Steel Wage Negotiators Resume Talks

NEW YORK (UPI)—Steel wage negotiators resumed contract talks today following a weekend recess during which both sides leveled blasts at each other.

The negotiators, starting their third week of joint talks, have made no progress on a new contract for 500,000 steelworkers. The present three-year agreement expires at midnight June 30.

There is growing evidence that American industry and organized labor have pinpointed the steel contract talks as the most vital in many years.

The steel companies have called for a wage freeze and have received support in their stand from top business leaders. The United Steelworkers Union is pressing for substantial wage increases and other labor unions have rallied to its support.

Since the talks were recessed last Friday, both sides have been active trying to win public support. The union issued a blast late Friday against big business in general and the steel companies in particular.

David J. McDonald, president of the USW, said there is evidence that American industry was pooling its "wealth and might" to defeat the steelworkers in 1959.

The steel companies, in an open letter to McDonald run as an advertisement, accused the union chief of distorting the facts and "trying to mislead the public about the real issues" at stake in this year's contract talks.

Actress Denies She'd Reconcile

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Actress Joan Caulfield, 34, denied Sunday she would reconcile with her recently divorced husband despite the fact that she is expecting a child.

Miss Caulfield testified April 15 she was divorcing Frank Ross, 54, a producer, because he didn't want children. She was granted an interlocutory decree which will become final next April.

Last week she learned she was expecting a baby in September, she said. They had been married nine years.

N. Y. STOCKS

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks advanced today although late profit taking pared gains.

The rails again helped to spark the advance, carrying that average to its best level since early August, 1956.

There were some good gains in the main list, especially in the drug group. The chemicals, steels, and some of the electronics also featured the upside, while the oil and motor ran into some difficulties.

Bristol Myers was strong on favorable Wall Street comment. At its high this issue was up more than 4 points. American Home Products ran up more than 6 at its best in the drugs and Vick was up 8 points before turning into profit taking.

In the rail group, Louisville Nashville was up around a point near the close and fractional gains appeared in most of the leaders.

American Telephone issues were strong. Chemicals had gains running to around a point or more in DuPont and Union Carbide.

NOW HE CAN MAKE NOISE

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—Elmer F. Cope, secretary-treasurer of the state AFL-CIO, carries today what is believed the one and only card granting "whispering privileges" in the state Senate gallery.

It was issued to him by the lieutenant governor after Cope, unrecognized by Senate order keepers, was thrown out of the gallery last week for making too much noise.

ANN LANDERS

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann: Mama passed away last week at 89. She was spry until three years ago when she had a bad fall. After that she became an invalid and had to be cared for like a baby.

In 1956 when she had her accident, the five of us decided on a cooperative plan. Martha, the only unmarried one offered to take a leave of absence from her school teaching and care for Mama. We agreed to make up her salary.

Now that Mama is gone Martha has several months of leisure as she can't return to school until September. We think she should find work in a store or office and not sit around and collect money from us, when Mama is in her grave.

Last night Martha said she was "very tired" and needed a rest. She's considering a trip to Europe on our money. A word from you on this slick maneuvering will be greatly appreciated.—The Family.

Dear family: If Martha were a "slick maneuverer" she could have maneuvered something slicker than caring for an invalid night and day for three years. Do you have the slightest notion what it means to feed, bathe and watch over an aged person?

In my book Martha is entitled to "sit around and collect the money" until school reopens. And if she wants to go to Europe the rest of you ought to chip in and buy her a new set of luggage as a going-away present.

Dear Ann: I'm 15 and mixed up—but good. Last night I went out with a darling guy. I'd been hoping for six months he'd ask me. We doubled with his buddy who has a car. I never liked this buddy or his steady girl. They were musing it up in the front seat and it made me uneasy.

I don't know if the front seat performance gave my date ideas or what. Anyway he went into a long story about how he never takes out a girl a second time if he doesn't get proof she likes him. I asked what he considered "proof." He said "a few honest kisses." I told him I didn't believe in kissing on a first date, no matter what.

He got mad and told his buddy to drive me straight home. Then he called me "Queen of the Flat Tires." My closest girl friend says I made a mistake. She claims a friendly kiss wouldn't have killed me and now I've lost him forever. I have mixed feelings. Maybe I was too prissy. Help me, please.—Flat Tire Queen.

High standards are a good device for screening out the third-raters. A girl who can say no and make it stick, builds character and trains herself for the major battles that lie ahead. If this bird never calls again

SPANIARDS RETURN AMERICA, Spain (UPI) — A Soviet ship returned 77 Spanish repatriates to their homeland Thursday. Most of the group had been interned in Russia since the Spanish Civil War.

MALARIA HITS FORMOSA TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI) — The first malaria cases on Formosa in more than five years were reported today. Two persons in Panchiao were reported suffering from the tropical disease.
