Huck Weaving Project Given At Extension

The Blue Mountain Juniors Extension unit met Wednesday for a project on huck towel weaving. The group met in the home of Ernie Baker.

Iris Bates and Delpha Hamann were leaders for the project and led the group in making their own towels. It was shown how various articles could be finished with the weaving.

There were 25 members attending for the evening. Three guests, Mrs. William Ziegler, Mrs. Audrey Carey and Mrs. Patty Turner, and the members each introduced themselves. First giving their name, the name of their husband and how many children and their ages.

A game played with buttons was won by Iris Bates.

During the business meeting conducted by the new chairman, Mrs. Nellie Stewart, committees were named for the year.

Committees named were as follows: Membership—Velma Cribbs and Carol Hadden; Hospitality—Mary Anne Neer and Lucille Crouser; Luncheon—Ernie Baker and Artie Thielen; Recreation—Darlene Rogers and Rose Carper; Publicity—Maxine Nurmi and Betty Rogers; 4-H Club—Mary Lou Wilson and Iris Bates; Finance—Joan O'Rourke and Ellen Ziegler; and ACWW—Lois Rogers and Gertrude Murphy.

The next meeting of the group will be held Oct. 7, at 7:45 p.m. in the home of Betty Rogers. Project will be etching aluminum trays.

ANN LANDERS

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann: I'm a sensible young lady, 18, and in nurses' training. I've been going steady with a fellow 22. Before he came along I dated many men. One day I realized I wasn't working toward a permanent relationship with anyone. Since this particular fellow seemed like the best of the lot I decided to concentrate on him.

He sensed my special interest and immediately suggested I stop dating the others. He said I was the type of girl he had always wanted. Now I'm wondering—wanted—for what? He treats me coldly when others are present. He almost bullies me, you might say. When I broach the subject of marriage, he skillfully changes the topic. He gets furious when I hint that I may date someone else. Yet he studiously avoids committing himself. What's the next step?—Dangling.

Dear Dangling: You're only 18, Toots. What's the big hurry to beat a commitment out of anybody? In your attempt to tie up this fellow you've become pretty well tangled in the ropes. Has the kill killed the butcher? Unwind and enjoy the sweet flavor of freedom until you're mature enough to think about a permanent relationship.

Dear Ann: What can we do about a headstrong daughter who is 21 and tells us she can do as she pleases? In November she comes into $7,000 from her grandfather's estate. There are no strings on this money. She gets it all at once. Mae quit high school at 16 to "go on the stage." That didn't pan out so she worked on a steamship as a stateroom maid and went all over the world. For six months we didn't know where she was. Last night she announced she'll

Elgin Teachers Hold Dinner

ELGIN (Special)—The Elgin school teachers and their families held a potluck dinner Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Whitmore, honoring the new teachers and their families. Over 90 people were present for the lawn party. Harry Trump won the prize given for the best acquainted game played. New teachers this year are Athel Sayre, Joe Miller, Dale Hargett, Faustella Rutherford, Russell Rhodig, Marian Morgan, Gerald Hollingsworth.

Those unable to attend were Louis Colclasure, Hazel Croghan and Dale Hargett.

er and pretty tired when I get home. I'm mad at my wife for taking off like this without considering me. I wrote her that when she gets back I'm going fishing by myself for two weeks. Her reply was "You want to go alone because you're taking a woman."

Do you think I'm entitled to this vacation by myself?—Dad. Dear Dad: I do indeed. Your wife has no right to go off and leave you with five children after she had agreed to a family-type vacation. Any chance of taking the five kids who were left home?
