ANN LANDERS

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: I have a friend who openly brags she has had three "successful" divorces. What this wench means, of course, is that she cleaned up financially. I know for a fact she got a healthy settlement from her last two husbands and I assume she clipped the first bozo pretty good, too.

Her last marriage was a mockery. She is at least 25 years younger than the man, and it was no secret that she had a young boy friend on the side, the whole time. Yet in court, because her husband was a gentleman, not a word was said about her hi-jinks. She sued him for "incompatibility" and got the divorce with no trouble. The settlement will keep her Cadillac in gas for the next hundred years.

This dame wasn't entitled to anything. Isn't there something wrong with the divorce laws in this country when they permit such gross injustices—Fed. Fred.

Dear Fed: Divorce laws vary according to the state, and I agree that many state legislatures could do a job of revamping. One day Granny Landers is going to hie herself down to Springfield and plump for a more equitable set of divorce, alimony and custody laws in Illinois.

I've long felt that the male gets the neck of the chicken when he lands in the divorce court. Some may say "it's a man's world" but it's usually Papa who pays through the nose when there's a parting of the ways.

Dear Ann: What do you think of a 16-year-old girl who says to her mother "Why don't you keep your big mouth shut and mind your own business?"

This happens sometimes when outsiders are present, and it's very embarrassing. My neighbor's daughter who is exactly the same age as mine, wouldn't think of talking to her mother like that.

Why are some children respectful and why do others not give a fig how they talk to their mothers? I did my best to raise this girl right but I think she takes after her father's sister who was mouthy and hard to handle. Can you help me?—Indianapolis.

Dear Indianapolis: Children behave differently because they are reared differently. As the twig is bent, so grows the tree. Your daughter didn't start at age 16 to tell you to shut your mouth. She's been talking this way for a good many years.

Children sense early how much they can get away with. It's pretty late in the game to try to get respect from your 16-year-old. But if you let her know in no uncertain terms that you refuse to tolerate such talk, (and back it up with stiff punishment) you may get results.

Centennial Square Dance Set Saturday

A centennial square dance will be held at La Grande, Saturday. This will be sponsored jointly by the Vale club "The Chix and Chix," and the Eastern Oregon College. It will be held at Hoke hall on the college campus.

Neil Petersen of Vale, will be the caller for the evening. The college will keep the snack bar open so everyone will have an opportunity to get refreshments at any time they desire. Refreshments will not be included in the price of the dance.

All dancers interested in attending, are being invited to do so.

Mrs. Kemp Will Attend Meeting

Mrs. Lillian Kemp, grand president for the Ladies Society of Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, from Tacoma, will be attending the two day meet at La Grande.

The Pacific Northwest Union meeting will be held in La Grande on June 29 and 30. Mrs. Emma Hoffman, grand vice president, who was scheduled to attend, will be unable to be here due to serious illness in the family.

Double Ring Ceremony Unites Bertha Hohstadt, Merle Feik

Miss Bertha Beatrice Hohstadt, daughter of Louis A. and Vera Hohstadt of Imbler, became the bride of Merle Floyd Feik, son of Floyd and Andrea Feik of Summerville.

The double ring ceremony was performed June 20, in the LDS Recreation hall at Elgin. The Bishop Bean officiated.

Mrs. Lucretia Paroz played the organ and Neva, Nancy and Eddy Hoofnagle sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly".

The hall was decorated with rose bedecked arch and baskets of peonies, roses and lilies. The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a white lace ballerina length dress, buttoned down the front with long sleeves pointed at the wrist, over white satin. Her elbow length veil was trimmed with lace roses and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of pink and white roses.

Ann Louise Hohstadt, a sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. She wore a beige cotton satin dress, beige accessories and carried a nosegay of tangerine and white carnations.

Bridesmaids were Nina Bale and Margaret Hohstadt, cousins of the bride, and Bonnie Hawk, a friend. They wore pastel dresses same as the maid of honor, and carried nosegays of contrasting carnations.

Kay Bale was the flower girl, wearing a turquoise dress; she sprinkled the aisle with rose petals, carried in a white basket.

Berle Pugh was the best man to the groom. Wayne Gorham, John Hawks and Dean McKinnis were the ushers.

Guy Hohstadt, brother of the bride, was the ring bearer. He carried a white satin pillow. Mother of the bride wore a gray linen and dacron dress with white accessories and a pink carnation corsage. The groom's mother wore a navy blue lace dress with white accessories and a pink carnation corsage.

The reception was held immediately following in the same hall. Bernie Briggs and Katherine Hohstadt, aunts of the bride, cut and served the wedding cake. Lola Fields also an aunt, poured. Laura McKinnis, a sister of the groom assisted.

Judy Houtz and Lula Doud were in charge of the guest book and the gifts.

The newlyweds left for their new home at Klamath Falls. The bride wore for traveling, a black denim dress trimmed with white daisies and white accessories.

They will be at home in Klamath Falls. The bride was a graduate of Imbler High School, and the groom a graduate of Imbler High, attended EOC and OTI. He is now employed by International Harvester at Klamath Falls.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Frank James and daughter Coleen, and Mr. and Mrs. James James and sons of Pendleton; Mr. and Mrs. Bert H. Ivie, Ontario; Mrs. Bert Ivie, Payette, Idaho; Mrs. A. C. Bale and children, Boise, Idaho; Mrs. G. A. Hohstadt and children, Ontario; and many friends and relatives from around the valley.
