RNA Holds Birthday Dinner

The Royal Neighbors of America attended a ham dinner, with all the trimmings at 6:30 p.m. Monday in the IOOF temple. All those having birthdays the first half of the year were the honored guests, and were seated at the head table, which was beautifully decorated with bouquets of cut flowers and place cards. Kate Talbot and the members with birthday the last half of the year were the hostesses. Many birthday cakes also adorned the table.

After the dinner, lodge was called to order at 8 p.m. by Oracle, Katie Talbot. Visitors introduced and given the grand honors were Thelma Power, Estella Ebnysk and Villa Kirk, all of Wildwood camp, No. 2333, Pendleton. Maymie Grieves of Huron was also an out of town member present.

Louise Thomas was initiated during a candlelight ceremony with the drill team attired in centennial dress. Candlelighters were Aileen and Beulah Taal.

Glady's Huff, District Deputy, announced she will soon attend a deputy school in Portland, with Nora Danford, Supreme auditor of Rock Island, Ill., and Virginia

Pioneers Vote July Meeting

Granddaughters of Union County Pioneers met recently at the home of Mrs. John Chess in La Grande. There were nine members present and three guests, Mrs. Roy Spencer, Miss Kathy Miller and Miss Maurine Miller. Following a potluck luncheon the business meeting was conducted by President, Mrs. Bennie Hicks. It was voted to meet in July and the meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Harley Counsel, July 21. It was decided to give a quilt which the group had made to a family who had recently lost their belongings by fire.

Mrs. Chess displayed a number of Japanese articles which her brother had brought from Japan.

4-H Club News

Members of the Grande Ronde sewing club held their last meeting of the school year, Wednesday. Mothers of the girls were guests.

Each of the mothers attending was presented with a combination apron and all-purpose bag.

Money left in the club treasury was used to buy the club leader, Mrs. Ivan Dillman, a card.

Officers of the club, which held a total of 17 meetings, were Karen Young, president; Judy La Gore, vice president; Sharon Schooler, secretary; and Linda Dillman, reporter.

Other members were Mary Lynn Berryman, Carolyn Skillings, and Melonnie Fugit.

NORTH POWDER (Special)—Wa-Do-Ke 4-H photograph club held their fourth meeting with 11 members present, including their leader, Mrs. Charles Isaac, and their junior leader, Kay Griffith. There was one visitor for the day, Kathy Nantz.

Under new business each member showed pictures of scenery, and told what was wrong with each one.

There will not be a meeting next Friday due to the leader attending a summer school.

Gloria Gray served refreshments and a game was played.

Family Gathering Fetes Miss Erwin

NORTH POWDER (Special)—A family get-together was held Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Kirkland. The reason for the gathering was to visit with Virginia Erwin, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Belts, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Evans and children, Mr. and Mrs. Duane Irvin and children, all of Union; and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Erwin and Virginia Erwin.

Wolf Creek Grange Has Business Meeting

NORTH POWDER (Special)—The Wolf Creek Grange 596 held a business meeting Saturday night at their hall. Plans were discussed for the Fair and Threshing Bee, which will take place the latter part of August.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Wilson of Telocast were present. They are new members by re-instatement.

ASHLAND (Special)—Casting has been completed and blocking rehearsals are underway at the Oregon Shakespearean Festival in Ashland. Scheduled to open a 40-night run July 28 in its entirely new Elizabethan theatre, the Festival's 19th season bills "Twelfth Night" together with a special Masque saluting the Oregon Centennial, "King John," "Measure for Measure," and "Antony and Cleopatra."

The success of the group's $275,000 international fund-raising campaign financed the new stage and made possible the major improvements in the seating and Tudor Fair areas. Currently workmen are completing construction from 6 a.m. until 2:30 p.m. daily, with the production company taking over the stage for the afternoon and evening.

The 1959 acting group lists many notable performers from elsewhere in the professional theatre, plus a large number of favorite names from preceding Ashland seasons, Theodore Marcuse—who has played featured Broadway roles with Katherine Cornell, Judith Anderson, and Maurice Evans, and has been seen recently in "Wagon Train," "Have Gun Will Travel," "Playhouse 90," and other television productions—will be Antony in "Antony and Cleopatra." Opposite him, as Cleopatra, will be Barbara Waide. A former Festival and Vining Repertory actress, Miss Waide has appeared on television's "Circle Theatre" and other shows with Ralph Bellamy, Betty Field and Melvin Douglas, and has received critical acclaim for her Queen Elizabeth characterization in the New York production of Shaw's "Dark Lady of the Sonnets."

Philip Hanson—former actor-director with the Festival and Vining Repertory, and just recently returned from his position as Entertainment Director for the U. S. Army in Europe—will take the title role in "King John." Nagle Jackson, applauded for his Launcelot Gobbo in last year's "Merchant of Venice," will perform the exacting role of Caesar in "Antony." William Oyer—whose Hollywood assignments have included "Gunsmoke," "Suspense" and "Climax"—has returned to play Faulconbridge in "John," and Pompey in "Antony." Oyer, a favorite with Ashland audiences, has played a variety of Festival roles, including Iago in the 1957 "Othello."

Producing Director Angus L. Bowmer, acclaimed in 1958 as Shylock, will this year portray both Lepidus and the Clown in "Antony" and will direct "Twelfth Night."

Before leaving for home the immediate family held a buffet dinner at the Waverly Country Club. Out of town guests included Trommald Jr.'s sister, Miss Susan Trommald, of Boulder, Colo., and two brothers, Elliott Trommald of New Haven, Conn., and Peter Trommald of Claremont, Calif. They are all home for the summer from the various schools they are attending.

At Portland they visited with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. John P. Trommald Sr., who were hosts Saturday at a reception honoring the junior Trommalds. There were 114 relatives and neighborhood friends attending to meet the new daughter-in-law. The couple were married earlier this year.

Saturday evening was spent as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elliott R. Corbett of Portland, grandparents of the groom.

Each of the mothers attending was presented with a combination apron and all-purpose bag.

Money left in the club treasury was used to buy the club leader, Mrs. Ivan Dillman, a card.

Officers of the club, which held a total of 17 meetings, were Karen Young, president; Judy La Gore, vice president; Sharon Schooler, secretary; and Linda Dillman, reporter.

Other members were Mary Lynn Berryman, Carolyn Skillings, and Melonnie Fugit.

Dairy Festival Cheese Cake

The artistic sense of every woman will come to the fore when she makes this elegant Dairy Festival Cheese Cake, for it's pretty enough for any picture. However, a homemaker's ability in some ways should be even greater than that of most artists, for not only must her creation be beautiful to look upon, but luscious to taste as well. Dairy Festival Cheese Cake, with its spiced crumb crust and its delicate cheese filling, is an ideal subject for every homemaker to use. It can well become a specialty in her household and among her friends.

Dairy Festival Cheese Cake
Spiced Crumb Crust*
2 tablespoons (2 envelopes) unflavored gelatin
1/2 cup cold water
3 eggs
2 1/2 cups (large can) undiluted Evaporated Milk
1/2 cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups cottage cheese
1/2 cup lemon juice

Soften gelatin in cold water. Beat eggs, 1/2 cup Evaporated Milk, sugar and salt together in saucepan. Stir over medium heat until thickened (about 4 minutes). Remove from heat. Add softened gelatin, lemon rind and vanilla. Stir until gelatin dissolves. Beat cottage cheese until creamy. Add to egg mixture. Chill cottage cheese mixture 30-45 minutes in refrigerator. Beat until light and fluffy. Chill remaining Evaporated Milk in refrigerator tray until crystals form around edges of tray (15-20 minutes). Whip until stiff (1-2 minutes). Add lemon juice and whip very stiff (about 2 minutes longer). Fold whipped Evaporated Milk into cottage cheese mixture. Spoon into spiced crust. Top cheese cake with sweetened strawberries, if desired.

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann: I'm a girl 15, and I have a tough problem. My mother died three months ago and it shook all of us up pretty badly. My father gets mad if I turn on the radio or play a record. He says I forget too easily and that I have no respect for my mother's memory.

Last night he said it would serve me right if something happened to him and I was left with nobody, because I didn't appreciate parents.

Honestly, Ann, I do have respect for my mother's memory, but I just can't sit around with a long face every evening the way Dad does. He makes me so blue I can't sleep at night and I'm tired all day. Please tell me what to do. I feel all alone.—Gerry.

Dear Gerry: Of course you shouldn't sit around every evening with a long face—and neither should your Dad. After three months you should be permitted to have music in the house. Your dad is so heartbroken over losing Mom that he's taking his misery out on you because he doesn't know what else to do. Ask your clergyman to speak to him. You need the help of an adult who can talk to your dad and help him understand.

Dear Ann Landers: A certain woman joined our bridge club six months ago. She's the only newcomer in the past 10 years. The other 11 girls have been playing bridge together since we were brides.

This newcomer is not a very good housekeeper and her lunches are always unattractive and hard to digest. Several women have mentioned that she's the poorest cook in the bunch. Last week something happened which I think is grounds for expelling her from the club. She served individual salads and just as I was to take a mouthful I spotted a small worm crawling on the lettuce leaf. Can you imagine anything worse than a worm in the salad? What is your opinion?—One of 11.

Dear One: Yes—half a worm. Too bad the girl is such a poor cook—and a careless one too! But I can't see that this is grounds for expelling her from the club. Say nothing—just keep your eyes open when you eat in her home.
