Soviet Radio Says Nikita 'Welcomed'

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Moscow Radio Home Service told its listeners today that Premier Nikita Khrushchev was greeted at Glendale, Calif., by a group of people carrying "We Like Khrushchev" banners. The broadcast report of Khrushchev's Los Angeles to San Francisco trip was in contrast to reports in Pravda of his Los Angeles visit. Pravda said Khrushchev's route through Los Angeles was concealed from the people. "It seems as if someone in California was afraid of meetings between the head of the Soviet government and the plain people," Pravda said. The statement was almost the only sour note in the extensive press and radio coverage given his American tour. The home radio service today, after reporting Khrushchev's "warm welcome" in Los Angeles, gave this version of his train ride to San Francisco: "Everywhere there were groups of people who approached the railway to wave. At Glendale station the train was met by a large group of people carrying banners of 'We Like Khrushchev.' "One group of young people displayed a banner with the word 'Peace.' "At Santa Barbara thousands of the town's inhabitants assembled in the railway yard and applause and greetings met Nikita Sergeyevich Khrushchev when he came out of the carriage to greet the public." Moscow Radio said crowds met him in San Francisco with "more than 40,000" near his hotel when he left his car. It was "went straight to the people and warmly greeted the Americans and shook their hands." It said the gathering replied "with applause and cries of welcome."

Until Carroll was sent to La Grande, Grange Mutual had no local representation. Agents from other offices in the area made periodic trips through the local area. Born in Lakeview, Grange Mutuals new supervisor was born and raised in Lakeview and returned there following service with the Army in the European Theatre of Operations during World War II. Before going to work for Grange Mutual, Carroll was in business for himself, operating a grocery store and service station. Carroll is currently attending Purdue University's Life Insurance Marketing Institute where he is specializing in estate planning work. Carroll attends classes at Purdue for a month, then returns to the job for about 20 weeks before returning to classes. The greying, 37-year-old supervisor is married. More than 25 million calls are placed each month on the 170,000 telephones in the West Coast Service area. This is an average of ten calls each day—in or out—for each telephone in our system. Ever increasing demands are made on our facilities as new people constantly move into the areas we serve. Our first task, to these new residents, is to provide a telephone for anyone who wants one. We are investing large sums of money on facilities and equipment, continually adding new lines in order to "up-grade" existing lines to the point where we fill our subscribers' orders for a better class of telephone service. If you are now on a party line, you can assure yourself and your telephone neighbors of better service by remembering these three things: 1. Keep your calls brief. 2. Space your calls so that incoming calls can get through. 3. Make sure your receiver is never "off the hook." By observing these three principles of party-line cooperation you'll get better service from your telephone. Calls will come through faster and more frequently... and the call that comes through may be for you.
