THE CITY PARK SPRINKLERS?

No, this is not a city park sprinkling system that looks like a typical operation in some cities, it is the filtration area that is supposed to purify the water that falls down in spray fashion over a crushed rock surface of rock-layer formations underneath, purifying the run-off at the city sewage treatment plant. To all intents and purposes the water is supposed to be pure but state sanitation, as well as city tests have proved otherwise. One facility never put into use when the sewage treatment plant was constructed about 35 years ago-then one of the most modern plants of a town this size in the Northwest - is the chlorine shed.

Farmers Objected

This facility was left unfinished when farmers who resided in the valley areas to the southeast and east feared that the chemical added for further purifica-tion would kill crop vegetation. The empty-out pool from the digester also was termed 150 small to handle the increasing work load at the plant and thus another and larger pool area had to be dredged some time ago. According to Young, the state is objecting to the system of get-ting rid of the flow-off effluent, not necessarily the small irriga-

SHE'S COT A PLAN—A new addition to TV's first "Law-man" show this fall will be a dance hall gal named "Lily" to be played by Peggie Castle. Above, she gives Marshal Dan Troup (played by John Russell) something to smile about which Deputy Marshal Johnny McKay (Peter Brown) doesn't seem to approve.
