

Oregon State Success Depends On Health Of Talented Tailbacks

By HOWARD APPLIGATE
UPI Staff Writer

CORVALLIS (UPI) — If Coach Tommy Prothro can come up with a top-flight tailback and fullback, the Oregon State Beavers might prove to be one of the West's football surprises this fall.

Oregon State, an independent this year after the breakup of the PCC, had a so-so 6-4 record last season. It lost all-American tackle Ted Bates, who was half a team in himself, plus fullback Nub Beamer and sometimes-great halfback Paul Lowe.

So the Beavers have been generally passed by in early-season rankings. But Prothro frankly ex-

Cougars Get 'Surprise' Scrimmage

PULLMAN, Wash. (UPI) — The Washington State Cougars got a surprise scrimmage Tuesday, despite sloppy turf due to rain.

Coach Jim Sutherland continued his defensive crusade in preparation for Saturday's opener against the University of California at Spokane. Veteran tackle Myke Lindsay, who injured a knee two weeks ago, worked out with the team.

EUGENE, Ore. (UPI) — The University of Oregon Ducks were scheduled to "fool around" with kicking practice today, according to Coach Len Casanova.

The Ducks worked out in the rain Tuesday on tactics which Casanova plans to use against Stanford Saturday at Palo Alto. The coach ordered the gates of the practice field locked for the rest of the week.

CORVALLIS, Ore. (UPI) — Coach Tommy Prothro sent his Oregon State Beavers through passing drills in the Saturday night in preparation for Saturday night's game against Southern California.

The coach praised the work of senior tackle Ed Kaohelaulli, of Honolulu, who had more playing time than any other Oregon State player last season.

New President For Germany

BONN (UPI) — Konrad Adenauer celebrated his 10th anniversary as West German chancellor Tuesday by watching the inauguration of Heinrich Lübke — his second choice — as the nation's second president.

Lübke was sworn in at a joint session of parliament attended by foreign diplomats and distinguished visitors to the West German capital. He actually had been president since Saturday midnight, but the formal inauguration was postponed to coincide with Adenauer's anniversary in office.

Speakers at the ceremony included Lübke, outgoing President Theodor Heuss and the heads of the two houses of Parliament. Adenauer dropped plans to speak when the Socialist opposition demanded equal time.

For West Germany's "grand old man," the inauguration was the latest development of a career as chief of government which he began at an age when most men are retired.

Adenauer was 73 on that day in 1949 when he himself cast the vote that made him the head man of West Germany's first government. Harry Truman was president, the late Josef Stalin was still undisputed master of Russia, and Clement (now Earl) Attlee headed Britain's labor government.

It took 202 votes to assure Adenauer's election as chancellor, and he received just that number. He never has made any secret of the fact that he voted for himself.

ITU Has Plan For Teamster Union Return

PORTLAND (UPI) — Elmer Brown, president of the International Typographical Union, said Tuesday that a resolution will be introduced this week at the AFL-CIO meeting in San Francisco inviting the ousted Teamsters Union to rejoin the big labor family.

Brown said he was informed by his headquarters in Indianapolis that he would be in favor of such a move. The ITU was one of a minority group of unions that opposed the Teamster ouster three years ago.

Brown also proposed a merger between the ITU and the Amalgamated Lithographers Union at the latter's convention here.

His union represents 111,000 printing trades workers. The ALA has some 35,000 members in the lithographing and offset printing trades.

Union officials disclosed that a merger between the allied unions has been under discussion for some time at the "upper levels" but there is still no resolution in effect in either union.

Mrs. Anne Whenton, associate White House press secretary, gave no reason for the change in time. The meeting with newsmen originally was set for 10:30 a.m. e.d.t.
