Cubs Even Series By Downing Tigers, 8-7

CHICAGO, Oct. 8 (UP)—Chicago Cubs, taking advantage of an error by Hank Greenberg, evened the world series at three games apiece when they defeated the Detroit Tigers, 8 to 7, in 12 innings.

The tally was scored by little Billy Schuster, a pinch runner, when Greenberg let Stan Hack's single go through him. Earlier, Greenberg was the Detroit hero because he hit a home run which sent the game into extra innings.

No Play
Schuster already had stopped at second. But when big Hank failed to come up with the ball, little Billy tore for home. There wasn't even a play at the plate and Hack, too, could have scored on the error.

It was a wild ball game with first one team and then the other playing like bush leaguers. For a time it seemed the Cubs, behind the veteran Claude Passeau, were going to have an easy time of it, for they knocked the Detroit starter, Virgil Trucks, out of the box in a fifth inning rally that netted four runs and gave them a 4 to 1 lead. They increased it to 6 to 1 and then 7 to 3 before Passeau, suffering from an injured finger, ran out of gas.

Second Win
It was Borowy's second victory of the series. He won the opener at Detroit Wednesday and lost the fifth game here yesterday. Both managers, Steve O'Neill and Charley Grimm, shot the works. O'Neill sent five pitchers to the mound while Grimm used four. The Cubs, in all, used 21 different men—the most ever in a world series game.

It was fitting Hack hit the ball which eventually meant the ball game, for he had been anything but an aid to the Cub cause before the payoff single. He had made two of the three Cub errors and otherwise had conducted himself in a manner which would probably have made him the goat of the series.

28 Hits
The Cubs made 15 hits off Detroit pitching and the Tigers came up with 13. Detroit kicked in with two errors.

In the 12th, Secory, an Iowa farm boy, batting for Merullo, singled to center and Schuster was sent to run. Borowy struck out, and then Hack fouled one pitch, took a ball, and then followed with another foul, before he connected. Schuster knew he was a dead duck if he tried to go any farther than second, if Greenberg came up with the ball. He had come to a dead stop, and when he saw the ball roll behind Greenberg he must have set a base running record.

Music appreciation classes at Eastern Oregon college have been arranged for the convenience of those who cannot attend the day classes, and Wednesday will be last day to enroll.
The classes meet in room 11 of the administration building on the campus at 7:30 p. m. each Wednesday. Townspeople are invited to attend.

PRESIDENT DECORATES PAPPY BOYINGTON—Famous Marine fighter ace, Lt. Col. Gregory (Pappy) Boyington is awarded the Medal of Honor by President Truman in ceremonies at White House in which 14 navy and marine war heroes received the nation's highest honors for devotion to their country. Boyington, Okanogan, Wash., was cited for heroism as commanding officer of Marine squadron during period when he shot down 20 planes, later adding eight to his record.

Mother, Three Children Hurt In Head-on Collision in Meacham

Mrs. R. D. McKinley and her three children, Marceyn Ann, Karen and James, are patients in Grande Ronde hospital recovering from injuries received in a head-on collision which occurred at about 10 a.m. yesterday in front of the Chuck Wagon cafe in Meacham.

The driver of the other car, Lawrence Lester Redford, Indian from Athena, was charged with drunken driving by the arresting state police from La Grande and was turned over to state police in Pendleton.

Mrs. McKinley, driving the family car, with the children as passengers, and her husband, driving behind her in a truck, were enroute from Portland where they had been living, to Nyssa where they planned to farm. Mrs. McKinley reported the other car involved was on the wrong side of the road and that she swerved to avoid a wreck. The other driver swerved also.

Most seriously injured is the six-year-old boy, James, who suffered a depressed fracture of the skull over the right temple. The injury will require an operation for the removal of the bone, and a special vitalium plate, sent for air-mail by his physician, will replace the removed bone.

Mrs. McKinley received head, chest and leg injuries. A 10-year-old daughter, Marceyn Ann, was cut about the chin, on both knees and received other minor injuries. Karen, eight years old, sustained a cut five or six inches long across the right temple.

All are in Grande Ronde hospital and the attending physician said that their condition was good.

Hoover Sees 'New Frontiers' in Science

POTSDAM, N. Y., Oct. 8 (UP)—Former President Herbert Hoover said today the United States faces a vast new frontier of economic expansion, but warned a host of destructive actions could cripple the nation.
The nation's economic future, he said, can be crippled by:
1. Monopolies that restrict production.
2. Labor union rules which limit the output of men during their agreed hours of work, the gigantic wastes of strikes and lockouts, misguided labor that seeks to secure the benefits of increased productivity before it is accomplished.
3. Foolish industrial labor and management policies.
4. Government policies which jeopardize stability of currency and credit.
5. Taxes which "destroy the incentive of men by taking away the reward of their efforts."
6. Bureaucracy which "stymies productive forces by stupid meddling."
Hoover said, however, the sum of the possibilities confronting the nation's economic life means not only recovery but a renewed march in progress.
The nation, Hoover said, can expect:
Great expansion in air transport;
Cheaper railway and highway transport;
Wide use of light metals;
Many improvements in farm machinery;
Saving of great wastes by improvement in weather forecasting; more development of labor-saving machinery; prolonging of skilled lives through new discoveries in medicine; improved gasoline; vast changes by introduction of atomic energy; expansion of science and industry.
Forces of science and technology can save "this nation from being crushed by the burdens of war," Hoover said. "But to do it," he added, "men must be free in mind, spirit and creative power."

E Bond Goal $370,000 In Final Drive

Quota set for Union county in the victory or eighth war bond campaign begins Oct. 29 is $580,000, it was announced today by W. C. Perkins, chairman of the county war finance committee.
Perkins and nine other Union county bond drive leaders attended a bond sales conference for leaders of 10 states at Portland Saturday.

Although the campaign is to last through November, Perkins this afternoon announced further it is the purpose of the Union county sales organization to "clean up" the job so as to celebrate it along with Armistice day.

Series E quota for individuals is $370,000. Quota for other individual purchase bonds is $55,000 and the total of the two thus is $425,000.

Goal for sales to corporations is only $155,000. Perkins was informed by the state chairman and his associates.

Sales in the seventh war loan campaign here were $1,526,000, about double the quota for the coming drive.

Those who attended the meeting in Portland were Perkins, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Lumsden, Mrs. Anton Freisinger, Victor Eckley, Raymond Gray, Stanley Mills, Ervin Hess and Jack Fitzgerald.

Amng speakers were Ted Gamble, national chairman; E. C. Simmons, Oregon chairman; and Robert W. Coyne, assistant national director.

General Patton Leaves His Army

BAD TOLEZ, Bavaria, Oct. 8 (UP)—Gen. George S. Patton, jr., and the famed third army, which he led from Normandy across France and Germany to victory, have parted company.

He turned over command of the army to Lt. Gen. Lucian K. Truscott, jr., at a six-minute ceremony. Patton becomes head of the skeletal 15th army and a general officer's board studying the European campaign.

Speaking in a husky voice, Patton addressed 400 selected officers and men of his former command as "comrades" in a 50-second farewell address.

"The best thing that ever came to me thus far is the honor and privilege of having command of the third army," he said.

Spokane Pair Buys Tract Here, Plans New Tourist Cabins

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Allen of Spokane have purchased a tract 440 feet by 101 on Adams avenue between the underpass and Cherry street from a group here.

The price paid was $3,100 to Mrs. Lola Bowles, Mrs. Earl Huff and Mrs. E. Searles. The tract includes mostly vacant lots.

The Allens revealed they intend to construct and operate tourist cabins on the plot. They expect to start building as soon as materials became available.

SOCIALITE QUESTIONED BY DISTRICT ATTORNEY—Mrs. Irene Mansfeldt, self confessed killer of a San Francisco, Calif., nurse, is questioned at length in the presence of her attorney, Vincent Hallinan, by Pat Brown, (left), district attorney of San Francisco city and county. A statewide hunt is underway for her husband, Dr. John H. Mansfeldt.

Doctor's Suicide Leaves His Wife's Questions Unanswered

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8 (UP)—Bodies of Dr. John H. Mansfeldt, 47, and Mrs. Vada Martin, the young nurse whom his wife killed in trying to force an admission of stolen love, awaited burial today. He committed suicide rather than face the shame of his wife's action.

Mrs. Annie Irene Mansfeldt, 46, is under observation in the psychopathic ward of San Francisco hospital. She was taken there when news of her husband's death unnerved her.

Unanswered
Mansfeldt's death left unanswered the question she told authorities had driven her to fire a bullet into the 36-year-old nurse's chest—whether or not her husband was having an affair with Mrs. Martin.

Mrs. Mansfeldt was charged with murder for the fatal shooting last Thursday of the nurse. Mrs. Mansfeldt had seen her in the doctor's automobile early one morning as the nurse waited to go on a case with him.

Mansfeldt's body was found early Sunday in the front seat of his automobile beside a lonely cliff at Pedro Point in San Mateo county.

Long Search
Police had searched for Mansfeldt since Saturday. Previously authorities had discounted Mrs. Mansfeldt's expressed fears he had done away with himself. There was an opened bottle of morphine sulphate, a drug used to ease pain, in the glove compartment of his automobile. Beside him on the seat was a hypodermic needle with a small quantity of the drug still in it. He apparently gave himself an overdose and dropped off into a profound sleep.

Farmer members appointed by the governor are: Robert H. Warrens, Forest Grove, chairman; G. W. Franklin, Enterprise, and J. M. Clifford, Corvallis.

Members of the original committee that has been working on the project for over two years are: Gilbert Courtwright, J. C. Beddingfield, Charles Grundy, T. W. Bates, all of route 2, La Grande, and Royal Allen, Cove.

Petitions for the formation of the district were circulated as the result of a meeting July 13 of farmers and soil conservation specialists in Hot Lake. The petitions were then sent to the state board of soil conservation, who set the date for the hearing.

Ed Ford, Veterans, School Band Invited To Walla Walla Fest
Herbert G. West, mayor of Walla Walla, has extended invitations to Ed Ford, city manager, and members of his family, and to members of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and Disabled American Veterans to attend homecoming festivities for Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright in Walla Walla Nov. 10 and 11.

Invitations have also been extended to members of the high school band to play in the parade which will take place at 11 a. m. Nov. 10.

A special section has been arranged for veterans.

Laval Trial Goes on Without Defendant

PARIS, Oct. 8 (UP)—Treason trial of Pierre Laval was resumed today without the defendant, defense counsel or defense witnesses.

Laval's trial reopened an hour and a half behind schedule after Judge Pierre Mongibeaux and Minister of Justice Henri Toinen tried in vain to induce the former Vichy premier to change his mind and come to court.

With Laval defiantly absent and only a few prosecution witnesses on hand, it appeared the trial will end by mid-week.

Aviation Council to Ask Congress to Aid Airport Building

CITY MANAGER Ed Ford, recently returned from a director's meeting of the Oregon Aviation Council in Portland Saturday, announced a resolution adopted by the council to urge congress to make an appropriation for building new airports and the improvement of old airports.

If the money is appropriated, Ford said, it will probably be on a match-money basis, with cities putting up equal amounts for the building or improvements.
