Reviewer Has More Praise For Andy Williams Show

By FRED DANZIG UPI Staff Writer NEW YORK (UPI) — I didn't intend to be repetitious when it came time to write today's column, but—

That Andy Williams Show is the most. It deserves all the praise it's getting. Did you see it Tuesday night? Andy's guests on the CBS-TV hour were Mel Torme and Eydie Gorme.

Not only do the names rhyme, but they also look like brother and sister. These three youngsters put on one of the swiftest, exciting, spark-showing and memorable shows of the year. And in mid-summer, too.

Apart from their singing, and choice of songs, the show included a refreshing Keystone Kop dance sequence, the wild comedy of Mr. Ballantine, and the usual assortment of eye-catching, imaginative sets.

My congratulations to all who put the show together. They've a respect for taste and a superb ability to express it. And, man, are they making everything else look shabby this summer.

Short Shots: Molly Bee, a guest on NBC-TV's Jimmie Rodgers Show, displayed a pleasing, sultry jazz-type sound. She has come a long way from the louder and bouncier country-style singing she did on Pinky Lee's Kiddy Show some years back.

Keith Andes, as beloved "Dr. Mike," tried to leave the hospital for a hard-earned round of golf on CBS-TV's Adventure Showcase rerun and, somehow, I suspected he'd never get past the door. He didn't. That's the sort of drama it was. Predictable. Corny. Outrageous. Mike had to operate on a dying woman while her crazed husband stood behind him with a gun and threatened to shoot him—right in the operating room — if the patient conked out, I just hope Dr. Mike's needlework didn't show as many loose ends as the script did. Only one laugh in this show: A "tired blood" commercial led into the scene where the patient is wheeled into surgery.

The Channel Swim: Robert Sauter Associates will produce at least eight hour-long classic mystery dramas for viewing next year, with Joseph Welch, the noted Boston attorney, serving as program host. The series, sponsored by the Dow Chemical Co., will dramatize mystery classics by such writers as Edgar Allan Poe, Wilkie Collins and Mary Shelley. Peter Ustinov has signed to appear in at least one show.

Producer David Susskind, mentioned as producer of a TV special that would honor Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt on her 75th birthday Oct. 11, has learned that Mrs. Roosevelt objects to this plan and will not cooperate. A spokesman for the former first lady told UPI that Mrs. Roosevelt wants no mention made of her forthcoming birthday to anyone. Would she watch the TV show if it goes on? "Mrs. Roosevelt never watches TV, except when something important is on. And this isn't," was the reply.

Heavyweight champ Ingemar Johansson will spar with dancer Gwen Verdon on NBC-TV's opening Dinah Shore Show on Sunday, Oct. 4. A special salute to one part of the Broadway scene, "Shubert's Alley," is set for NBC-TV on Friday, Nov. 13.

He and Mrs. Dann were here for the summer. Born in Brighton, England in 1890, Dann moved to Canada when he was 16. After moving to Oregon, he received his bachelor degree from Pacific College, Newberg, in 1917 and his masters degree the next year at Haverford College, Pennsylvania.

From 1924 to 1927 Dann was assistant manager of Miles Linen Company of Salem. He was a member of the Oregon Prison Association from 1946 to 1952 and served as president in 1948-50.

Memorial services are scheduled for Friday afternoon at Westminster House, student religious center across from the Oregon State College campus. Survivors include the widow, Lyra, and a daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Bower, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Sandra Baird Attends Methodist Conference WALLOWA (Special) — Miss Sandra Baird of Wallowa leaves for Lafayette, Indiana, Thursday, August 20, where she will attend the National Convocation of Methodist Youth at Purdue University, August 24-28. Miss Baird is one of 24 youth delegates and six adults from Methodist churches of the Idaho Annual Conference.

The delegation will spend Sunday, August 23, in Chicago, visiting Methodist churches and settlement houses. At Purdue they will hear addresses by important personalities and great leaders of the church.

The party will return by way of Denver, arriving home August 30.

FOR DRESS-UP—For those dressier occasions Mary Lee Klomp has chosen a green, white, and brown plaid traveler suit. Her sweater is in a matching shade of green. The jacket may be worn either buttoned or unbuttoned and may be seen at the Top Shop. (Observer)

OSC Professor Robert H. Dann Dies In Corvallis

CORVALLIS (UPI)—Robert H. Dann, 69, professor emeritus of sociology of Oregon State College, died here Tuesday of a heart attack.

He had been on the OSC staff for 29 years beginning in 1927. He retired in 1956 and for the past two years taught sociology at College of the Pacific at Stockton, Calif.

Plaid's Make Bold Return

Hoot Mon! There's news for bonnie lassies in Scottish-inspired themes! Look for wrap-type kilt-like skirts with fringe and huge safety pin closing as well as pleated all 'round skirts in Royal Stewart, Hunting Douglas, Ancient Cummings and other authentic clan tartans.

Lads, too, will like the new plaids shown in sport shirts, jackets and fur coats; campus casuals point up walking shorts and even all plaid just-for-fun slacks.

UNDERTOW DROWNS WADERS KEANSBURG, N.J. (UPI) — A 23-year-old man and two boys drowned Sunday when they were caught by an undertow while wading in Raritan Bay. An 18-year-old youth and three girls who were with the three victims struggled safely to shore after being caught in the undertow. The dead were Salvatore Cacia, 23, and Michael Vizzoni, 11, both of Kenilworth, and Sandy Notte, 15, of Nutley.

Convict Thanks Sentencing Judge

WICHITA, Kans. (UPI)—Robert Feree, 18, who is serving a robbery sentence of from 10 to 21 years at the Kansas State Reformatory in Hutchinson, has written a letter of appreciation to the man who sent him there.

Feree told district Judge Clement Clark, who sentenced him: "I wish to thank you for the opportunity you have given me to make something of myself. I am sorry now that you didn't send me here when I first came to court. I truly feel now I would have been better off if you had."
