Dear Ann Landers: Here's advice for you! A couple of weeks ago, Ann, your column featured this letter from "Chicago Pop" with your reply:

Dear Ann: If more people would cut their kids' hair at home, maybe we could get the barber prices down where they belong. I'm the father of three young sons. We live in Chicago. Every other Saturday the four of us go for haircuts. It costs $1.75 for each boy, Mine is $2. I'm almost completely bald. The barber usually gets me out of his chair in 9 minutes.

My 7- and 8-year-olds have crew cuts. Last week I timed them. They were out of the chair in 13 and 15 minutes each. The 5-yearold takes 15 minutes. The barber gets $7.25.
We take a bus both ways. This little excursion chews a $10 bill to pieces. Maybe if you hear from a whole slew of outraged fathers who are tired of getting clipped, we can get the price of haircuts down to where they make sense. —CHICAGO POP ear Chicago Pop: I've already heard from a slew of outraged fathers. I'm willing to print a solution to this problem if someone will come up with one.

A solution to the problem, Ann? A Supreme Electric Home Hair-cutter! If "Chicago Pop" can comb his sons' hair, he can give them perfect haircuts at home with a Supreme the very first time in just about 15 minutes. And we mean perfect. Professionallooking trim at side and back—even neat crew cuts—and all with ho "bowl head" look.

What's more, if "Chicago Pop" spends $10 every two weeks for haircuts, that adds up to $260 a year. The Supreme Home Haircutting Kit shown here—complete with precision electric clipper, 4 attachment guides, an apron, comb, shears, instruction chart and barber's brush—the entire kit retails for just $14.95. That's a saving of over $200 a year. (That'll buy a lot of shoes, baseball bats, and ice cream cones for 3 boys.)

"Chicago Pop" and that whole "slew of outraged fathers" owe it to themselves to see and try the Supreme Electric Hair Clipper now. On sale at Drug, Department and Hardware Stores. Good
