

FATAL WRECK—Twisted metal is all that remains of a school bus after a truck loaded with salt smashed into it near Cooper, Texas. Four students, a teacher and the school principal died in the crash, which also injured the other 22 students and the truck driver. The students, members of the Pep Club from Mt. Vernon High School, were on their way to a football game.

UN Investigating Team Finds Going 'Rough' Throughout Laos

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Staff Writer

The United Nations Investigating Commission in Laos is having understandable difficulty documenting the Laotian charges of aggression against Communist North Viet Nam.

Part of the difficulty is geographical, part is the nature of the people involved and part must lie in the definition of aggression.

The dictionary definition of aggression is: "A first, or unprovoked attack, or act of hostility."

Within that framework, the charge of aggression against the land-locked Laotian kingdom by the Communists should not be hard to prove. The Laotian government has been under steady attack by the North Viet Nam Radio, which, among other things, has accused it of permitting Laotian soil to become a United States base.

Have Communist Support
The Pathet Lao forces which form the backbone of armed opposition to the Laotian government have the outspoken support of the Communist Vietnamese and generally are agreed to have received both their training and their arms from the Communists.

The rub, however, is that the Laotians charged the North Vietnamese with sending Vietnamese forces into Laos. Yet so far they have been unable to produce a single prisoner who could be traced directly to Viet Nam.

What evidence they have produced has been weapons and statements which they say back up their charges.

To decide whether there has been physical aggression, the U. N. commission must decide between a purely internal strife and the question of actual invasion. It is the Communist claim that it is an internal Laotian matter and that the U. N. Commission is acting illegally.

Geography, People Complicate
Geography and the people further complicate the commission's work.

Much of Laos is trackless jungle, without airstrips or roads, frequently requiring days of painful travel from one outpost to the next.

It is a tribal area, many of whose people have not even heard of Vientiane, the Laotian capital.

There can be no doubt that the Vietnamese Communists under the leadership of the wily Ho Chi Minh seek to topple the Western-inclined Laotian government. It will be that Vietnamese forces did aid the Laotian rebels, but pulled back in the face of quick action by the United Nations and the active threat of aid to the Laotians by the forces of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO).

But whether the U. N. Commission will find the evidence is doubtful.

Khrushchev Inspects

TOKYO (UPI)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev made an inspection tour of factories in Vladivostok Monday, Radio Peiping said today in a Japanese broadcast beamed to Japan.

Khrushchev arrived in the Siberian city Sunday from Peiping, where he conferred with Communist Chinese leaders after attending China's 10th anniversary celebrations.

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UPI)—More than 1,000 workers idled by the steel strike have left Minnesota's iron range to seek work elsewhere.

MIAMI (UPI)—Sexy photos of a student Salome peeled down to her seventh veil and an unreticent "coed" wearing only her socks and step-ins were easily the most studied homework on the University of Miami campus today.

University President Jay W.F. Pearson put the staff of student magazine Tempo on the carpet for their sequence of Salome shedding her veils.

Tempo hit the dormitories Wednesday and Pearson hit the ceiling when he saw the pictures of student Melanie Miller.

Student photographer Foster T. Burgess insisted Miss Miller was wearing a bikini behind the veil. It wasn't so you could tell it.

Salome's dance by itself might not have riled Pearson so much if it had not come the same week as the panty-clad "coed" in another magazine.

Pearson said an investigation showed the girl was a professional model who had never been a Miami student.

U.S. Submarine In 'Collision'

PORTSMOUTH, N. H. (UPI)—The nuclear submarine Sea Dragon collided with a whale during sea trials Monday night, the Navy disclosed today, but reached port under its own power.

The Navy said one of the officers observing the so-called builder's trials was Vice Adm. Hyman Rickover who was representing the Navy and the Atomic Energy Commission.

U. S. government issues strengthened. The Treasury's new issue of 5 per cent, four year and 10 month notes were quoted at 101 per cent of par.

The decline in stocks reflected uncertainties in the steel strike.

Continental steel was an exceptional strong spot. It touched a new high on a rise of 5 1/2 points in response to a statement by its chairman directors likely will propose a 2-for-1 split.

American Machine & Foundry rose a point when stockholders approved a 2-for-1 split. A higher dividend helped Minute Maid. Carter Products ran up 4 in the drugs. Airlines ruled strong and at their high showed gains ranging to more than 2 points, reflecting sharply increased September business.

New York Central declined more than a point when directors again omitted the dividend.

American Motors ran up 2 points to a new high in an otherwise irregularly lower auto group.

SUN ECLIPSE—This is the total eclipse of the sun as it appeared at 21,000 ft. in an American Airlines plane chartered from Boston, Mass. The total eclipse lasted 55 seconds. Ground observers and photographers were thwarted in their attempts to see the eclipse by a dense cloud layer which blanketed the New England coastal area.
