

Local Organizations Observe Flag Day, Fraternal Week

Fraternal organizations convened Monday evening at the Odd Fellows Temple to observe Flag Day and Fraternal week, with the Women's Benefit Association hosting all the fraternal orders—assisted by the Royal Neighbors of America and Neighbors of Woodcraft. There were 30 members attending.

Mrs. Stella Garret, president of Woman's Benefit Association, called the meeting to order and presented State Field Director, Mrs. Myrtle Hansen, who presided in place of the program chairman, Lois Livingston. Mrs. Hansen presented Cub Scout Den Mother, Mrs. Atha Miller, who led with opening prayer and played the piano for Cub & Boy Scouts, who presented the flags. Salute to the flag was led by Mrs. Miller and the singing of "America" by all in attendance. Those bearing the four banners were; Cub Scouts, Larry Severns and Alan Miller; Boy Scouts, Pack 1, Fred Walker, and Gordon Hearing.

At the head table with Mrs. Garrett and Myrtle Hansen were; Mrs. Anna Schultz, Guardian Neighbor of Neighbors of the Woodcraft; and Mrs. Gladys Huff, District Deputy of The Royal Neighbors of America. Gladys Huff announced a girls trio of Janice McKay, Danetta Carter and Colleen Archibald who sang "Walk Hand in Hand with Me" and "Blue Moon." They received a hearty hand of applause in approval of their numbers.

Gladys Huff introduced those members present from The Royal Neighbors. Mrs. Anna Schultz presented members from Neighbors of Woodcraft. Lucille Courtney named members representing the Rebekah Lodge.

The Eagles, Veterans Organization, Ladies auxiliary of La Grande Firemen and Engineers, Union Pacific Old Timers, and The Blue Mt. Grange were all represented.

Mrs. Schultz presented Sharon Jones and Joyce Weimer. They were masked and danced to the tune of a sleepy time melody of "If I Should Lose You," a cute number well received by all.

Gladys Huff gave a brief summary on Flag Day. Traditionally Flag Day is observed by the Fraternal Societies as the outstanding event of National Fraternal week. Flag Day ceremonies should be of unusual importance to us all this year with Alaska accepted as the 49th State and Hawaii to become the 50th State. Who better lives the example than Fraternalists. She then elucidated on the history of Fraternalism, their deeds and their works with Junior members. All Fraternities are dedicated to work for the good of everyone and especially the training of the younger generations for good of all through fraternities and their civic projects.

Blue Mt. Grange members had three entertainers—Mrs. Sylvia Turnbow at piano, Mary Ellen Hardy and Oley Knute with accompaniment. They played waltzes, schottische, and folk dances.

Mrs. Hansen reported on the State Fraternal Congress convention held in Portland and to which she was a delegate. She stated there was considerable discussion on Lodge activities, by the 21 member societies of the Oregon Congress. She quoted from a message of John Badovinac of Ohio, well known fraternalist; "We have made great contributions to the educational, political and financial strength of our country. As one example, let us remember the very great number of refugees who came to America following World War II. The great majority of them learned their first and in many instances only lessons in Democracy in our fraternal lodge halls. Thus endearing them to the principles of American Democracy."

Mrs. Hansen called attention to a great example of "Fraternalism in Action" is the 1400 Rainbow girls who held their convention in La Grande this past week. It is young people like these, who will assume the leadership of tomorrow.

Hostesses for the refreshments and decoration were the Messrs; Jessie Hoak, Bessie Beaton, Hazel Case, Matilda Tsatsos, Vivian Engle and Zella Mitchell, who served cookies and coffee at a table centered with a huge bouquet of red, white and blue flowers in a milk glass bowl; at either end were red, white and blue candles flanked by small flags.

Mrs. Sylvia Turnbow received the attendance gift of a centennial plate and Lucille Courtney and Gertrude Fisk shared a bouquet of flowers apiece.

Miss Hardy, Sylvia Turnbow and Oley Knute played more old time tunes and the eventful evening ended in a social visit with members agreeing it should happen more frequently.

ANN LANDERS

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: Last week I put new sheets on the bed. My husband raved over how luxurious they felt. He asked why they weren't this way all the time. He then added "Mom's bed sheets were always like this."

I explained perhaps his mother ironed her sheets. I simply fold mine and put them away. He then had the nerve to suggest that I iron the sheets from now on. We got into a hot argument and I refused flatly. I don't happen to believe in killing myself with housework. Am I wrong or is he?—Four Poster.

Dear Four-Poster: Did you know the average person spends one-third of his life in bed? Isn't it worth 30 minutes a week to make your husband happy an additional one-third of his life? If he wants you to iron the bed sheets, iron 'em, Toots. Be thankful your marital troubles CAN be ironed out so easily. Not all people are so lucky.

Dear Ann: Recently a man asked if he could be forced by law to marry a girl who had been "the neighborhood sweetheart." You said the law could not force a marriage, but in some states the father may have to support his child. You then blasted HIS reprehensible conduct, but not a word about HERS.

Why does society always place the girl on the pedestal as "Innocence Betrayed" while the man gets roasted? Whenever a tramp gets into a fix she can point a finger at a convenient chump and the court will take HER word against his. Usually she names some stoop she went with a few times and he can't recall much as he was a little drunk.

Isn't it barely possible that some scheming harpies deliberately get pregnant so they can get a settlement out of a poor sap who can't afford a scandal? Be fair and print this. The Misogynist.

Dear Misogynist: It's obvious you've never had a baby, sir. Even the "scheming harpies" know this a tough way to "make money." This trick is not a favorite of the conniving, experienced woman, as you suggest. Only the very young and foolish would be so rash.

If you are so stupid or so naive that you don't know how to protect yourself against this low type, I'll TELL you how. Stay away from tramps and keep off the list of candidates. Remember that drunkenness is no excuse. I never yet heard of a woman who tied a man with ropes and funneled the liquor down his throat.

Does almost everyone have a good time but you? If so, send for ANN LANDERS' new booklet, "How To Be Well-Liked," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope. (Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.) Copyright 1959, Field Enterprises, Inc.

That crowning glory, the hair, often is a warning signal. Emotional upsets, tension nerves or fatigue affects your hair. Massaging is a way to get the tingle back in the scalp. It also relaxes you. Place thumbs at back of neck and dig in. Follow with brisk brushing and frequent shampoos.

First Baptist DVBS Holds Special Program In Closing

The closing program for the Daily Vacation Bible school of the First Baptist church was held Friday night. A royal court ruled over the evening's activities.

Royalty for the evening was Jerry Jeffers, king, and Linda Burford, queen. They were selected by honors won in perfect attendance and popular vote of the Junior High department. Other members of the court were Marie Ritchie, Ted Hillard, Patie Jo Hansell, Janelle Shorb, Terri Steeie and Billie Jean Bowden. They also won by perfect attendance and outstanding work performed during the two weeks.

The thrones were flanked by baskets of pennies.

Sammy Rayburn of the nursery department sang several songs. The kindergarten department sang songs, played rhythm instruments and gave a review of their memory work.

The primary department presented in song and illustration the 23rd Psalm. They showed the attire of a shepherd and how he used his rod and staff to watch over his sheep.

The junior department displayed their memory wheel and gave a brief review of their lessons through songs and verses.

The program was brought to a close with the junior high department singing a number of songs taught during the two weeks.

Frances Brown Auxiliary To Hold Luncheon

The Frances Brown Auxiliary will hold a potluck luncheon for its members and friends on Thursday at noon, at the Garden Club on Y avenue. This meeting takes the place of the annual luncheon at Medical Springs, which has had to be abandoned because of transportation difficulties.
