Explosion Rocks Plant Idled In Steel Strike

explosion in the engine room of the Woodward Iron Works rocked this southern steel center early today, Jefferson County sheriff's deputies reported. Sheriff's deputies said there were reports of an undetermined number of injuries among the skeleton night shift working in the engine room.

The Woodward iron plant has not been idled by the nation-wide steel strike. The Tennessee Coal and Iron Division of U.S. Steel located three miles from the Woodward facility has been idled since the strike began, however. Cause of the explosion was not immediately determined.
