'Go-Go' Chicago, Dodgers Square Off In THE Series

CHICAGO (UPI)—It was burlly Early Wynn for the Chicago White Sox against Roger (Skinny) Craig of the Los Angeles Dodgers today as the World Series came back to Comiskey Park for the first time in 40 years.

The weak-hitting but fast-moving White Sox were 6 to 5 favorites in this opening game which gets under way at 2 p.m. e.d.t. in the ball park where the 1919 "Black Sox" threw the series to the Cincinnati Reds in a scandal which nearly ruined baseball.

Manager Al Lopez of the White Sox, who lost four straight World Series games to the Giants while managing the Cleveland Indians in 1954, used his ace—the 39-year-old Wynn—in an effort to get off on the right foot this time.

Wynn, coming back from a mediocre season in which he was figured to be reaching the end of the road, led the American League this year with 22 victories against 10 defeats. Craig's record with the Dodgers was 11-5, but that doesn't begin to tell half his value to the team in their down-the-stretch struggle which was culminated by a 12-inning 6 to 5 victory over the Milwaukee Braves in a pennant playoff Tuesday.

That delayed the start of the Series one day. But now they go at it in a best four out of seven game affair in which it is White Sox speed against the Dodgers' power pitching.

Hopes On Roseboro

The Dodgers, worn and weary from the playoff which took them 3,680 miles in 48 hours—from Milwaukee to Los Angeles and back to Chicago—counted strangely enough on a man who gets few of the headlines to shackle the speed of the "go go" Sox.

They were banking, openly, on Johnny Roseboro—the man whom fate rushed into the legendary shoes of Roy Campanella—to restrain those White Sox baserunners with his muscular right arm.

"John's arm is as quick and accurate as any catcher I've ever managed," sleepy-eyed Walt Alston, the Dodger manager, insisted in tribute to the quiet catcher whose home run won the first playoff game. "And that includes Campanella."

The White Sox accepted the challenge on Roseboro's arm. Luis Aparicio, who tied the White Sox record by stealing 56 bases this season, said:

"I'll go any chance I get." Although Alston did not reveal who his starting pitcher will be for Friday's second game—after which the Series shifts to Los Angeles—all indications were that either National League strikeout king Don Drysdale or rookie Larry Sherry would get the call. They are only two of the Dodgers' fireballers.

Police On Alert

After them, Alston also can choose among Johnny Podres,

Dick Tiger Outpoints TV Foe

CHICAGO (UPI)—The rematch already was arranged today for middleweights Joe Giardello and Dick Tiger, and both battlers vowed to do better in their next tangle on television.

Tiger, though he was the unanimous victor over Giardello, ranked fourth by Ring Magazine and sixth by the National Boxing Association, was unhappy because he failed to knock out his foe.

Giardello, once the No. 1 contender and now beaten by Ring Magazine's 4th rated boxer, simply was unhappy because he didn't win.

"I want to fight him again," Giardello said. "But not in Chicago. That referee (Walter Brightmore) kept pushing me off, said I was holding, and he didn't pay any attention to what that guy was doing to me."

Tiger wanted the return go, because he thought that Giardello put so much that he couldn't put on a good fight. "I would have knocked him out," he said, "but he wouldn't give me a chance. He kept holding my arms all the time, and the referee never could stop him."

Judge John J. Schreiner scored the bout 47-45 for Tiger, the British Empire champion from Nigeria. Judge James Mc Manus gave him a 46-43 edge, and referee Walter Brightmore had it 48-45 for Tiger.

Neither fighter landed a punishing blow during the match, and most of the time they emphasized counter-punching.
