Replaces Wage
Your social security payment may help you when you need it most. According to Vernon A. Welo, district manager of the La Grande social office, social security payments are intended as a partial replacement of your lost earnings.

Social security is meant to provide a basic level of income. The person who is no longer working for wages or operating a business, but who is eligible for social security payments, may rely on his social security check to partially replace the lost earnings.

When he was in a financial bind I loaned him money. I haven't seen a penny of it back. I've given him 10 years of my life, and passed up two good chances to get married. I've sat alone night after night while he took his wife to country club affairs. Ltttle
