drivers and employees curtailed transportation in seven other western states.

There is still no bus service out of La Grande, except for the service to Joseph on the Wallowa Valley Stage line, as only Trailways drivers have returned to work, and La Grande is on Greyhound-Union Pacific line.

Workers appeared for the 4 p. m. shift at the Sinclair refinery at Kansas City, and work was resumed today at the Texas Oil company's Lawrenceville, Ill., refinery.

Long-distance communications were back to normal today after four to six-hour tieup when 250,000 telephone operators and mechanics stopped work to authorize union leaders to petition for a strike vote.

Still Meeting

The operators, members of the National Federation of Telephone Workers, assembled in nationwide mass meetings to protest a national labor relations board ruling the union's Kearny, N. J., affiliate is company-dominated and must be dissolved.

Normal strike activities were maintained in front of the giant Warner brothers lot in Hollywood today after police broke up picket-line violence with tear gas and fire hoses. The studio strike which now involves 15 unions, began last March 12 when the Painters Brotherhood and International Association of Theatrical Stage Employees both claimed jurisdiction over 78 set decorators.

Fears 'Deal'

Frank Chapman, member of the AFL lumber policy committee, said he talked by telephone with sailors union officials today in San Francisco and received "assurance sailors no longer are going to sail any ships to any harbor to pick up any lumber . . . and will observe our picket lines, even though they are imaginary picket lines."

John Christensen, chairman of the AFL committee, said he feared postponement of CIO-employer-conciliator conferences until next week indicated a "phony wage settlement" will be made.

RUSSIAN RECALLED

LONDON, Oct. 6 (UP)—Radio Moscow announced today the Soviet government has recalled its military representative from Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters in Japan.

Bulletin

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 6 (UP)—Notre Dame ran and passed to a convincing 40 to 7 victory over Georgia Tech in an inter-sectional game before a capacity crowd of 35,000.
