World Leaders Paying Tribute To Dulles; Funeral Wednesday

FOREIGN MINISTERS RECESS CONFERENCE

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A funeral of high state ceremony and a hero's burial await John Foster Dulles Wednesday in the nation's final tribute to the man who guided U.S. foreign policy through six years of cold war.

A bereaved President Eisenhower personally directed that a first-of-its-kind "official" funeral be held for the former secretary of state.

An official funeral is just short of the state funeral reserved for presidents and vice presidents and presidents-elect and vice-presidents elect.

Dulles succumbed quietly in his sleep at 7:49 a. m. e.d.t. Sunday after a three-month battle against cancer. His death at Walter Reed Army Medical Center brought expressions of sympathy pouring in to Washington from the Free World's leaders.

The President, openly showing his grief, declared a period of national mourning. He ordered all flags flown at half staff until the 71-year-old statesman is buried.

President Cancels Plans

The chief executive, who had a close personal as well as official relationship with Dulles, also cancelled most of his engagements through Wednesday.

At Geneva, the Big Four foreign ministers agreed to recess their talks for two days. Dulles' last days at the State Department were devoted to helping lay the groundwork for their meeting.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter will fly home Tuesday for the funeral services. British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville also will attend and West German Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano probably will.

There was even a possibility, an American spokesman said, that Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, an implacable diplomatic foe of Dulles, would be present. The funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. e.d.t. Wednesday in Washington's huge National Cathedral with burial in Arlington National Cemetery, the hallowed resting place of the nation's heroes.

To Lie In State

The body will lie in state at the cathedral's Bethlehem Chapel from noon Tuesday until noon Wednesday. An honor military guard will be posted.

Dr. Roswell P. Barnes of New York, a secretary of the World Council of Churches, will lead those officiating at the services along with Dr. Paul Wolfe of the Brick Presbyterian Church of New York and Dr. Edward L. R. Elson of the National Presbyterian Church of Washington.

Heated Debate Sparks East-West Conference

GENEVA (UPI)—The Big Four Foreign Ministers Conference paused to pay touching tribute to the late John Foster Dulles today. Then it exploded into the toughest East-West exchange of angry comments since it started.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko dropped the mask of conciliation and accused West Germany of preparing a third world war.

Secretary of State Christian Herter abandoned a prepared speech and lashed back at Gromyko for making his "absolutely false" charges.

French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd joined the heated debate to condemn Gromyko's sudden reversion to cold war slander.

Gromyko started the whole thing after expressing "our deep sympathy" at the American loss in Dulles' death.

He accused West Germany of rearming with atomic weapons and of being a haven for revenge-seekers and militarists.

Herter and Couve de Murville swiftly refuted the charges.

The session finally ended with Lloyd appealing for conciliation.

The only agreement that emerged was one in which the four agreed to meet early Tuesday and then adjourn until the end of the week so the Big Three foreign ministers can attend the Dulles' funeral.

Western hopes for beginning secret talks were rebuffed earlier in the day when Couve de Murville took Gromyko aside into the relaxing setting of a lakeside lunch for man to man talks. Gromyko made no deals.

Herter told Gromyko bluntly across the Big Four Foreign Ministers' Conference table that his charges "resurrect old fears and bygone hatreds."

Among the allegations Gromyko has made against West Germany were that it was out for revenge and that it is militaristic and seeking to start a third world war.

These charges, Herter said, are absolutely false.

This was the third time since the conference started that Herter has sharply criticized Gromyko to his face.

The tangle over this point was in contrast to the amicable situation which prevailed earlier when Gromyko paid tribute to the late John Foster Dulles.

Herter had opened the session by thanking the other foreign ministers for their "thoughtful understanding" of the situation created here by Dulles' death.

Contrary to expectation, Gromyko did not renew his demand for seating Communist Poland and Czechoslovakia. He did, however, hurl a new cold war blast against the West's package peace plan which brought Herter's counterblast.

Girls Survive Mishap Which Claimed Five

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich. (UPI)—Five young persons, three boys and two girls, drowned when their overloaded boat capsized in Lake St. Clair Sunday night. Three girls survived an all-night ordeal of clinging to the swamped boat in 50 degree water.

The group had gone on a picnic to Club Island, three miles across the lake from the west shore, and all eight tried to return in their 16-foot outboard as it started to get dark about 7 p.m.

When they launched the boat in early afternoon at the mouth of the Clinton River, a deputy sheriff had stopped them and told them eight passengers was too big a load for the boat. The group then made two trips to the island with four and five passengers each time.

But the survivors said "to save time" in the late evening, the group decided all eight should come back in one trip.

The dead were Roger Patrick Hogan, 21, Harper Woods, owner of the boat; Robert Benedetti, 22, Harper Woods; Theron Brooks Jr., 20, Harper Woods; Ann Schuler, 16, Detroit; and Valerie Quinn, 16, East Detroit.

The survivors were Mary Lou Gonyea, 17, Detroit; Nancy Benedetti, 20 Robert's sister; and Marilyn Cily, 17, Detroit.

A survivor told how the boat went under despite their bailing, how they found they were standing in four-foot deep water on a sandbar and how they waded into deeper water when they tried to push the boat back to the island.

One by one the five who drowned slipped into the water, as the survivors tried to hold them up but finally had to rest their numb arms.

The three surviving girls clung to the boat, sometimes tried to get inside it or sit on the edge but the boat would go under or the would slip off.

Wire Failure Causes Outage

Failure of a 69,000 volt "jumper" wire at one of California-Pacific's unit substations caused a temporary power outage in La Grande shortly after 8 p.m. yesterday.

Part of Jefferson street, the northwest section of La Grande and a small portion of the west residential area were without electric service until temporary repairs were completed at 7:02 p.m.

Loads will be switched to another substation unit to eliminate service outage while permanent repairs are made at 2 a.m. tomorrow.

Official Military Funeral

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The official funeral with full military honors for John Foster Dulles is the highest President Eisenhower could direct for his former secretary of state.

The official funeral, scheduled for 2 p.m., e.d.t. Wednesday in Washington's National Cathedral, is regarded as just short of a state funeral.

Burial will follow at Arlington National Cemetery.

Military officials said the official funeral directed by the President will be the first of its kind. It was promulgated in late 1949.

Officials said the closest thing to it was the funeral for James Forrestal, the late secretary of defense, in May of 1949.

State funerals are reserved for presidents, vice presidents, presidents-elect and vice presidents-elect. Official funerals are given other high government officers.

In state funerals, the body reposes in the Capitol Rotunda before burial. But in an official funeral the body lies at a private home or church.

Dulles' body will repose at the cathedral's Bethlehem Chapel from noon Tuesday until noon Wednesday. President Eisenhower, who directed that the official funeral be accorded Dulles, said in a statement issued through the State Department that persons wishing to pay their respects were invited to do so at the chapel.

An honor guard will be posted. Dr. Roswell P. Barnes, of New York, a secretary of the World Council of Churches, will officiate at the funeral services, along with Dr. Paul Wolfe, of the Brick Presbyterian Church of New York, and Dr. Edward L. R. Elson of the National Presbyterian Church of Washington.

Like the President, Dulles attended the National Presbyterian Church in the capital. The former secretary was the son of a Presbyterian minister, the Rev. Allen Macy Dulles.

During a state funeral, the body is accompanied by Arlington National Cemetery by a parade of representatives from the military services. In an official funeral ceremony, only a few servicemen participate. They carry the body and the flag.

The actual graveside ceremonies are almost identical. Dulles will be given a 19-gun salute honoring his former cabinet rank and a bugler will play taps.

KLAMATH FALLS (UPI) — Fire Sunday gutted the Payless drug store here with loss estimated tentatively at $300,000 by manager Noel Flynn.

Firemen were at the scene for about eight hours.

The building, which covered almost half a block, was gutted and most merchandise either destroyed or damaged.

No one was injured.
