OUR BOARDING HOUSE With Major Hoople

WILLIAM EWALD SAYS:

Peck's Bad Girl Winds Up After A Skimpy Run
NEW YORK (UPI) — Peck's Bad Girl buttoned up its season Tuesday night after a skimpy run of three months. It went out in a blaze of glory.
It's both bewildering and sad that the CBS-TV situation comedy should have elected to take the course it did. On the planning board, it held some promise: A father who was not a bumblehead, a mother who was neither a conniver nor anti-man, a couple of children of only medium loathsomeness.
But the series quickly abandoned its ground rules. It wallowed in corncake, milling the standardly limp essays of its genre each week, frittering itself away on fribble. Father became, if not precisely a bumblehead, a kind of cheerful collaborator in idiocy, mother became semi-aggressive, the children were converted into caricatures, the plots crumbled in a thick dust of homilies.
Tuesday night's finale scraped hardpan for the series. It had something or other to do with a treehouse and bird watchers and building inspectors and dissolved in a predictable puddle of gook and good will.
"It just goes to show you that everything will turn out all right if you have faith..." said one of participants in part at the close. Well, the principal trouble with Peck's Bad Girl is that it lacked faith. Fittingly, everything turned out rather badly.

Private Power Consumption Shows Increase

SALEM (UPI) — Average consumption for residential and rural customers of five privately-owned electric utilities in Oregon showed an increase in 1958 compared with the two previous years.
A Public Utility Commission report forwarded to Gov. Mark Hatfield dealt mainly with private utilities which serve 84 per cent of the state's users.
Average consumption was reported as 8,279 KWH for 1958 as against 8,139 and 7,792 for 1957 and 1956.
Eleven municipally-owned utilities serviced 7 per cent of the state's electrical customers and 16 cooperatives and four people's utility districts furnished service to 6 per cent and 3 per cent, respectively.
The average charge per KWH for Oregon private utilities was 1.27 cents as against 2.53 cents for the United States as a whole. Average annual revenue per customer was $105.35 as compared to $85.16 for the national figure.

OUT OF TUNE

COPENHAGEN (UPI) — Two 17-year-old boys were arrested Thursday for stealing two organ pipes from St. Augustin's Church to use for exhaust pipes on their motorcycles.
Some of the shows on the planning board for NBC-TV's Project 20 series this coming season include "Mark Twain's America," "The Ragtime Era," "Life in The '30's" and "The Carefree Years" — the last will study the

SPORTS HERO ROLL AGAIN FOR NON-ATHLETIC TONY

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Staff Writer
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Tony Perkins, an admitted non-athlete, is playing a sports hero for the second time in his career — and for the second time in a sport he's never seen.
Six-foot two-inch Tony began work this week portraying a basketball star. His first outing as a celluloid athlete was in the film biography of baseball flash Jim Piersall, "Fear Strikes Out."
Tony has never seen either game played, and had never trod on baseball diamond or basketball court.
"It's not that he's a lounge lizard. The slim, trim actor has been too busy in other pursuits, principally improving himself as a performer."
Learning to handle these athletic roles is all part of acting," he said during a Brown Derby lunch. "So I've been busy working out at the Warner Brothers gym discovering what basketball is all about."
"I spend about an hour and a half a day dribbling, passing, shooting baskets and going after rebounds. An hour and a half is about all I can take. It's exhausting."
"I was amazed at the intricacy and science involved."
Tony, who recently completed "On the Beach" for Stanley Kramer, is taking his chances in "Tall Story."
Sports pictures, with a few exceptions such as "Pride of the Yankees," have bombed at the boxoffice.
"This movie is basically a romantic comedy with a basketball background," he explained. "The emphasis is not on basketball, but on the characters involved."
"I find it more difficult to project myself into the physical skill

Michigan's Poet Laureate Edgar Guest, 77, Dies

DETROIT (UPI) — Poet Edgar A. Guest died early today at his home here.
The 77-year-old poet laureate of Michigan had been ill for several years. His physician said death was caused by a cerebral hemorrhage.
Guest, who has been called "the poet of the plain people," had been writing verses for more than 50 years. When he stopped counting in 1930, he estimated he had written more than 30,000 poems.
His most famous book of poetry, "A Heap O' Living," sold more than a half a million copies and resulted in a Detroit grammar school being named in his honor.
Guest's verses have appeared daily in the Detroit Free Press for decades and he liked to consider himself a working newsman rather than a poet.
