ANN LANDERS

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann: My boy friend is 21 and in college. He's attending summer session to get his degree in three years. I'm real proud of Al. As you know, Ann, most college fellows don't have much money to toss around, so we've worked out a money-saving system. He calls me on the phone, lets it ring twice then hangs up. I call him back and of course the dime is returned to him. My dad caught on to this signal last night and blew his stack. He wouldn't let me call Al back and said he was a cheap chump to try to beat the phone company out of a dime. The more he talked the madder he got. Finally he said Al probably has a crooked streak that might land him in jail. He didn't ask me to stop seeing Al, but intimated I could do a lot better. I like Al a lot, and now I'm all confused. Please tell me what to do. Betty.

Church Plans Bible School

A community Vacation Bible School will be conducted by the Sabbath school department of the La Grande Seventh-day Adventist church, beginning Monday, Pastor Edward C. Harms announced today. Sessions will be conducted each morning from 9 to 12, Monday through Friday for a two-week period. Bible stories, songs, crafts and character building recreation and refreshments will be featured for children, ages three through 14. The theme for this year's school is "God's Loyal Friends." Closely-graded materials and activities planned to emphasize this theme have been worked out by a committee headed by Mrs. Leonard Spears, director. No charge will be made for instruction or materials, including handiwork. All boys and girls of the community are being invited to attend.
