

Jim Hilliard Out With Broken Arm

The fortunes of La Grande's Tigers took a turn for the worse following Friday night's 26-0 victory over the Union Bobcats. Jim Hilliard, the hard-running left halfback of the Tigers, broke his arm in Friday's victory and will be out for about six weeks. Hilliard turned in one of the La Grande touchdowns on a 51 yard punt return. In addition, he also gained 35 yards in seven tries from scrimmage for a 5.0 average per carry.

left by Hilliard's absence. Don Smith, a second string all-conference back last year, will probably move into the backfield. Jim Cornett will make the shift from the right to the left side and Smith will take over at the right halfback slot. Smith picked up 20 yards in three carries Friday night and Cornett had 24 in five tries. Ray Westenskow was the Tiger's top ground gainer picking up 94 yards in 10 attempts and adding another 56 yards on three completions in six attempts through the air.

Australian Wins U.S. Net Title

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (UPI)—Australian Neale Fraser, the new U.S. amateur tennis champion, and runner-up Alex Olmedo of Peru both had a hopeful if slightly jaundiced eye on the professional net game today. Fraser moved into the center of the play-for-pay picture Sunday when he upset Olmedo's $100,000 pro opponent by beating the Peruvian for the U.S. crown, 6-3, 5-7, 6-2, 6-4. The only difficulty was that Olmedo, the Wimbledon champion, apparently had blown his big offer by losing the U.S. title and nobody has ever made Fraser an offer.

Haun said he was not overly pleased with anything except the win. "We are progressing fairly well, especially the younger players," Haun added. Haun felt the sophomores would develop and give the squad greater depth at the end of the year than previously hoped for. Some of the edge was taken off the loss of Hilliard with the word that Lonnie Myers, 180-pound junior guard, and Gregg Blackman, 175-pounder at guard, would return to practice this week. Hilliard's injury marks the third loss the Tiger has suffered this season. Myers suffered a broken jaw in a wheat field before practice started and has sat out the first three weeks of drills. Ken Hildebrandt, expected to open in the line for the Tigers, is in a cast with a broken ankle and now Hilliard will be gone with a busted arm.

Complicating the whole situation was the fact that pro net czar Jack Kramer had his entourage failing for francs in Paris so that he wasn't on hand to tell either the victorious Fraser or the disappointed Olmedo — who had the excuse of a sore shoulder in the finals — just how matters stood. But both men were willing. Fraser, the fourth straight Australian to wear the U.S. crown felt, quite naturally, that Olmedo's excuse of a sore shoulder had little to do with the outcome on a day in which Brazil's Maria Bueno took the women's crown with a 6-1, 6-4 win over England's Christine Truman. Certainly Fraser displayed the same "big game" he used defeating Olmedo in the key match of the recent Davis Cup challenge round as he walloped the son of the Incas decisively.

MAKES COACH HAPPY — Vel West, veteran tackle for the WSU Cougars, rejoined the squad after sitting out last season. The former La Grande High School athlete reported to camp weighing 220 pounds and in good shape. He is running at the right tackle spot and bidding for a starting berth against California in Spokane next Saturday night. West is one of the seven married players on the Cougar roster this fall.

CHICAGO, SF MOVE CLOSER TO PENNANT

United Press International
The White Sox have a new magic number and the Giants an old magic name today as the major league pennant races go into their final two weeks. The White Sox virtually clinched the American League pennant race when they zoomed into a 5 1/2 game lead Sunday while the Giants inched closer to the National League flag by opening a two-game bulge on two other contenders. For the White Sox, the "magic number" is six—meaning that any combination of Chicago victories and Cleveland losses which total six clinches the Sox' first flag in 40 years. And the old "magic name" for the Giants is Dusty Rhodes — pinch hitter par excellence of the 1954 world champions who drove in the only run in San Francisco's 1-0 triumph over the Philadelphia Phillies. Billy Goodman's first homer in two years provided the margin of the White Sox' 3-1 win over the Boston Red Sox and the second-place Cleveland Indians saw their hopes practically disappear when they suffered 2-1 and 1-0 losses to the New York Yankees. The Giants picked up ground on both their rivals when the Pittsburgh Pirates beat the Los Angeles Dodgers, 4-3, and the Cincinnati Reds downed the Milwaukee Braves, 3-2. Goddman's homer, following a walk to Jim Landis, came in the fourth inning and gave the White Sox a 3-0 lead. Jack Sanford pitched five-hit ball for 2 1/2 innings and Mike McCormick retired the last Philadelphia batter for the Giants. The Giants scored the game's only run in the second inning when they filled the bases with one out. Then Rhodes, batting for Danny O'Connell, delivered a sacrifice fly. Mantle Scalps Tribe. Mickey Mantle's two-run 11th inning homer gave the Yankees a come-from-behind win in the opener with Cleveland and then Duke Maas pitched a six-hitter for his 13th triumph. The Pirates sank the Dodgers on solo homers by Roman Mejias, Bob Skinner, Dick Stuart and Hank Foiles plus a sturdy nine-hit pitching job by Ron Kline. Eddie Kasko's fourth single of the game drove in Eddie Robinson with the run that enabled the Reds to ruin Warren Spahn's bid for his 20th victory of the year and record-tying 26th of his career. The Kansas City Athletics defeated the Baltimore Orioles, 9-5 in 10 innings and 4-1, and the Washington Senators beat the Detroit Tigers, 5-1, in other American League games while the Chicago Cubs whipped the St. Louis Cardinals, 8-0, in the other National League game.

Elgin Tops Heppner In Opener

ELGIN (Special)—A gang of hard blocking and tackling Huskies rolled to a 27-6 victory over Heppner in the first game of the season at Heppner Friday night. Three second half touchdowns paved the way for the Elgin victory. Bob Showers, Bob Trump and Tom Hunt scored touchdowns to help smooth the road. Heppner only got one drive going and it paid off in TD. The Huskies battled the Heppner crew throughout the drive but finally gave up the six points on a plunge from one yard out. The hard blocking and tackling by the Elgin team provided the margin of victory for the Huskies, according to Coach Dale Hargett. Saturday's Prep Football

EOC Completes First Week Of Drills For Lid Lifter

The Mountaineers of Eastern Oregon College completed their first week of rugged practice in preparation for their opening game this weekend with a 40-minute scrimmage last Saturday. Archie Dunsmoor, head coach of the Mountaineers, pushed his charges through the practice to test their conditioning and to get a look at his new players. The drill also gave Dunsmoor and assistant Don Campbell a chance to look for linebacks and defensive halfbacks. Dunsmoor, in his search for linebacks, put sophomore fullback Dean Whitely on the job and was happy with the results. Big John Willmarth, a 200-pound fullback from La Grande, who goes both ways, and who last year led the Oregon Collegiate Conference in punting, also was singled out for praise. "Physically, our condition is poor," Dunsmoor said. A week of hot, muggy weather and two a day drills has sapped the strength out of the boys. Only two weeks practice before our first game isn't much of a chance to get them ready, Dunsmoor added. Jack Wood, a two-year letterman end from Elgin, reported to the Mountaineer camp Saturday. Wood's addition was offset by the loss of freshman quarterback Don McCrea. McCrea returned to his home in Redmond after the first week of practice without giving any reason. The genial head mentor of the Mountaineers was impressed with the versatility of Gene Holt, a halfback from Umatilla. Dunsmoor said Holt looked good in the scrimmage as a running back. The quarterback slot is a two-man race between John Houk, a veteran from Stanfield, and converted fullback Gene McKinney from Union. Dunsmoor said one of the two would get the nod when the Mountaineers open against Whitman at Walla Walla Saturday. George Alverti, the all-conference returnee from Walla Walla, will be out of action for a couple of days with a sprained ankle. Alverti sprained the ankle Friday and so far it has failed to respond to treatment. Dunsmoor listed the veteran back as a doubtful starter in the opener in his home town. Among the frosh candidates for the Mountaineers, Chuck Decker an offensive end from Vale, played good defensive ball as a halfback. Dennis Bagnall, another end from Pendleton, looked sharp in practice going both ways and Larry Snook, an end from Walla Walla was also singled out for his work. EOC will continue their two a day drills through Thursday and then taper off with a single practice on Friday. "We have a lot to do in a week," Dunsmoor concluded.

Eagles Top Baltimore With Pass

United Press International
Coach Buck Shaw of the Philadelphia Eagles is realistic enough not to be expecting miracles in the 1959 National Football League campaign, but if he's strutting a little today, you can't exactly blame him. With Norm Van Brocklin pitchin' and little Tommy McDonald catchin', the Eagles soared to a surprising 35-14 victory over the champion Baltimore Colts Sunday in the biggest frosh reversal thus far in NFL exhibition play. Van Brocklin, who can carry a team a long way if he gets a little help, did exactly that against the Colts. The 33-year-old Dutchman, who completed 198 of 374 passes (high for the league in both respects) last year, made good on 15 of 28 attempts Sunday. And McDonald, former All-America from Oklahoma, snagged three of them for TD's. The 14 points scored by the Colts represented a low for the club in exhibition play, but it can be attributed to the absence from the game of No. 1 quarterback Johnny Unitas, who sat it out while Ray Brown was given a chance to run the club. In Sunday's only other game, the Detroit Lions defeated the Cleveland Browns, 31-20, on Tobin Rote's two last-quarter touchdowns passes to John Henry Johnson. Johnson's second TD came with but 71 seconds left to play and only 22 seconds after he had put the Lions back in contention by grabbing a pass tipped into his hands by Browns defender Lowe Wren. In Saturday night action, the Los Angeles Rams buried the San Francisco Forty-Niners, 48-14, with Jon Arnett and Tommy Wilson scoring twice each, and the Green Bay Packers edged the Washington Redskins, 20-13. Paul Hornung was the Green Bay hero, scoring two touchdowns and booting three field goals.

PCL Ends; Mounties Cry Robbed

United Press International
If the Vancouver Mounties start screaming "we wuz robbed" you can hardly blame them. But for three rained out games, the Mounties might have tied the Salt Lake City Bees for the Pacific Coast League pennant. PCL action ended Sunday with the Mounties clipping Seattle 7-0 in an oddly speeded up affair while Salt Lake was whipped by Sacramento, 5-3. That put the Bees just one and a half games in front of the second place Mounties. And the Bees' slim lead was picked up in the win column. Both clubs lost 69 games over the campaign, but the Bees won 85 to 82 for Vancouver. Vancouver Cries "Foul!" Vancouver General Manager Cedric Tallis did everything he could to get league president Leslie O'Connor to reschedule the three rained out games. When O'Connor said it couldn't be done, Tallis appealed to the club owners, asked for a vote. They backed up O'Connor. So the Bees are the kings, but don't be surprised if Mr. Tallis raises a mild uproar at the next league meeting. That Vancouver-Seattle affair Sunday took just one hour and 13 minutes. For fun, because the game didn't mean a thing, both clubs concentrated on hitting the first pitch. The Mounties established themselves as infinitely superior to the Rainiers in this experiment. They rapped 15 safeties while Seattle could get only four off George Bamberger. It was Bamberger's 11th win against seven losses. Perry Homers Twice Bob Perry closed out the season with a bang as he smashed a pair of tremendous homers to bat in all of Sacramento's five runs in their conquest of the league champs. The clouts were No. 19 and 20 for Perry. Winston Brown went all the way for the Sacs bringing his record to 15-14 for the season. Other PCL action saw Spokane defeat Portland, 7-3. Don Domenicelli and Al Norris each batted in three runs to lead the Indians to their win. Norris belted a three run homer in the seventh and erased a 3-1 Beaver lead. Domenicelli ripped a three run triple in the eighth. The San Diego Padres clinched third place with a 5-4 win over Phoenix in the only night game. It was the last PCL game to be played in Phoenix and an expected small crowd of 541 was on hand.

Unknown, Old Pro Play Today

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI)—Jon Gustin, an inexperienced tour traveler, and tournament-wise Julius Boros started down the final 18-hole stretch of the $25,000 Dallas Open golf tournament today deadlocked at six-under-par 204. It marked the second year in a row that a rookie unknown had shown his heels to most of the field in the Dallas Open over the Oak Cliff Country Club's hilly layout. A year ago, it was young John McMullen of Fair Oaks, Calif., who carried a five-stroke lead into the final round, fopped to a four-way tie for the lead with a 74. He lost in a playoff, but went on to a successful $13,000 season. Now, Gustin — a 27-year-old Alabamian who looks like a young business executive — is making a similar bid with the hope that he can use this event as a springboard to success. He had a bit of precedent in his favor. He's the only man in the field who has beaten par all three days and he's cut a stroke off his score each day with rounds of 69-68-67. Boros started Sunday's third round like he would run off and leave the field. He had started with a two-stroke bulge and was three-under-par through nine holes. Then his putter soured and he went bogey-par-bogey-bogey to start the back side and wound up with a 70.
