

UP Official Gives Address To Lions

Walter A. Graydon, public relations representative of the Union Pacific Railroad, spoke to members of the La Grande Lions at their regular Monday noon luncheon meeting at the Sackajewa Hotel.

Graydon, introduced by H. E. Waddell, local railroad agent, reviewed briefly a few of the facts that made the Union Pacific here one of the city's and county's primary industries. "The Union Pacific employs some 500 men in Union County," Graydon stated. "These employees, with their families constitute quite a substantial portion of your population. A monthly payroll of around $250,000 goes to these people. In addition, the Union Pacific, on its real

City Dads Approve Renewal Of Four Liquor Licenses

City commissioners, acting on the recommendation of Police Chief Oliver Reeve, have granted their approval for renewal of four state liquor licenses within the city and corrected a name on the fifth.

The Stein Club 207 Chestnut St., was granted approval for the sale of packaged and draught beverage sales. The club is operated by Harry and Mildred Thornburg. Albertson's Food Center, 1912 Fourth St., had their application for the sale of package wine and beer approved. A similar application from Joel's Grocery, 1812 Cedar St., operated by Joel and Winifred Binger, was also approved.

Sackajewa Hotel, 1402 Adams Ave., was granted approval for the sale of mixed drinks. The application was issued in the name of Nancy Stack and R. A. Fitzgerald.

The correction of the license of the Sackajewa Tavern, 1406 Adams Ave., from N. A. Fitzgerald to N. A. Stack was also approved by commissioners.

property in the county contribute some $117,500.20 in taxes to this community."

transportation means have made inroads into the percentage of lead held by the railroad. Graydon mentioned the in-benefit of the railroad's agricultural development program, the village scholarship program and the Union Pacific Foundation and also briefly reviewed some of the railroad's problems nationally and locally. Louis Samson was program chairman for the day.
