Religious Writer Reports On Churches Of East Berlin

By LOUIS CASSELS
UPI Staff Writer
BERLIN (UPI)—Gisela is a Nordie blonde, about 18, and very pretty. She teaches a kindergarten Sunday school class in Communist-ruled East Berlin. "I have 16 students," she said proudly. "Do they come every Sunday?" I asked. "Oh, yes, they are very faithful." "Are there many young people like you in East Germany who are active in church work?" "There are not so very many. But those who are Christians... she groped for the English words, and completed the sentence with an eloquent gesture... "it is from the heart!"

I met Gisela — and many other East German Christians — at a church meeting in West Berlin. It was a semi-social gathering, held in a basement beer hall that was closed to the public for the evening. But to the East Germans, some of whom had traveled great distances to attend, the real attraction was obviously the opportunity for fellowship with other Christians. Here, for a few hours, they could breathe the air of freedom and remind themselves that they are not alone and isolated. "How had it for you in East Germany now?" I asked a young Lutheran pastor from Eisenach. "It has gotten much worse in the last two years," he said. "The government is bringing more and more pressure on Christian families to send their children to the Communist youth dedication ceremony instead of having them confirmed in the church. If the child goes to confirmation anyway, he is barred from further education in the state-controlled schools. Sometimes the father is fired from his job on some flimsy pretext."

losses of membership in our congregations. Those who were not particularly ardent Christians to begin with, they are now finding it more expedient to stay away from the church. "But those who remain are real, confessing Christians. They do not sneak into services, hoping no one will see them. They walk proudly down the main street to church on Sunday morning, carrying their bibles and hymn books conspicuously in their hands." I told him that by contrast it was very easy and very respectable to be a church member in America. "By your faithfulness under persecution, you are giving the Christians of other lands an inspiring example." I said.

Straw Stacks Burn On Farm

By NELLINE TUCK
Observer Correspondent
A fire broke out at the Mike Royes farm Tuesday afternoon, burning three straw stacks. All the stacks of grass seed and the machinery were moved to safety. While they were fighting this fire another one broke out in Imbler and they had to call Island City fire department for help.

Suffering is Good

He replied in a tone of gentle rebuke. "Do not call us martyrs," he said. "It has been good for us to suffer a little bit for our faith."

Many Leave Churches

"Yes. It would be false to deny that we have suffered heavy losses."

Best Engines!

One of 7 Big Bests Chevy gives you over any car in its field

Best Economy

No doubt about this: a pair of Chevy sixes with Powerglide came in first and second in their class in this year's Mobilgas Economy Run—getting the best mileage of any full-size car, 22.38 miles per gallon.

Best Brakes

Not only bigger, but built with bonded linings for up to 66% longer life. Just to prove what's what, Chevy out-stopped both of the "other two" in a NASCAR-conducted test of repeated stops from highway speeds.

Best Ride

A few minutes behind the wheel will leave no doubt about this. MOTOR TREND magazine sums it up this way: "... the smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class."

Best Trade-In

Check the figures in any N.A.D.A.* Guide Book. You'll find that Chevy used car prices last year averaged up to $128 higher than comparable models of the "other two."

Best Room

Official dimensions reported to the Automobile Manufacturers Association make it clear. Chevy's front seat hip room, for example, is up to 5.9 inches wider than comparable cars.

Best Style

It's the only car of the leading low-priced 3 that's unmistakably modern in every line. "In its price class," says POPULAR SCIENCE magazine, "a new high in daring styling."

Open invitation to excitement, the Impala Convertible... and America's only authentic sports car, the Corvette.

You've got more to go on than our say-so: Every motor magazine has given Chevy's standard passenger car and Corvette V8's unmitigated praise. SPORTS CARS ILLUSTRATED says it this way: "... surely the most wonderfully responsive engine available today at any price." And if you want the thrif of a six, you still get the best of it in a Chevy.

NO WONDER MORE PEOPLE ARE BUYING CHEVROLETS IN '59 THAN ANY OTHER CAR!
