Housekeeping Safety Join Hand In Hand

Are you a good housekeeper? One way to answer the question — objectively, that is — is to count up the number of accidents you've had in your home in the last year.

If you went accident-free, then you probably keep a pretty neat place. If you had a couple of serious accidents, then there's probably room for improvement.

According to the National Safety Council, good housekeeping and safety go hand-in-hand.

"Good housekeeping," the Council says, "can especially help reduce the number of falls. Keep roadblocks such as hassocks, stools and toys, for example, out of traffic lanes. You'll have far fewer falls."

Other Council suggestions: "Don't leave medicine and potential poisons around where children can get at them. 'Keep your home neat and clean — but don't overdo things. A floor too highly polished is an invitation to a fall.'"

Morton Loggers Jamboree Rock Show To Begin Aug. 15

The spacious green lawn at the Professor and Mrs. Charles A. Taylor home was the meeting place, Sunday afternoon, Aug. 10th, when members and friends of the Blue Mt. Gem Club convened for a late pot-luck luncheon, a regular business meeting and to set-up the Northwestern Federation display case to be shown Aug. 30th, 31st and Sept. 1st, at the Junior High school at Pasco, Wash.

Tables were arranged about informally in the shade of the tall trees, with the large central table centered with a bouquet of flowers amid the many pot-luck dishes brought by members. Fried chicken was featured on a varied menu. The luncheon was served buffet style with members being seated at card tables of four, six or eight.

After luncheon Ralph Gerards brought the meeting to order and visitors were introduced; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Speckhart, of Quincy, Ill.; Nancy Ruby, of Payson, Ill.; and Margaret A. Beckman, also of Quincy. They are visiting at the Herbert Speckhart home; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Sevier; Clara Bechtold, and Roberta Titus, of Union; and Janet Sanderson, of La Grande.

The Morton Loggers Jamboree and rock show is scheduled for Aug. 15th, 16th and 17th at Morton, Wash. There will be many outstanding events and the Morton Rock Club will be displaying their best works.

Dr. Koester announced the All American PowWow rockhounds will convene at the Windmill Corral (east side) at Glass Buttes. A dry camp, no open fires will be permitted and no heavy digging tools necessary. This is for PowWow members only, at Glass Buttes, Aug. 23rd and 24th.

The Northwest Federation of Societies will hold their annual convention at Pasco, Wash., over the Labor Day weekend, Aug. 30, 31st and Sept. 1st.

September 14th will be the next regular meeting for Blue Mt. Gem Club members, who are planning to ask at least three guest clubs for a sack lunch, and "rock swap." Walla Walla, Enterprise and Pendleton will be invited to share a noon-day luncheon at the Riverside Park at La Grande.

Apparently the weather man kept every one home since no field trips were reported. Ralph Gerards told about his trip into Minam Lakes for a weeks outing; Dr. Koester and Clara started on a field trip toward Eagle Creek area but ended up picking huckleberries.

The birthday march was shared by Carrie Taylor and Vern Stowe. Mrs. Margaret A. Beckman received the traveling door prize.

After the meeting the show case was assembled and the best work of those members who do cutting, grinding and polishing was shown and arranged in the case, to come under a General Lapidary Division.
