

THE NEW MRS. AMERICA KNOWS HOW TO BAKE A TASTY SWEET BREAD

Mrs. Margaret Priebe, of Des Moines, Iowa, chosen Mrs. America of 1950, had to prove her prowess as a good cook to gain her title—along with other qualifications such as look, personality, and community service. Yeast-bread baking was one of the events which tested her, as she represented her home state of Iowa in the recent contest held in Ft. Lauderdale, Florida. When you taste these HURRY-UP Orange Rolls, you'll see why the judges chose her as the nation's No. 1 homemaker.

HURRY-UP ORANGE ROLLS

1/2 cup warm, not hot, water
1 package active dry yeast
2 1/2 cups biscuit mix
1/4 cup sugar
1/2 cup butter, melted
1/2 cup orange juice
1/2 cup orange rind, grated
1/2 cup orange juice mixed with 1/2 cup sugar. Separate rolls to serve.

Dissolve yeast in warm, not hot water. Add biscuit mix, beat hard. Turn onto surface well dusted with biscuit mix. Knead until smooth, about 20 times. Roll out to a rectangle about quarter inch thick. Combine sugar and grated orange rind. Spread dough with melted butter, sprinkle sugar-orange rind mixture over surface. Roll up jelly roll fashion. Snip at 1-inch intervals. Place cut side down, in greased shallow pan. Cover with damp cloth, let rise until doubled in bulk (about one hour). Heat oven to 400° F. Bake 10-15 minutes until a rich golden brown. While still hot glaze with 1/2 cup orange juice mixed with 1/2 cup sugar. Separate rolls to serve.

ANN LANDERS

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: Don't faint. This letter is being written by a man. I was touched by the sad letter from the girl who wanted to develop her measurements and was miserable because nature had cheated her. She signed her letter "Flat Florence."

I was married to the other kind for three years. She lived in front of the mirror with a tape measure in her hand. She was a loopy cook (when she cooked) and the world's worst housekeeper. If a button came off my coat she'd pin it on. I never saw a needle or thread in our house.

Her own clothes were beautiful and that's all she cared about. She wasn't happy unless every man in the room was falling all over her.

My second wife is a wonderful person but she has a terrific complex because she's a Flat Florence, too. She keeps comparing herself with my first wife. No matter how I try, I can't get it through her head that it doesn't matter. I wish you'd print this letter, Ann. I think it would make her feel better.

—Syd

Dear Syd: Here's the letter—and I hope it makes your wife feel better. It should give a lift to all Flat Florences who know there are men around who are not dimension-wacky.

Dear Ann: My husband and I

both work five days a week. When I get home I have to wash the breakfast dishes, clean the house, prepare dinner, wash, iron, pay bills and do the endless chores a housewife falls heir to.

My husband plops himself in front of the TV, reads the paper and takes a nap in the chair until I wake him up and announce that dinner is on the table. After dinner he gets back to the same chair until bed time.

If I suggest that he fill my coffee cup or carry out the garbage he gives me a scathing look and says, "I worked hard all day."

Am I wrong to expect a little help around the house? If I am, please tell me and I'll keep my mouth closed. If I'm right, I'd like a little support from you in writing. —Pooped Yvonne.

Dear Yvonne: A woman who helps bring home the bacon has a right to expect her husband to help her fry it.

Since you're holding down two jobs your hubby should get off his rusty hobby and pitch in on the home front. If he refuses, tell him you're quitting your salaried job before you cave in.

Dear Ann: I'm having a peculiar problem with my 13-year-old and I need your help.

I hardly recognize Bernice when she walks in the door. She always has someone else's clothes on. There are six girls in her "inside circle" as she calls it, and they are forever switching clothes.

I don't know why she goes to such pains to buy just the right dresses, skirts, sweaters and blouses. After two weeks I never see them.

Are all girls this way, or is this bunch daffy? What should I do about it?—Just another mother.

Dear Just Another: This adolescent "sickness" is common among 12-year-olds. Be patient and I promise she'll outgrow it as she did the previous phases.

Confidential: Torn to pieces: Put yourself back together and cut out the self pity. I hear from plenty of people who deserve a medal for facing life every day.

Eagles Auxiliary Drapes Charter

Ladies Auxiliary to the Eagles Lodge, opened their meeting with Madam President Rebekah Huff in the chair. There were 32 members present.

The charter was draped in honor of Mary Breshears, who died the latter part of last month.

Baker members were present and the hope expressed that they would continue to come. Chairman of the rummage sale, Bea Houle, reported the sum of $79.28 taken at the last sale. Some rummage that was left over, will be taken by the Drill team, with money to go to the drill team fund.

Sick committee, Dorothy Pierce and Hazel Case, reported on members who are ill. Gladys Huff, Edna Milbert and Nava King.

It was decided to hold a dip dinner Sept. 20, with serving to begin at 4 p.m. Clara Leavitt is the chairman.

Dorothy Pierce, sewing club chairman, announced the sewing club meeting.

Under the good of the order, Clara Leavitt, Margaret Blake and Irene Hamilton were honored on birthdays and Mrs. Blake presented a wedding gift.

The meeting closed in form, to meet again Sept. 17 at 8 p.m. A lunch was served by the men and women.

'Renewing Your Church Vows' Topic Of Wesleyan Speaker

The Wesleyan Circle of the First Methodist Church held their September meeting in the home of Mrs. Gerda Brownton. There were 23 members and three guests present.

Mrs. Polly Scott, president, opened the meeting and all united in singing, "Blest Be The Tie That Binds."

Guests introduced were Mrs. Frances McKinney, Mrs. Leona Standley and the Rev. Keith Mills.

"The living Church", was the topic of devotions presented by Mrs. Erma Hyde, prior to the program.

The Rev. Mills, guest speaker of the evening, spoke on "Renewing Your Church Vows", with practical suggestions pertinent to the subject.

During the business meeting, there was a reading of the minutes of the Wesleyan officers' executive meeting, held in August, at the home of Mrs. Scott. At this planning session, each officer reviewed his duties and gave reports on the projects, activities and programs of the group for the year.

Mrs. Betty Chatwood was elected to replace Mrs. Jo Anne Price, vice president, who has moved from here.

Reports from chairmen of Lines of Work, included an announcement of two wedding receptions. Wesleyan is in charge of this project for the year. It is under the direction of Gerda Brownton. Volunteers signed up to help on the reception and the Women's Society rummage sale, set Sept. 19.

The society, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Evelyn Gooderham, is collecting good used clothing and bedding for the Methodist Homes in Alaska and Nevada.

Wesleyan will furnish cooked foods and handwork items for the Fall Harvest Festival, held at the church, Nov. 5.

Mrs. Iris Leonard and Mrs. Chris Dowdy were appointed to consider applications for the Sunday morning nursery vacancy.

Two women from this group will help with the Methodist Women's Seminar luncheon to be held here, Sept. 23.

The Rev. and Mrs. Mills extended an invitation to all, to attend the October Sunday evening sessions on Medical Missions. Several distinguished foreign missionaries will speak.

Program books for Wesleyan and the Women's Society membership list, were given. Mrs. Esther Burnett had prepared these books.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Mary Ainsworth, Mrs. Rae Bailey, Mrs. Betty Chatwood and Mrs. Louise Choate, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Shirley McIntosh.

Fruitdale PTA Welcomes New Teacher

Fruitdale Parents, Teachers Association, held their first meeting of the year, with Mrs. Merle McKay, president, presiding.

Mrs. McKay announced that a County PTA work shop will be held at the Greenwood School, Sept. 16. Everyone was urged to attend.

Hot lunches and other business was discussed. Hot lunches will probably start in November, depending on the weather.

Committee chairmen will be announced at the next meeting and a membership drive will start.

Mrs. Fertig was introduced and welcomed as the new teacher. New members were also welcomed.

The remainder of the afternoon was spent getting acquainted. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Howard Wilson and Mrs. James Klein.

Wahanka Unit Selects Motto

"Everyone Welcome" is the motto of the Wahanka Extension unit which held their first fall meeting on Sept. 9, at the home of the new chairman, Reta Gaertner. This unit holds its meetings on the second Wednesday of each month, and anyone interested may contact Mrs. Gaertner by phone.

A short business meeting was conducted and various new projects were discussed. The project for October will be "Swedish Weaving" with Marge Ferguson and Reta Gaertner as leaders.

Lee German was introduced and welcomed as a new member. Refreshments were served by the executive committee, Reta Gaertner, Letha Anderson, and Louise Wells.
