Flynn's Girl Wants Hands On Will

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Attorney Melvin Belli said Wednesday he would seek to have court jurisdiction over Errol Flynn's will transferred from New York to California.

Belli, acting as the attorney for the late actor's 17-year-old girl friend, Beverly Aadland, said his move would be one of three actions designed to force recognition of a 1957 will by Flynn leaving one-third of his estate to Miss Aadland.

He declined to say what the other two legal maneuvers would be, adding that Flynn's New York attorney, Justin Goldenbock, would find out through summons or other servings.

Belli said he felt the matter presently was being handled in New York courts only because Goldenbock lived there. The residence of an attorney in a given state does not qualify it as the place of jurisdiction, he said.

Flynn made his home alternately in Hollywood and Jamaica. He died Oct. 14 in Vancouver, B.C., where he had a home on a business deal.

A will drawn in 1954 and filed in New York last week left the bulk of Flynn's estate to his widow, Patrice Wymore.

But on Monday an unsigned will dated 1957 was filed in New York, favoring Miss Aadland.

Belli said the unsigned will was only one of three wills Miss Aadland wrote at Flynn's dictation. He said two of the wills were left unsigned because they were marred by her spelling errors. But the third will, substantially the same as the other two, was signed and left her one-third of Flynn's estate.

Selection Of Foods Plentiful

WASHINGTON (UPI)—This weekend offers a wide selection of plentiful foods at the food markets. Best values are in seasonal fruits and vegetables. Pork, poultry, and eggs are all in ample supply.

This year's large crop of apples, grapefruit, oranges, cranberries and grapes provide good values for the fruit shopper.

Ample supplies of such fall vegetables as potatoes, onions, carrots, corn, cabbage, cucumbers, sweet potatoes, lettuce, tomatoes, and rutabagas offer excellent buys.

Pork is still a feature on the good value list, with special offerings this weekend in chops, hams and roasts. Reasonable price tags still adorn most poultry products.

Eggs and cheese continue to be top buys for the food shopper. The best values in fish this weekend include canned tuna, shrimp and fish sticks.

These are the week-end best values, nationally. Now, here is a closer look at plentiful foods in the West—Arizona, California, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, Oregon, Utah, Washington, Wyoming:

Pork, beef, eggs and apples are in ample supply this week. Some cuts of pork and beef are priced 1 to 2 cents a pound lower this week, and ample supplies of lamb are down 1 cent a pound in the Los Angeles area. Light supplies of calf and veal are mostly unchanged in price.

Medium and large size eggs are 1 to 2 cents a dozen lower in the Los Angeles area, but egg prices are mostly unchanged in other markets. Poultry is in moderate to ample supply, and mostly unchanged in price.

Apples continue in heavy supply, and prices are declining. Other fresh fruit and vegetable plentifuls include grapes, pears, cabbage, cauliflower, celery, lettuce, potatoes and tomatoes. In good supply are avocados, melons, lemons, oranges, corn, cucumbers, onions, bell peppers, and sweet potatoes.

Best buys in the fish line include salmon, halibut, rockfish, flounder, and sablefish.

Market Quotations

NEW YORK STOCK
NEW YORK (UPI)—Studebaker-Packard stocks received a jolt today when the Stock Exchange ordered all stop orders cancelled in the group. The issues declined on heavy volume and the remainder of the market turned irregular.

A stop order is an order to a broker to buy or sell a stock at a certain price. When that price is reached the order becomes one to buy or sell at the market. Often mass stop orders can throw the market into turmoil when they are reached.

Studebaker-Packard when issued stock led the market in volume Wednesday on 252,300 shares and its common stock traded the regular way had 212,400 shares to make second place. American Motors was third with 106,600 shares.

Today the issues opened as follows: Studebaker-Packard when issued, 16,000 at 19½ unchanged. Studebaker-Packard common stock, 23,800 shares at 27 off 1¾. Studebaker-Packard preferred, 20 shares at 380 off 38 points. American Motors, 2,000 at 77¼ off 1.

In subsequent trading, selling went ahead in these issues. The when issued declined about 2 points. The common lost more than 3. The preferred touched 550 off 68. American Motors fell to 76½ off 2¼ where it met some support.

The remainder of the market was unsettled by the gyrations of these issues. Steels eased and rails slipped back. Many specials and some of the electronics moved ahead.

The opening on Stewart Warner was delayed by an accumulation of sell orders. The issue ran up 5½ to 63½ Wednesday on a higher dividend and a stock split. The stock opened at 61 off 2½.

DETROIT (UPI)—A spokesman for the giant General Motors auto-building, empire said today most of the corporation may be shut down by next week because of steel shortages.

Approximately 140,000 auto workers will be laid off by this weekend, most of them in GM, the world's largest corporation employer about 330,000 hourly workers.

GM's Pontiac Division halted production of 1960 model cars Wednesday and only four of Chevrolet's 13 assembly plants were still operating today.

S.E. Knudsen, Pontiac boss, said new car production stopped at midnight Wednesday night because of materials shortages. He said 5,800 workers were furloughed at that time. Others had been sent home earlier.

Chrysler Corp. has already laid off about 2,300 workers, but expects to continue limited production until the end of this month. A Ford Motor Co. spokesman maintained the second largest auto company can continue production until about mid-November. Ford makes about half of the steel it uses.

American Motors and Studebaker-Packard said they have enough steel to continue "temporarily."
Laid-off auto workers in Columbus, Ohio, lined up to receive more than 12,000 pounds of free powdered eggs, milk, flour, rice and corn meal this week. The foodstuffs were passed out by the Franklin County Welfare Department. There are about 2,800 GM workers idled in the Columbus area.
