

4-H Sets Party In Park Tonight

Auction sale buyers and summer school scholarship donors will be honored at a 4-H 'Appreciation Party' tonight at Riverside park. The party, a personal thank you to organization representatives, business firms and individuals, will begin at 7.

The program includes a potluck dinner, reports on 4-H summer school, the auction sale, special awards and entertainment. Club members will provide the food and table service for guests.

N. Y. STOCKS

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks followed Monday's pattern today, rising to a new high in the industrial average and then backing away from the weight of profit taking.

The best gains appeared outside the group used to compile the averages. On an overall basis, steels were firm and electronics issues were strong. The drugs had some good gainers and oils were easier on balance.

The big features of this market were the specialties, some of which ran up as much as 3 or 4 points. Caterpillar Tractor ran up 4 at its high and touched a new top for the year.

Zenith was strong in the electronics and American Cyanamid was strong and active in the drugs.

Temperatures in the 90's and over 100 across the East and South took a toll in lives and crops, created water shortages in some communities and sent millions of persons fleeing to the comforts of air-conditioned buildings.

Two heat prostration deaths were reported in New York City, one death in New Jersey was attributed to the heat and a coroner ruled that a Hamlet, N.C., woman died as a result of a 102-degree temperature.

A canning firm shut down in Weldon, N. C., throwing 50 persons out of work, because the hot, dry weather had destroyed the stringbean crop.

In the Finger Lakes area of New York State, Mayor George E. Keenan declared a state of emergency in the city of Corning after a three-million-gallon reservoir ran dry.

A ban was placed on laundering clothes and sprinkling lawns and the Corning glass works was asked to turn off its air-conditioning plant.

A dozen persons were injured, one critically. Officials said no other persons were missing.

Skindivers and searchers were unable to find more bodies after searching the Ogeechee River where about 100 persons were picnicking and swimming Sunday afternoon.

Two of the 15 cars derailed as the train crossed a wooden railroad trestle Sunday broke open. Escaping butane gas caught fire and exploded, showering flames over the water and banks of the river where the picnickers were sitting.

Forteen bodies were found in and around the river. Other victims died en route to Savannah hospitals or in the hospitals.

Rep. Prince Preston (D-Ga.) asked the ICC to investigate the accident.

At least eight of the victims were related. They were at the favorite river recreation spot for a family reunion.

Seaboard General Manager J.N. Broopman of Richmond, Va., said here that "we haven't found any track condition or car condition to cause" the wreck.

J. R. Thorne, executive vice president of the SAL, said in Richmond Monday night that "all indications at this time are that no railroad failure was involved."
