Coffee Hour Will Honor Eva Wear

Mabel McCoy, Jean Gaily, Wilma Easley, Freda Gray and Margaret Miller are hostesses for a coffee hour to be held honoring Eva Wear. Miss Wear has retired after 28 years teaching in the Laboratory School of the Eastern Oregon College.

Often you can get rid of a day's weariness by being kind to your feet. Give them a hot and cold foot bath. Sit on the bathtub edge and dangle your feet under a faucet. Alternately turn on hot and cold water. The stimulation will be relaxing to your feet and you will feel better.

ANN LANDERS

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: Can you help us get rid of an old drunk? This lunk has been residing with us for five years. He's my wife's father and he moved in less than six months after we married. Drinking has cost him one job after another. When my wife asked if I'd mind having her father with us I thought he'd find another job and move out after a few weeks. Well, here it is, five years later and he's still with us—falling through doors and passing out regularly.

My wife agrees he should get out but she wants me to tell him. I refuse. If anything happened to him after he left us, it would be my fault and I'd never hear the end of it. I need some outside advice.—The E-Victor.

Miss Martin was born Aug. 24, 1946, at Pendleton, and had been a resident of La Grande for 12 years.

Survivors are the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Martin; three brothers, Stephen, Kenneth and Leon; one sister, Connie Jo, all of La Grande. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Martin of Pilot Rock, and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Suiste of Echo. There are other relatives.

Dear Ann: Our daughter is 17 and "engaged to be engaged." Her boy friend works in an office and rents a room across the street from our home so we see a good bit of him.

His parents live 300 miles away and he's invited her to drive down and meet them. I don't see anything wrong with this as the boy is very fine and I trust my daughter implicitly.

My husband has been stubborn about giving his permission. He claims it's not decent for unmarried people to travel together and says we'd be crazy to give our blessings to this trip. He says he trusts them too, but that this is begging for trouble.

I want to phone our clergyman but my husband said he's ashamed to let the clergyman know we're even considering such a thing. We have agreed to let you decide.—Anxious Parents.

Dear Parents: I'm with your husband. It would be neither wise nor proper to permit your daughter to take a 300 mile trip with a boy to whom she's "engaged to be engaged." (What'll they think of next? I remember when girls used to be engaged to be married? If the young man's parents wish to meet your daughter, suggest they visit your city for a couple of days—but not as guests in your home.
