Monday's Results
Van Petten's 12 Farnam's 4
VFW 17 Laurence's 10
Cardinals 5 Tigers 4

Van Petten's and the VFW grabbed solid wins and the Cardinals edged the Tigers 5-4 as the Little League program swings in to its last week of action.

The Lumberjacks grabbed a two-run lead in the first only to see Farnam's score three times in the top of the second to go ahead in the game. Bill DeLashmutt lead off for Van Petten's and was safe on an error. Dave Cash, who struck out 14 batters in five innings, singled.

Lyle Masters was safe on an error and Lilly's double scored two runs. Farnam's three runs came after Sidor doubled and walks to Jensen and Eckel walked to fill the bases. Jackman was safe on an error with Sidor scoring.

Hunter singled to score two runs and Farnam's lead 3-2.

Van Petten's scored six runs in the bottom of the inning. Thomas was safe on an error and Ward and Leach walked to fill the bases. Cash doubled to chase home a pair of runs and Masters' single accounted for another marker. Lilly belted a home run to cinch the game for the Lumberjacks.

Farnam's picked up a single run on three walks and a hit batter in the third. Four more Lumberjack runs crossed the plate in the fourth inning on a hit batter and five straight errors.

Cash got the win and Steve Craig was the loser with six strikeouts.

Laurence's got off to a two run lead in the first and came back to match an eight run burst by the VFW in the second.

The VFW eight runs came after Mousel and Stiff and McMaster had walked and Ritchey was safe on an error. Scott was hit by the pitcher to force the second run across. Mousel, Alexander and Ritchey singled and Stiff and McMaster walked to force two more runs in.

Deatherage, Lovely, Lew and Jones walked for the first Laurence run in the second. With the bases loaded, Maldonado smacked a bases clearing home run to make it 8-7.

Caldwell, Brown and Satar drew walks and all three scored on Lovely's double.

From here it was all VFW. They scored two runs in the third to tie the game 10-10. Five runs in the fourth on two hit batters, two errors and walks clinched the game. Two more runs scored in the fifth on a double by Scott and Mousel's single.

The Cardinals outscored the Tigers 5-4 although they picked up only one hit in the process.

The Tigers scored first in the top of the first inning. Ted Hilliard scored and stole second. He advanced to third on a ground out and scored on Holme's single.

Miller scored the Cards first run in the bottom of the first.

The Tigers jumped for two quick runs in the third. Moore walked and went to second on a balk. Holme's singled to drive in the second run. Gerry was safe on a fielder's choice, stole second and scored on an error by the first baseman.

The Cards scored four times in the fourth. Buddy Hilliard was safe on an error and stole second and third. Elhart squeezed him home and was safe at first. Jim Cash was safe on an error at third and stole second. Kemp walked and everybody advanced on a wild pitch.

Herrman was safe on an error before Wilber singled to drive in the final runs.

Moore scored for the Tigers in the fifth after walking and going to third on an error. Gerry singled to drive in the run.

Tom Kemp was the winner and Rick Gerry got the loss.

'Cut Throat' Tactics Out In New League

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI)—Owners of the first two of six teams to make up the new professional football league said today there will be no "cut-throat competition" between the American Football League and the current National Football League.

Millionaire oilman K. S. (Bud) Adams, 36, said he will definitely field a team from Houston and that he will be the sole owner of the team. It is the second team to be entered.

Lamar Hunt, 36, who will field a team from Dallas and was the driving force behind the formation of the new league, was on hand when Adams announced his "entry into the circuit."

They said that there would definitely be four more teams ready for the 1960 season, and that they would be announced within the next 30 days. They are expected to be from New York, Denver, Los Angeles and the Minneapolis-St. Paul area.

Two additional teams will be added in 1961.

Hunt and Adams, both millionaires, said the new league has a verbal agreement with the National Football League to honor each other's contracts and that there will be an unlimited television policy.

"There isn't going to be any cut-throat competition," Hunt said.

"There will be two separate player drafts," Hunt explained. "If a player is drafted by both leagues, he can take his choice."

Hunt said that the American League will be able to televise anywhere in NFL territory, but there is no definite television connection at present.

"It will be sold as a league," he said.

Both of the two Texas teams appeared to be on sound financial footing.

Changes Made In Roster For East-West Game

Two changes have been made in the first team - roster of the West in the eighth annual East-West All-Star football game to be played in Pendleton Aug. 22.

Oscar Wheeler, Mapleton, replaced Bill Snider, Yoncalla. Snider resigned to join the Navy.

Leroy Smith, Corbett, replaces Lloyd Paseman. Crow, who resigned.

Both replacements have confirmed their selection.

American Leaguers Win All-Star 5-3

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The second All-Star game of 1959 was a "good production" to "here" Yogi Berra, the managers, the players and 55,105 fans who saw the American League defeat the National League, 5-3.

The victory reversed the National League's 5-4 win at Pittsburgh last month. National League starting pitcher Don Drysdale, most valuable player of the first All-Star game, was the loser.

Berra got his first extra-base hit—a two-run homer—in 11 All-Star games. It won him the second game's most valuable player award.

Manager Poul Richards of the Baltimore Orioles, who uttered pregame disgruntled criticism of his rookie hurler, Jerry Walker, being picked to pitch on one day's notice could be proud of the 20-year-old.

Things were a little quieter in the National League dressing room but manager Fred Haney of the Braves and all the players did not appear too unhappy about having lost. Haney called the second All-Star game a "good production."

Johnny Temple's leadoff double for the National League led to the game's first run as he was sacrificed home Hank Aaron of the Braves. But the lead did not last long. Frank Malone of the Red Sox tied it up in the second with his first of five homers in the game, blasting one of Drysdale's throws over the notorious left field screen that started 251-feet from home plate.

When Berra homered with one aboard in the next inning that all but put the game in the hook shop.

Frank Robinson of Cincinnati might have been the game's hero had the National League won. The Red Sox first baseman led off with a homer in the fifth off Early Wynn, getting two more singles for a three-for-three record.

But the Americans increased their lead 4-2 in the seventh when they scored an unearned run as three National Leaguers—erred, with Nellie Fox driving in Tony Kubek to score.

That was the ball game but Rocky Colavito of the Indians frosted the Nationals cake with a leadoff homer in the eighth off Pittsburgh's Elroy Face.

Jim Gilliam of the Dodgers scored the third National League run with a homer in the seventh. But in the ninth with two men on base and two away he grounded out to end the game.

Yields Only Two Hits
 Walker, the youngest pitcher to start an All-Star game, got credit for the win as he gave up but two hits and one run in the three innings. American League manager Casey Stengel used three Baltimore hurlers despite Richards' criticism, sending in Hoyt Wilhelm for one inning and Billy O'Dell for one.

The second All-Star game proved a financial success with gross receipts of $283,120. The net receipts alter taxes were $262,336.47.

In the first All-Star game at Pittsburgh, the crowd of 35,277 paid a gross $229,636 through the gates with a net of $194,303.46.

"It was a good game, a well played game," Stengel commented in the clubhouse. "And there is nothing wrong with this park."

To ward off possible criticism of his using three Baltimore hurlers, Stengel explained he carefully asked each pitcher if he felt he was ready to throw and felt good.

But nobody felt any better than Berra who said he caught a chest-high fast ball for his homer in the third with Nellie Fox of the White Sox on base. "When I caught it I knew it was a good one and gone," the barrel-chested Yankee catcher explained.

Not Too Unhappy
 Things were a little quieter in the National League dressing room but manager Fred Haney of the Braves and all the players did not appear too unhappy about having lost. Haney called the second All-Star game a "good production."

'Where's The Beer? Asks Yogi Berra

By YOGI BERRA
 As told to UPI

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Where the hell's the beer?

I guess that was the first thing I said when I came into the American League dressing room. But I felt pretty good anyhow after hitting that homer. It was a fast ball, chest-high and the first one Don Drysdale threw to me.

When I caught it I knew it was a good one and gone.

It was the first extra base hit I've made in the 11 All-Star games I've played in. Nellie Fox was on base, and we went ahead, 3-1. It went over the right field fence, but I wasn't trying to hit it there. I was just trying to hit the ball anywhere.

A ball's hard to see here—damn hard. The clothing and the big blank spots in the Coliseum made it very difficult to follow the ball. And that guy Drysdale throws fast.

Sometimes there's luck in this sort of thing. There may have been some luck here—I don't know for sure.

I don't know about how I'd feel if I had to bat against Drysdale all the time. He throws hard enough—I know that. I'd have to get used to him.

Sometimes you hit a ball, and you know you hit it good. Today I knew I'd hit one, and it felt mighty good.

Gary Raid Joins College All-Stars

SALEM (UPI)—Former Willamette University star Gary Raid of the National Football League Green Bay Packers has been chosen to fill a vacancy in the College All-Star lineup. The All-Stars clash with the world champ Baltimore Colts Aug. 14 in Chicago.

Raid is the first Northwest Conference football player ever chosen for the All-Star and pro football classic.

League Leaders Face Make Or Break Trips

The pennant hopes of the Chicago White Sox and Milwaukee Braves, two red-hot clubs, now face make-or-break "road tests."

If the Sox and Braves can stay hot during road trips that open Tuesday night, they may be able to take a stranglehold on the two pennant races. The Sox have won six straight and 11 of the last 12 (not including one tie); the Braves have won five of the last six.

The Sox actually are in a better spot than the Braves for a pennant drive.

Already three games in front of second-place Cleveland, Chicago collides with Baltimore tonight in the opener of a 13-game trip that could boost their margin. If the Sox return home Aug. 18 with that lead boosted to five or six games, they would be mighty hard to stop as they seek Chicago's first flag in 40 years.

Manager Al Lopez wanted to open the trip with ace Early Wynn on the mound, but he worked in Monday's All-Star game so Barry Lattman (4-4) gets the call against lefty Billy Hoelt (1-5).

Milwaukee still is in third place despite its spurt, one game behind San Francisco and a half-game behind Los Angeles.

But things will change abruptly if the defending National League champs stay hot, for their 13-game swing opens with three games in San Francisco, followed by two in Los Angeles. If the Braves come out of those five frays on top, they would be in a fine position to drive for their third straight pennant.

Milwaukee has left ace Warren Spahn (14-10) ready to battle lefty Mike McCormick in the Tuesday night opener.

Los Angeles also is a hot club with six wins in the last seven games and is set to open a home stand against Cincinnati.

In the American League, Cleveland also is opening a road trip that will touch, in different order, the same places that the White Sox will visit. The Indians have Jim Perry (7-3) set to oppose Bill Fischer (6-6) of Washington in the opener.

San Diego's runs came on solo homers by Steve Jankowski in the fourth and Allen Jones in the seventh, both in the left field seats.

The Phoenix Giants defeated Spokane, 5-4, in the only other PCL game played. Sacramento at Vancouver, the only other game scheduled, was rained out.

Spokane's loss stretched the distance between seventh place and first place to 5 1/2 games in the girdle-tight PCL race.

Bevos Beat San Diego

The Portland Beavers defeated San Diego 6-2 Monday night in the first contest of a four-game Pacific Coast League series and capped the scoring with a three-run homer.

Jack Littrell belted his 12th home run of the season in the eighth inning when the Beavers were leading 3-2. The win left Portland in second place, one game behind league leading Sacramento.

Marty Kutyna pitched a four-hitter in recording his 10th win versus eight defeats. Padre starter Carl Thomas took the loss, his fourth in seven appearances.

Portland loaded the bases with no outs in the first inning on hits by Milt Graff, Clarence Moore and Dave Melton. Then Thomas hit Jim Greengrass with a pitched ball to score Graff. Moore raced home when Bob DiPietro hit into a double play. Thomas walked two men and Melton scored when Jim Westlake hit into a forced play.

San Diego's runs came on solo homers by Steve Jankowski in the fourth and Allen Jones in the seventh, both in the left field seats.

The Phoenix Giants defeated Spokane, 5-4, in the only other PCL game played. Sacramento at Vancouver, the only other game scheduled, was rained out.
