wear the coronet for the distaff performers.

Dinah, moving into her ninth video year Oct. 4, has remained at the top of the TV heap simply by being herself.

Her challengers for longevity and popularity, Loretta Young and Gale Storm, also have weekly shows, but they play characters other than themselves

The blonde songbird attribute her success to luck.

How About Others? How, then, does she account for the not-so-lucky Rosemary Clun-ey, Patti Page and Giesele Mac-Kenzie?

"Gee." Dinah said, "I know what to say about that. I wilson will retain ownership of can only talk about myself. I do know I'm not the type of person audiences get a quick crush for, and just as fast a cooling off. It's a matter of establishing a rupport with the viewers.

And equipment to know s drocery, and equipment to know s drocery. Wilson will retain ownership of the building in which the gracery store was located and which houses steam-heated apartments on the second floor.

Louis Berland, father of Mrs. Emily Wilson, assisted by his ending conducted the business.

"And that's something you can't develop. You have to have that quality to begin with."

Dinah also credits guest stars with keeping the show high in the ratings. She produces big-time stars and gives them plenty to do. "Sometimes I'm absolutely awestruck by my guests" she struck by my guests," she laughed, "and this is transmitted to the audience."
