Local Couple Exchange Vows In Home Ceremony Sept. 27

A double ring ceremony joined Gladys Ellen Huff and Carl Clinton Lester, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Huff of La Grande. The Rev. Wallace Hastings of the First Christian Church, officiated at the nuptial rites.

The home was decorated with a large basket of pastel gladioli placed before a starlike clock, flanked on either side by white toppers in white candleabras. Baskets of pastel glads were placed at the base of the candleabras.

Sharon and Joyce Huff, granddaughters of the bride, were the candle lighters. They were dressed in identical orchid taffeta dresses, their hairdos were orchid and white flowers.

Mrs. John Hoffman sang "God's Little Candle," as the candles were being lit. She then sang "I Love You Truly," accompanied

Baptist Church Meet At Union Attracts Crowds

UNION (Special)—The First Baptist church of Union reports a very successful meeting when host to messengers and pastors from 13 Conservative Baptist Churches of the Blue Mountain area at their recent annual meeting. A total of 91 registered for the business session, and 117 attended the evening service held in the multi-purpose room of the S.E. Miller school.

About 70 were served at each of the luncheons, and 125 were served at the dinner hour. The church thanked the Methodist church for the use of its fine facilities and for the serving of the meals.

Challenging messages were heard by Dr. Flint of Tacoma, Wash., both in the daytime sessions and in the evening service. Also, devotionals were brought by several pastors, and a report of the state work by Dr. E. P. Fosmark, state director. A very encouraging report was also given by Rev. John Henderson concerning the new Judson Baptist College in Portland, and slides were shown portraying their new campus.

Next year's association meeting is scheduled at Enterprise.

at the piano by Mrs. Mattie Smith. Mrs. Smith also played the wedding march.

The bride was given in marriage by her son, Edwin Huff. Her dress was a powder blue sheath lace over taffeta, and a white net hat with rhinestones. Her jewelry was silver filigree with ice blue stones, and her corsage was pink roses.

Mrs. Sally Swalberg, a close friend of the bride was the matron of honor. She wore a navy blue lace dress over taffeta, and a corsage of pink carnations and reserbucks.

Lynn Lester, brother of the groom, was the best man.

Mrs. Monroe Lester, mother of the groom, wore an aqua afternoon dress and a corsage of pink carnations.

A reception was held following the ceremony. The table was covered with a cream lace cloth over ice blue, and centered with a wedding cake. The cake was baked and decorated by Mrs. Edwin Huff, daughter-in-law of the bride. The bride and groom cut the traditional first piece and Mrs. Huff then served the rest.

Mrs. Jim Clark, sister of the groom, presided at the punch bowl, and Mrs. Lynn Lester, sister-in-law of the groom served the coffee.

Mrs. Arthur Huff had charge of the gift table and Mrs. Dallas Lester the guest book. They are sisters-in-law of the bride and groom.

Charles B. Spencer of Nampa, Idaho, brother-in-law of the bride, was an out of town guest. The bride received word, her other son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Huff of Toledo, who were flying here for the wedding, were forced to cancel their trip at the last minute due to weather.

Immediately following the ceremony the couple received a phone call from Bremerton, Wash., from her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Neukirchner, congratulating the newlyweds. She was unable to attend due to illness. They also received congratulations from her sisters and families, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Moore and Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Stephens.

The newlyweds are at home at 1407 X venue. They had just returned from a trip and are planning another at a later date.

ANN LANDERS

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann: The other day a girl wrote to say her fiance had slapped her during an argument. You told her to find someone else. I hope she listens.

I married a boy who slapped me when we were going together. He used to beat up on his sisters and brothers and get into fist fights with strangers. I knew all this but I married him anyway.

Don't get the idea I came from trash and that he was a bum. It isn't true that only scum use their fists. My husband's father is an attorney. His grandfather was the mayor of a large Texas city. My father is an officer in a bank.

My folks begged me not to marry this boy. They said if I did they'd have nothing to do with me. They've kept their word.

After we married I went to work in a drug store to help with expenses. Two months later I became pregnant. When I told him he got so furious he not only beat me, he left me for a week.

Now he's going with other girls because he says I look like a freak and he doesn't want to be seen with me. I have no money to buy clothes and I can't work. I'd give anything to be back in my nice room again. Please print this as a warning to other 18-year-olds whose boy friends slap them during courtship — and promise to change. — Slapped Before, Beaten After.

Dear Slapped: If you send me your name and address I have a few suggestions. Please use the same kind of envelope and writing paper so I will know the letter is from you. Also, repeat your husband's nick-name.

Dear Ann: Do I have a right to complain or not? Our neighbor's 9-year-old daughter thinks she wants to be a pianist. She isn't sure. They didn't want to invest in a piano until she made up her mind, so they're giving her lessons for six months, then she's to decide.

In the meantime my wife said it was all right if she practiced an hour a day on our piano. I would not mind, except she comes over every evening promptly at 6 p.m. just as we are sitting down to eat dinner. She bangs away for a solid hour and we can't hear ourselves talk.

I told my wife I was sick of this. She said I'd have to put up with it for another five months. Do I? — Jake.

Dear Jake: It's unfair of your wife to expect you to put up with this racket every night for the next five months just because she got big-hearted. Tell her to ask the child to work on the piano in the hours when you aren't at home. Orders from headquarters.

Mrs. Abbott Dies At Upland, Calif.

Mrs. Mildred C. Abbott, 64, wife of the Elder Forrest L. Abbott, Upland, Calif., died Friday in her home. Elder Abbott retired two years ago from the Ontario Seventh Day Adventist Church. She had been a resident of Upland for the past seven years.

Services will be held Tuesday at 2 p.m. in the Stone Funeral Home at Upland. Interment to be in the Bellevue cemetery, Ontario, Calif. Elder Robert L. Wheatley of the Ontario Seventh Day Adventist Church will officiate, assisting will be Elder John Pelt, Redlands; and Elder R. C. Baker of Arlington, Calif.

Besides the widower, there is one son, Everett C. Abbott of La Grande, who is affiliated with the Daniels Funeral Home.

Funeral services will be held in the Dempsey's Funeral Chapel, Tuesday at 2 p.m. The Rev. Kopp will officiate. Burial will be in the Summerville cemetery.

Survivors are two sisters, Mrs. Mina Standley, La Grande; and Mrs. Clyde McKenzie, Summerville. There are numerous nieces and nephews.

Powder Rainbow Girls Hold Public Installation

NORTH POWDER (Special)— Faith Assembly 53, Order of Rainbow for Girls, held a public installation in the Masonic hall, Monday evening at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Paul Owens, Boise, Idaho, Western District WSCS secretary of Literature and Publications, displayed literature for sale. Mrs. Lockey also led the closing devotions.

Luncheon was served at noon by co-chairmen, Mrs. Lyle Riggs and Mrs. M. A. Cochran, and their committee.

Let's talk dry cleaning

By Leonard Craig
Velvet is one of the most luxurious and versatile fabrics at a dress designer's fingertips. It is known as a "cut pile" fabric, and during cleaning and finishing the smooth pile threads must be kept in order. During wear the pile often becomes badly crushed and must be straightened and smoothed by the cleaner.

Pile thread differs in velvets. Some are merely anchored under one thread and are easily removed. Other velvets, where the pile is secured under two sets of threads, are much less vulnerable to shedding and damage. Velvet at its best is what is known as one of the "fragile fabrics" and should be shown extra consideration in wear as well as being cleaned frequently.

Many velvets today have been given crease- or crush-resistance treatments and present less wrinkle removing problems in cleaning than those which have not been so treated. But all velvets require special cleaning care and handling.

You can safely send us all your "fragile fabrics" for thorough cleaning, to keep them looking new longer — and looking better on you. Remember, the best dressed people in town send their dry cleaning to us! We'll pick your garments up, clean them and return them to you in record time. And remember our sweater SPECIAL! Two, yes 2 for the price of one! THIS WEEK ONLY.

REMEMBER Inspect

The garment after wearing—if it is too soiled for the next wearing, it is too soiled to hang back in the closet!
