All-American Girl Is Hit In U. S. Pavilion At Fair

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

BRUSSELS (UPI)—The All-American girl is a hit with all who visit the U. S. Pavilion at the Brussels World's Fair. And this includes the men who first ask the hostesses for information but stick around to ask for dates.

The information is readily available: the dates are not.

"Oh, I have plenty of social life here," said Kaye Karlan, a blue-eyed brunette of 23, from Denver, Colo.

"But most of us date boys we've met through friends, the same as back home. We get plenty of other offers, especially from GI's stationed over here," said

Local Lodge Plans August Rummage Sale

The Loyal Star Lodge, Auxiliary to the Railway Carmen of America, met in regular session on Monday, Aug. 5, at the La Grande Garden Club house. There was a good attendance, with President Eva Briggs presiding over the business meeting. Mary Beichel was appointed to fill the chair of the recording secretary in the absence of Edna Franklin.

In addition to regular lodge business, final plans for the rummage sale to be held on Saturday, Aug. 16, were made. The sale will be held in the former location of Bolton's Shoe Store. A report was also heard on the family picnic held on July 21. The attendance award was won by Eva Magden.

The next meeting will be on Sept. 1, with a dutch treat following for the social hour.

Following lodge, delicious refreshments of cake and punch were served by Esther Doudre and Lois Moore from a table made attractive with a lovely bouquet of glads.

Male Manners Discussed By Both Sexes

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—Well, all I said was that New York men had misplaced their manners. And then came the deluge!

Letters on the subject of men and chivalry poured in from both sexes and all parts of the nation, commenting on my recent gripe that men raced me for cabs, subway seats, elevators and telephone booths; that, in short, men were NOT behaving like gentlemen. Or, like this girl born a little farther south than Manhattan had grown up expecting them to.

Wimsical letters, some of them in rhyme, came across the desk. So did letters agreeing the "100 per cent American boys" no longer had the virtue of good manners, but saying we women could take some of the blame because we competed with men for jobs and we'd lost some of our own femininity. And most of all, letters from irate males castigating me for carping. Some samples:

From a "fan" in San Diego who signed himself "a New Yorker": "I would like to compliment you on being the biggest blowhard in New York City—quite a feat in a city so large."

"Having worked in New York for the last decade, leaving your wonderful chivalrous South to do so, it must have become etched in your feeble little mind that you weren't the only one to leave the hills in search of civilization."

"Please, lady, go home and take your playmates with you."

A reader named Steve Bennett, 20, who signed his letter "an American, an Oklahoman, and a gentleman" agreed manners were gone but said it was because women "have become too independent. They are trying to place themselves on the same level as men socially, economically and every other way...When women start acting like ladies, then men will start acting like gentlemen."

"I agree that there is a dearth of good manners," wrote Theodore H. Friedenberg, in "Letters to the editor" in the Philadelphia Bulletin. "But she (this columnist) should have been more accurate to address her remarks to both men and women rather than only men."

"On countless occasions, while sitting on a bus or subway, I have been banged by some woman's pocketbook without so much as a 'Sorry' or 'Excuse me'..."

Another Philadelphia devotee three pages to tell me that "chivalry is indeed dead...Where we part company, however, is who killed it..."

"Just try protecting one of those 'weak' females," he wrote. "If you don't end up on your back in a gutter, you'll at least need a couple of Philadelphia lawyers to get you out of the pokey. Generally the male is too busy protecting himself from some female to have time being chivalrous..."

He plans to try for training in the military police and make a career of that type when he returns. George Roys Jr. has also gone into the army for the same kind of training.

Nellie Tuck spent the night in Imbler baby sitting with the children of Mr. and Mrs. Worth Rollins while they went to Prairie City, to a night rodeo.

George Royes has returned home from the hospital where he spent several days. He is reported as improved.

Cookouts Call for Hamburger and Ketchup

Ever have trouble getting the cookout hamburger exactly the right size? Well, next time, place one of those wide mouth jar cap bands flat on a plate, put a wad of hamburger in center of band and pat it flat. Then, your burgers will fit an averaged sized bun to remove skins and seed. Mix all ingredients except vinegar and boil until very thick. Add vinegar and boil 5 to 10 minutes or until as thick as wanted. Taste and add more salt if wanted. Pour boiling hot ketchup to within 1/4 inch of top of pint fruit jar. Put lid on jar; screw band tight.

Easy to Make Tomato Ketchup

4 quarts (about 8 pounds) tomatoes	1 tablespoon salt
1 pod red cayenne pepper	2 tablespoons pickling spice (tied in piece of cloth)
1 cup chopped onion	1 tablespoon paprika
1/2 cup sugar	1 cup vinegar

Wash and drain tomatoes before coring and chopping. Chop pepper; discard seed. Cook tomatoes, pepper and onion until soft. Drain off juice (good to drink). Press vegetables through fine sieve and mix with remaining ingredients. Boil 5 to 10 minutes or until as thick as wanted. Taste and add more salt if wanted. Pour boiling hot ketchup to within 1/4 inch of top of pint fruit jar. Put lid on jar; screw band tight.

County Historical Society Elects Officers For Year

On Monday evening, July 28, at Riverside Park, the Union County Historical Society held its annual business meeting and election of officers.

The picnic dinner, served at 6:30, was under the direction of the usual table and coffee committees, together with Mr. and Mrs. Will Adler, Miss May Colt and Mrs. Edna Hesse.

At the business meeting, conducted by Mrs. Eva Martin, president, the present officers were all re-elected for another year, as follows: President, Mrs. Martin; Vice-presidents, J. D. Woodell, J. E. Witherspoon, Mrs. Lema Fuller, Charles Taylor and Royal Allen; Secretary, Mrs. Elias Adskim; Treasurer, Mrs. Lema Fuller; Historian, Mrs. Helen McClune.

A memorial service in memory of W. E. Evans, Kate Hanley, Nina Kopp and Albert Cole was beautifully carried out under the direction of Mrs. Walter Hutchison, assisted by the little Peterson sisters. Joe Lloyd gave the memorial address, and the service closed with the singing of "Nearer My God to Thee," by Beth Combs and Charlene Koczan. A program followed, beginning with a humorous reading by Mrs. Ardena Finn, and the singing of "Wagon Wheels" by Misses Koczan and Combs.

Dr. Carlos Easley, member, and chairman for Union County, of the State Centennial Committee, gave an interesting report on the plans of this committee for the 1959 Oregon State Centennial celebration, and what local organizations can do in this regard. Mrs. Martin reminded all present that there will be a Union County centennial in 1961 also.

The next meeting will be at Upper Catherine Creek Park on August 24th, at which time Mike Hagerty, member of the state centennial committee, will be a guest.

Chaplin Jr. Weds Actress Aug. 5th

WINTERHAVEN Calif. (UPI)—Charles S. Chaplin Jr. and actress Susan Magness were wed in a quiet marriage chapel service here Aug. 5, just west of the Arizona State line.

Chaplin, 33, and his 22-year-old bride met a year ago while she was a student at the Pasadena, Calif. Playhouse and he was appearing with Edward Everett Horton in "All For Mary."

The couple announced they would honeymoon with friends in Palm Springs for a few days before returning to Hollywood.

Chaplin and his brother, Sydney, who is in Europe, are the sons of famed comedian Charlie Chaplin and Lita Grey Chaplin.

Want A Friend

If there is a lone woman in a group of married couples, the men should make sure that she is looked after. Being a lone woman in a group of couples can be awkward unless the men are courteously attentive.

In such a situation it is downright rude for the men to let a woman look after herself.

For one woman to make a catly remark about another as soon as she leaves a group is not only unkind; it gives the other women present the uncomfortable conviction that, if they should leave, the same woman would have something critical to say of them.

It doesn't pay for a woman to be catly—not if she wants friends.
