

History Class Gets Polio Inoculation

SUFFIELD, Ohio — The more than 400 students attending Suffield, Ohio's public school have all received their polio shots — because of a history class discussion.

The class was studying how laws are made when the discussion turned to a bill then before the Ohio legislature which would require polio immunization for every public school pupil unless his parents objected in writing.

A classroom survey showed that only a third of the students had received their Salk shots. The pupils promptly asked that arrangements be made for mass inoculations with one provision: that they pay for the vaccine themselves. It was arranged.

Insects have no lungs. They breathe through tubes running all through their bodies.

STEREO HEARING AIDS

Stereo has gone to work for the hard-of-hearing. Hearing aids have been developed which come in pairs, one for each ear, separately adjusted.

The Hearing Aid Industry Conference said this method of bi-natural hearing enables persons with certain types of defects to achieve a better sense of sound direction and distance than a single aid would give them.

TAKE 'EM DOWN EASY

The Stampede riders have been practicing on Tuesdays and Thursdays for several weeks in preparation for their drills to be given at the rodeo on Saturday and Sunday. Twenty members strong, the group is led by Dick Hibberd of Elgin. (Observer)
